4. With their faces engulfed in flour, rally participants uphold the honor of their respective classes.

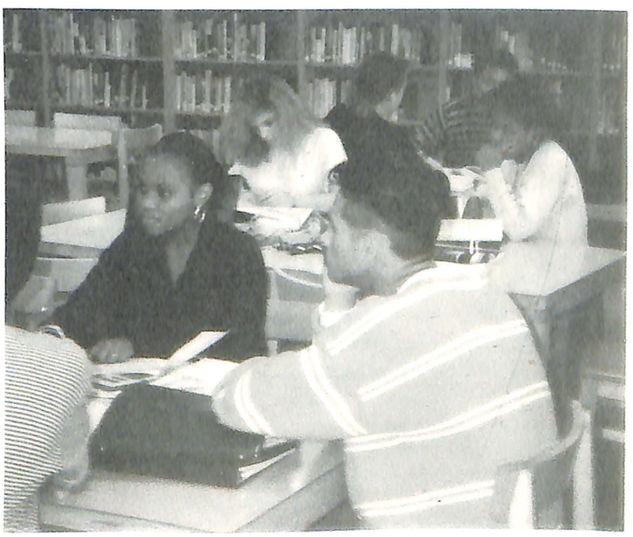

Classes are not the only thing in school. Games, clubs, practices after school, rallies, friends, and fun are just a few of the things in a typical day at school. Some say that school is boring. If you take advantage of the many activities available and participate in them, you may find that school can actually be fun.

Armijo High School has changed in ways. There is, of course, the physical aspect that everyone has become aware of. As you can see the boys football team and girls basketball team have changed considerably, as all sports have. Armijo's campus has even changed location. Then Armijo was a conservative little 1900 century structure, now it contains a lot more variety.

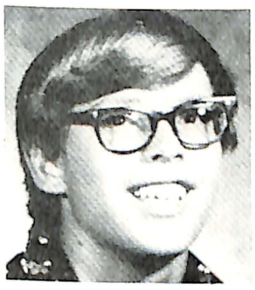

Not only has it changed physically, but also the people have changed. We now have a more cultural group of students and faculty, with a wide selection of activities going on. Some groups of students haven't, and never will, change; like the freshmen. Even back then it was stylish for some females to do their hair "up and out", as it is today.

The entertainment has changed also. You wouldn't recognize "Sid's" Drive-In today, for now it is the Heart Federal Savings building. No longer the once thought of as "risque" and "rebellious" joint that teenagers went to back then. Tim Farmer, a teacher here at Armijo, can recall sneaking over to Sid's as a young boy, getting caught by his mother, and receiving a hearty little spanking. Now kids go to the cruise and other places to keep themselves busy.

Even through all its changes, Armijo has always kept its credit rating excellent!

This is now!

Armijo Faculty in Action

Each year is the completion and beginning of a never ending cycle, but the freshmen arise and the seniors graduate. At the beginning of each new year you can count on Mr. Petty in the front office, Mr. Maddelena teaching wood shop, and Major Kardach, the head of ROTC. Counselors,teachers, and Administrators are always here to guide students on their long path through school life. From the time you get an admit slip to the time you get called in by Mr. Petty for forging a note, you know you're in good hands.

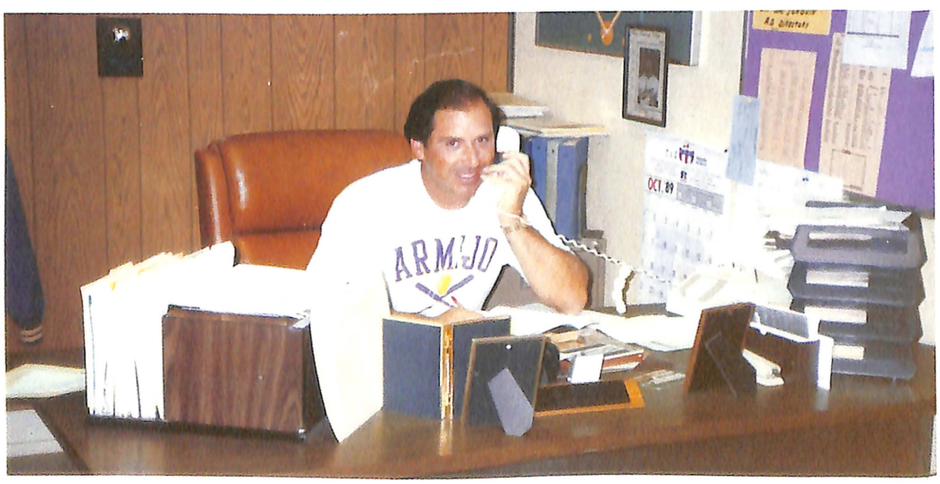

1. Feel better Mrs.Gordon?

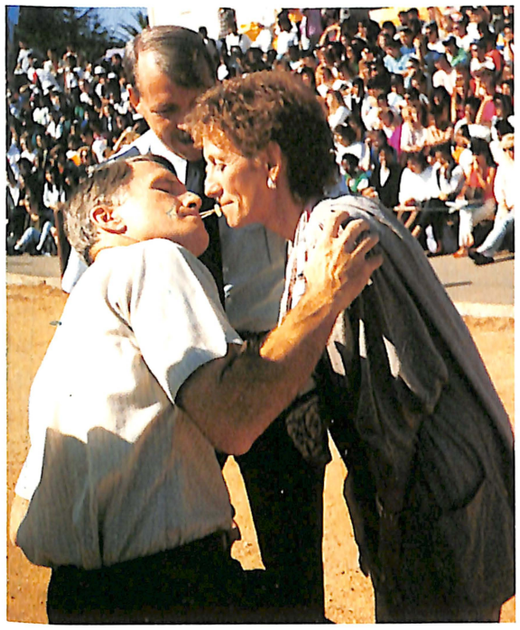

2. Bruce Chmieleski hard at work.

3. Mr. Marshall keeps such a clean desk.

4. Mr. Batson and Mrs.Street fight over the last life-saver.

MY, HOW WE'VE GROWN . . .

A Few Statistics

We don't think of work experience as a special program, but it is. Not all high schools offer work experience. Other special programs are the Math Network, Regional Occupational Program(ROP), Advanced Placement at Solano College, and English as a Second Language(ESL).

In 1970, enrollment at Armijo was 1500 students. In 1989, there are 2200.

Fairfield's population has grown dramatically over the past years. Presently, Fairfield has 76,000 residents. In 1977, there were only 40,000.

Many students are holding after school jobs. Several hundred Armijo students are bringing home paychecks.

Most high scool seniors plan to go to college. Surprisingly, only about 10% actually finish and get a degree.

Some of the famous Armijo alumni are actor Pat Morita and NFL player George Martin.

Students who went through high school at Armijo and came back as teachers include Mr. Farmer, Ms. Dolloff, Ms. Meek, Mr. Lambrecht, Mrs. Gordon, and Mrs. Gonzales.

E.S.L

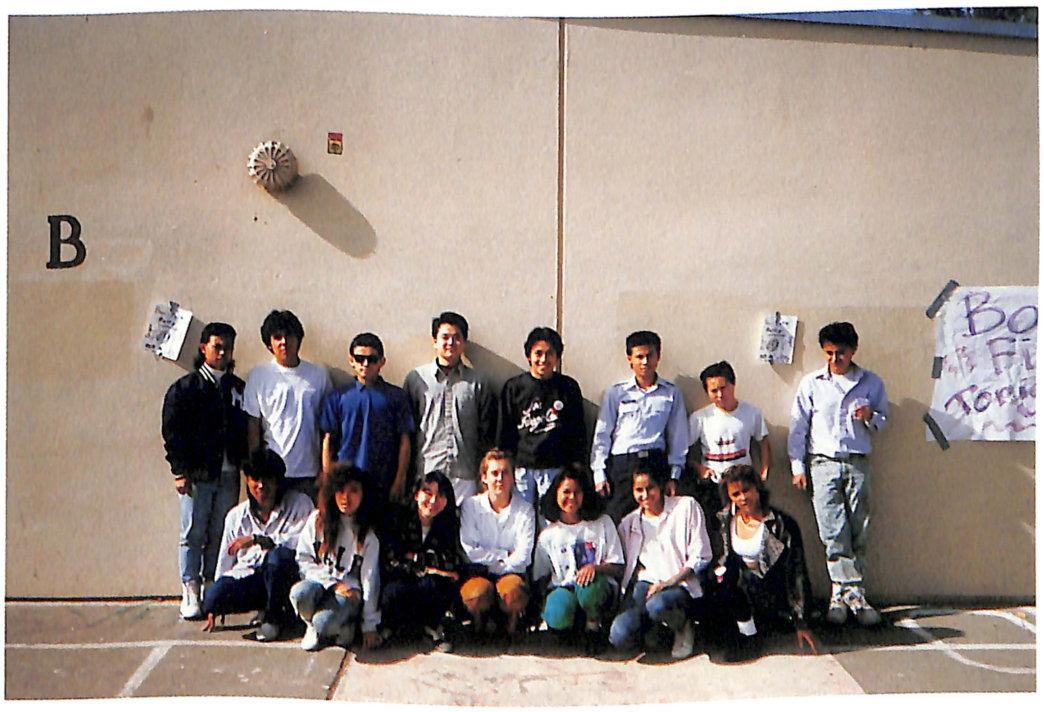

Rating

I asked three students of Mr. Richards E.S.L class to tell me about some of the differences in culture and education between our country and their's. The students are Pamela Corbuz of the Phillipines, Jorge Torres of Mexico, and Ryota Tsuchida of Japan. Their responses follow.

Pamela says, "In the Phillipines you go to first through sixth grade and then directly to high school for 4 years. College is easier there. English is offered only as a foreign language class, because it is not their national language. Also you have to pay for your schooling. The #1 foods are rice, string beans, and meats."

Jorge comments, "You go from kindergarten to sixth grade, then junior high for three years. Next high school for three years, and then college. Crime rates and gang activities seems to be higher. Old cars are common place, and there seems to be more people in the household."

Ryota mentions, "Schooling starts in kindergarten through sixth grade. Then junior high for three years and follows with high school for three more years. We go to school six days a week from 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. You have to pay for your schooling. We don't celebrate Halloween, Thanksgiving, or Easter. Fish is the main dish. Minimum wage is $8.50 an hour, but prices are a lot higher."

Homecoming

This year's homecoming came to us with all the pomp and splendor of years past. Unfortunately for the female candidates, it was quite cold outside (about 50 degrees).

Armijo school spirit was high as the four class floats rolled their way past the stands. Although there were few people when the floats passed by before the varsity game, the stands were overflowing by the time the game started.

During half-time, after the ballots were counted, and all the candidates were on the field, King Angel Torres and his queen, Anjea Ewer, were chosen as Armijo's new royalty, along with their underclass counterparts. It was a most eventful night.

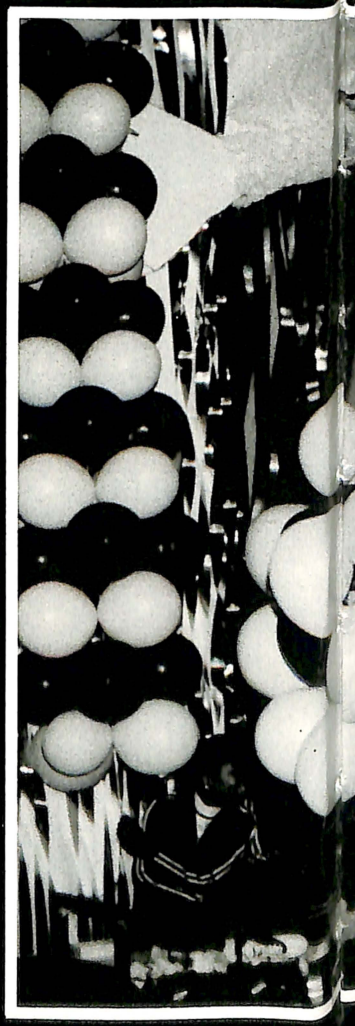

1. The class of '90 shows the "Kid in All of Us"

2. Armijo students cheer for their team during Homecoming.

3. Amy O'Branovich, Will Moore, and friend take shelter from strong gusts of wind in their class float.

4. Jenny Cunha roots enthusiastically for the Junior float.

5. The Armijo ROTC Color Gaurd (l-r; Darcy Herring, Ron Moore, Matt Justice, Greg McLean) present the flags before the varsity game.

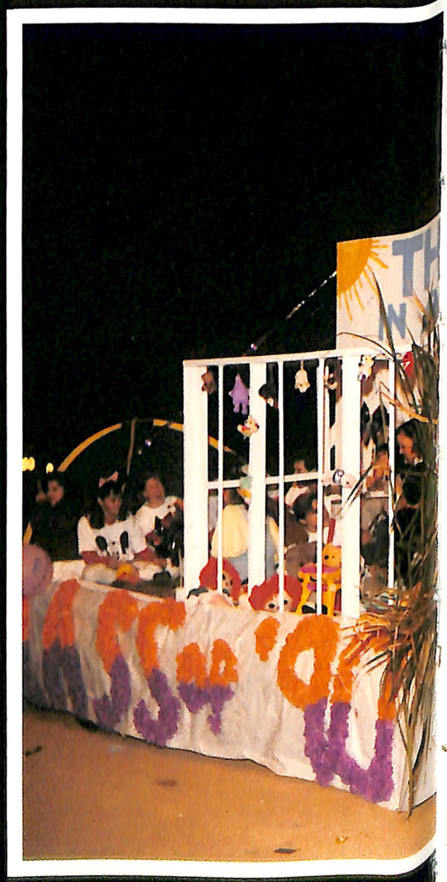

6. Heather Ramey shows her Armijo spirit by dressing like an indian during Spirit Week and by helping with her class float

1. The kid in all of us- this well built float took a whole lot of work. Unfortunately, for all their work, the seniors only got third place.
3. It's in every one of us-the juniors used this general theme to express the different qualities we possess. They received first place.
4. Dreams are in all of us- the freshman theme was original and their float was good, for a freshman float.

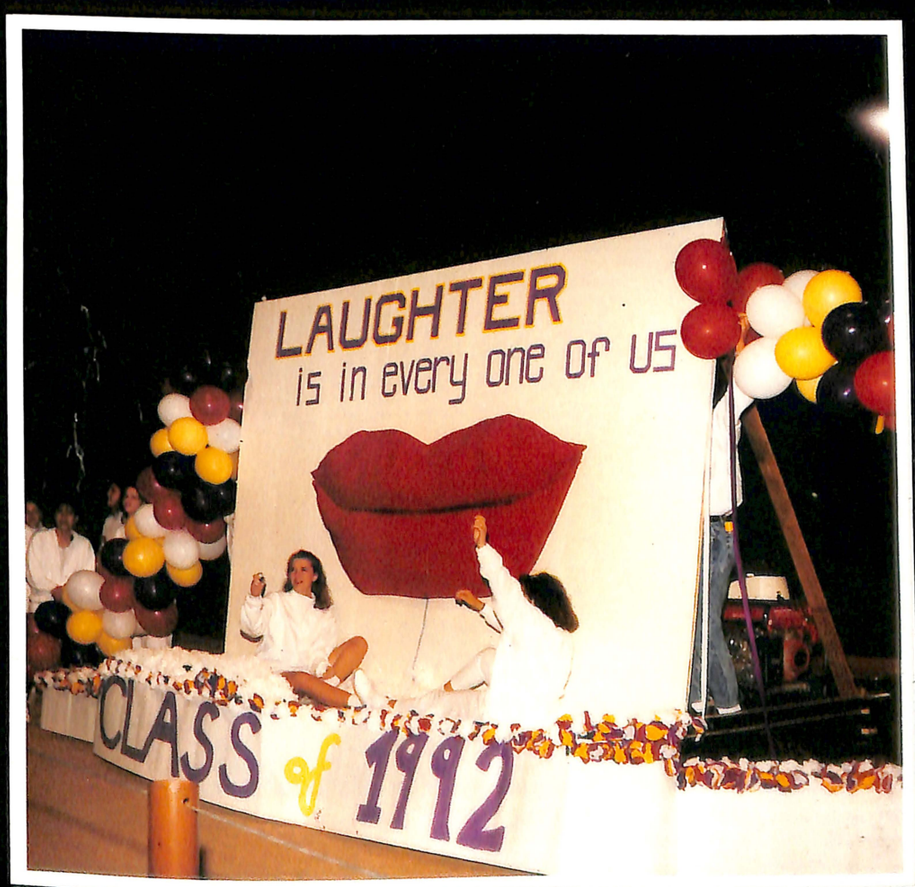

2. Seniors and juniors root for their respective floats.

5. Laughter is in all of us- the sophomores bottom lip broke at the last minute, but luckily they managed to hold it together long enough to get second place.

Working Hard or Hardly Working

1. Work Experience advisor, Mrs. Bernard, takes time off to pose for the cameras.

Although many people don't find the time for work experience, there are many advantages to it. You can earn money while doing a job you like and also get credits for it. Work experience gives you an edge in the job market. Armijo students are lucky that our school has a work experience program and such a helpful advisor as Ms. Bernard. But with all their advantages, are the students really working hard, or hardly working?

3. Brian Rovnanik won't even slow down to pose for a picture.

2. Randy Scoggins displays his brute strength on the job at Macy's.

Cadet Teaching

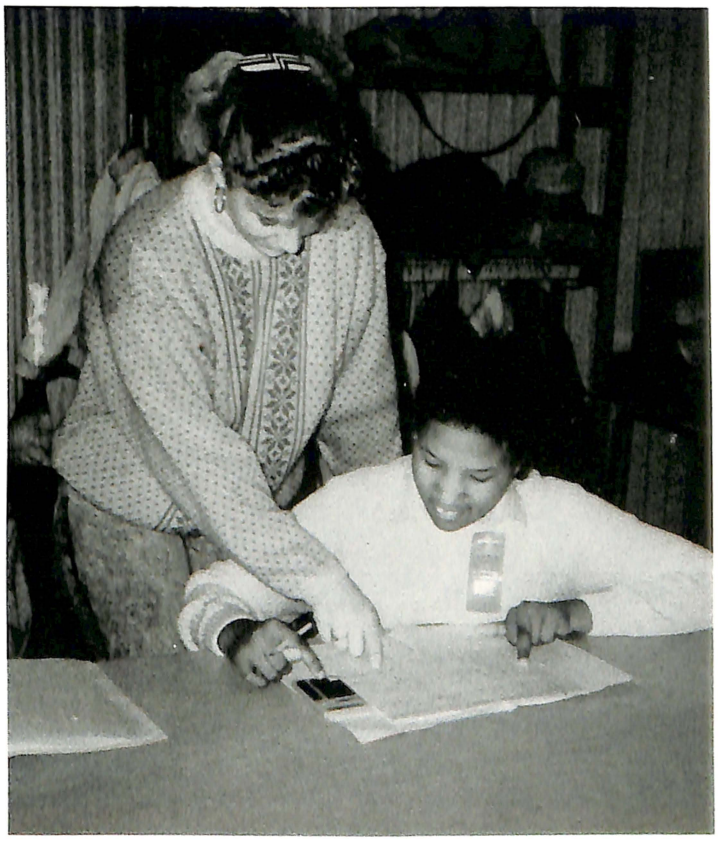

4. During cadet teaching, Dessa Glavin helps a few friends with their work.

Cadet teaching is a course desinged as a special interest course for a Public Service major to meet the needs which are not fulfilled in other courses. Since this course is designed to meet specific individual needs of the student, the objective of the student's project will vary with each student. Each student however, takes the time to help others with their problems or just teach them what they don't already know. They sometimes spend hours of their own time, such as lunch and before school, to help others.

5. Rita Ruttan uses her lunch time to help many people, like Carolyn Ciaramitaro.

6. Shelly Wright gets help with her math from Nickie Garver.

THE ARMIJO SUPER BAND

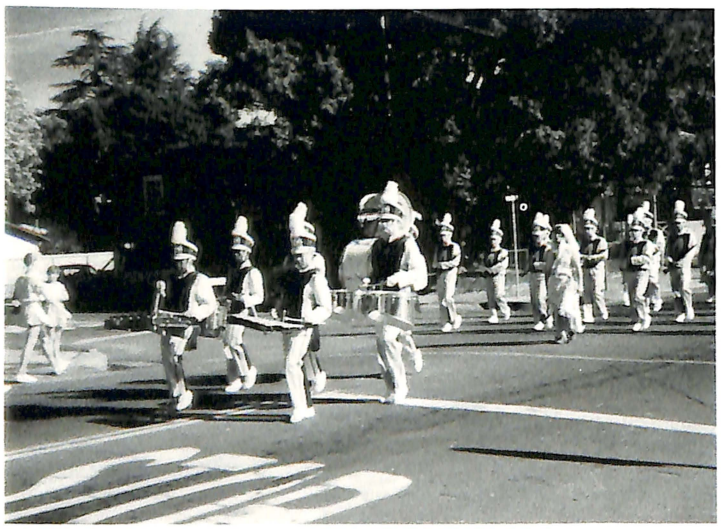

The Marching Band

The Armijo Band has a competitive program. It consists of marching and pep band, concert band, and jazz band.The musicians put in many long, hard working hours of practice during the week and on the weekend.

The marching band is the most active of all. They started out with summer band camp the last two weeks of summer. The members started learning the music for street and field show performaces.Once school began, the band competed in the Antioch, Concord, Oroville, Loomis, Lodi, Scarcramento, Fairfield band reviews, and the annual Southern California trip over Thanksgiving.

1. Lee Barrett tells Joe Ona, "You think you're getting on before me"?

2. The percussion leads the band going through the percussion competition at the Oroville band review.

3. The Superband marches through the judges' stand at the Loomis band review.

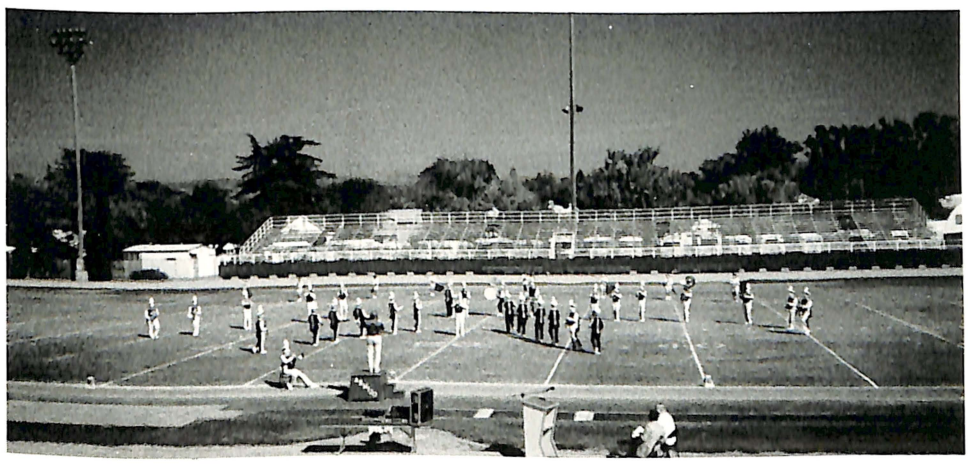

4. The Armijo Superband marches with precision.

1. Amy Barrett and Danyell Hall are twirling their way to the top.

2. At the Loomis band review, the band won overall sweepstakes on street, first place in their division, third place in percussion competition, and second place on the field show performance.

3. The band making their formation for field show competition at the Oroville band review.

The jazz band, as well as the marching, is a competitive program, also. In the mornings, they began preparing music for the Lodi band review, CMEA, the Santa Cruz Jazz Festival, and the Hayward State Jazz Festival.

4. Kim MacMurdo playing an alto sax solo in jazz band.

5. David Gerhart is getting into the groove on the drums.

SENIORS

Steve Walton has been playing the trombone for four years in concert and marching band and three years in jazz band. He intends on going to Solano College and then transfer to a university and major in Drama.

Marcia Huggins started playing the flute in the seventh grade and has continued through high school. This year she is flute section leader and a student leader. After high school , she intends on going to Florida State University and plans on getting a bachelors degree in Liberal Arts.

David Gerhart is the 1989-90 Drum Major, percussion section leader, and the president of the band council. He would like to go to the Conservatory of Music at the University of the Pacific. There he wants to major in Music Education and become a high school music teacher.

Tara Becthle has been in concert band, intermediate band, and colorguard. In the four years that she's been in band, She has played the bass clarinet, tenor saxophone, and the steel drums. She's held the position for saxophone section leader for two years and is the Treasurer of the band council. After high school, she intends on going to a chiropractic university where she may aquire the credentials for her own practice.

Marsha Smalley has been in band for four years. She's been in winterguard and held the position of the flute section leader. After high school she is attending the Heald Business College and is majoring in Computer Arts and possibly Accounting.

1. Seniors L to R Steve Walton , Marcia Huggins, David Gerhart, Tara Becthle, Marsha Smalley.

PEP BAND

3. The Armijo pep band is spirited oriented at the football games.

2. "Gee Marsha, I hope we win this game. I got twenty bucks on this game," exclaims David Gerhart

Regional Occupation Program

Regional Occupational Program provides skill training in a wide variety of occupational areas. Actual work situations exist in each job allowing students to experience all aspects ,while acquiring specialized skills. Some of the jobs that are available are; cosmetology, body and fender repair, and word processing. etc.

1. Tim Zuvich work's at Sam's Gift Shop for his ROP experience.

2. Shalandra Gaines work's behind the counter to greet customers at Sam's Gift Shop.

3. Gomer school has been opened for many years. Gomer offers its services to many schools for Hospitality and Food Services in ROP.

Pep Squad

Varsity

No one seems to realize the hardships involved in the Pep Squad. They put in many hours a week into practice. Not only is it hard to keep in shape, but they must also keep up with their image of being cheerful and friendly, no matter how bad of a day they've had; not to mention grades. It is not just fun and games, that is just the highlights! Sure they get free admission to the games, but how would you like to wear a miniskirt in mid-November!

1. Armijo Pep Squad gives it all they got, never missing a beat, during halftime!

    A: 87% said right, 10% said left, 3% said ambidextrous

1. "I think girls should wear their hair natural and straight," comments Suzanne Taylor on pumped and permed female hair.

2. Robert Guerra quotes "Well, I don't know, I won't ever get gray."

3. Mike Parker, Brent Donellan, and Dan Schmidt (l. to r.) play Pierre La Fay, Donahue, and Geraldo at an Armijo rally.

4. Scott Balasia watches as four spirited students dive head first to defend their respective classes.

YOU'RE A GOOD MAN, CHARLIE BROWN.

Snoopy, Johanna McKinzie, magically becomes the famous Red Baron in this scene, as the audience watches eagerly.

4. Charlie Brown, played by Jason Trigg, captures the heart of all with his character and distinctive voice.

5. Crystal Daniels, playing Peppermint Patty, accompanied by Snoopy, displays her talent to the whole audience.

Linus, played by Steve Walton, tries very hard to prove to the audience that his blanket means nothing to him.

6. Schroeder and Charlie Brown display their feelings about life, as the others watch on.

Charlie Brown turns his head in disinterest as Lucy tries to get him to answer the survey-about herself of course.

7. The whole cast sings along in a sparkling ending that shows the talents of each and every actor.

8. Lucy, Heather Ramey, disappointingly tallies off the votes on the survey about herself.

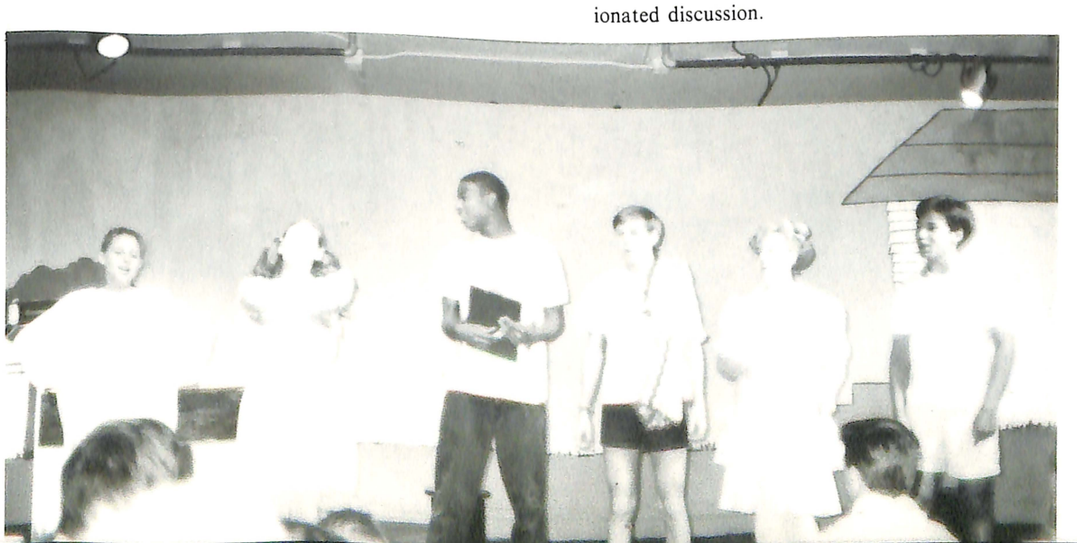

9. Schroeder, played by Joe Ona, gives us his interpretation of the book Peter Rabbit.

10. Lucy tells naive little brother Linus about all the "important" things in life.

11. The whole Peanuts gang joins together for an opinionated discussion.

Armijo High School put out another success, "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown", directed by Shirleigh Brannon and performed by Crystal Daniels, Johanna McKinzie, Joe Ona, Heather Ramey, Steve Walton, and Jason Trigg. This play touched the heart of all its viewers in the audience with its humor and irresistably childish overtones. It re-opened the old doors of childhood memories; the way we as children think. The acting was superb and the plot full of suprises. Definitely a thumbs up for Armijo!!

FORTY-NINERS FACE FACULTY

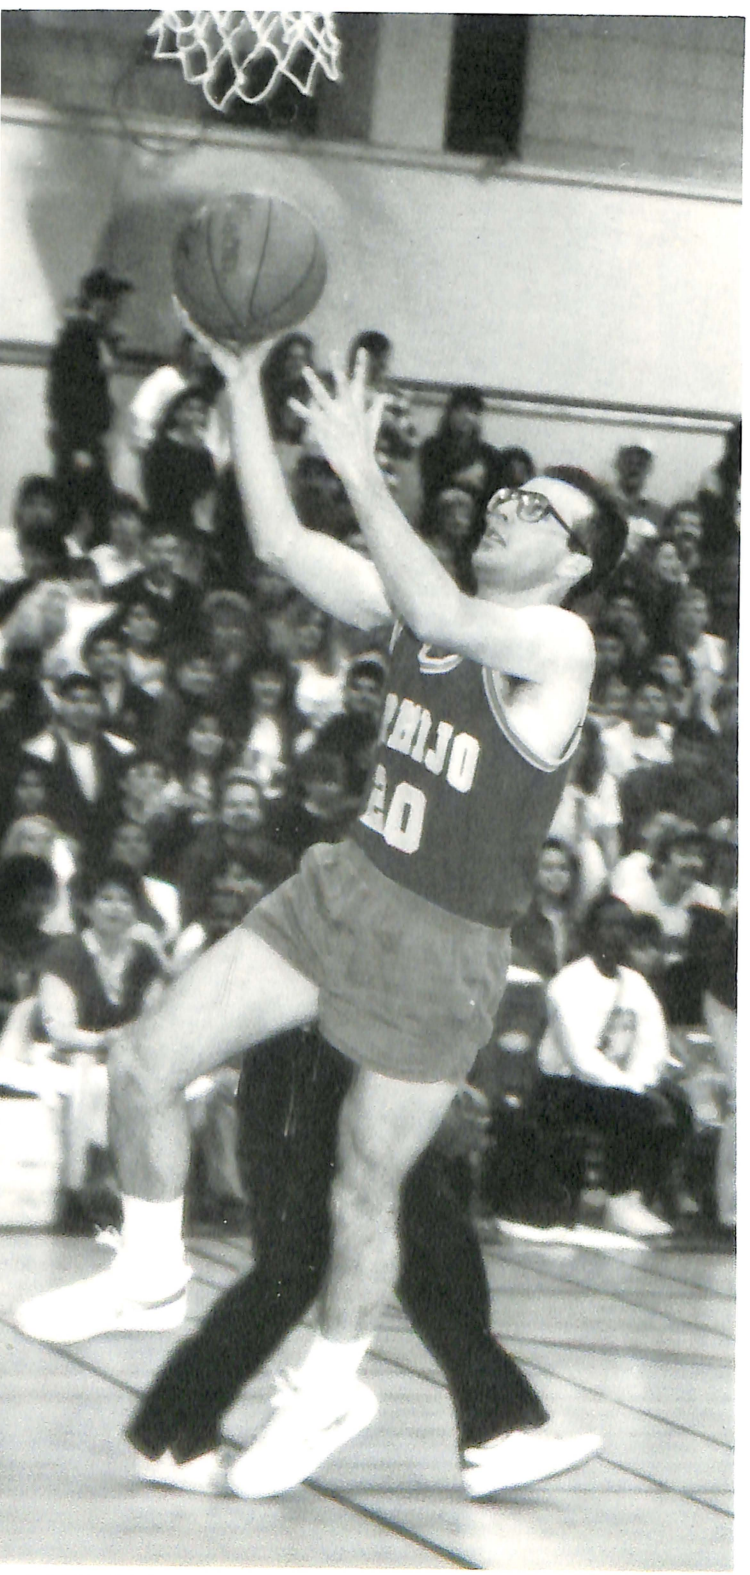

The excitement mounted as the two teams readied themselves. The cheers went up as the teams came on and all through the game as points were scored. The faculty played valiantly even though the Forty-Niners beat them by 16 points, 70 to 54.

After the game, we were able to talk to one of the Niners, Steve Hendrickson. The 230 lb. linebacker, who bench-presses 470 lbs. and squats 650 lbs., told us that the key in life is to go after all you want instead of sitting around. Some think linebackers are dumb jocks, but this one has a 3.5 G.P.A. at U.C. Berkeley as a history major.

1. Short but swift, Mr. Yip zips downcourt past two Niner defenders.

7. Mr. Bryan gets plenty of air on his lay up.

5. During half-time, the 49er players signed autographs, crowded as it was.

6. The Armijo cheerleaders root for the San Francisco Niners this time around.

2. It's a bird! It's Micheal Jordan! No, it's Jim Bouie taking the ball up for a slam dunk!!

3. John Taylor comes down after a dunk.

4. Darryl Pollard goes up for the shot.

ROTC Salutes America

Armijo Aerospace Science, or ROTC, as some say, had a rather productive year this year. Their numbers swelled from about one hundred and eighty students to about two-hundred and thirty students. Their Color Guard appeared at all home games and their Honor Guard performed at Open House and the Aerospace Ball.

During the course of the year, their co-curricular teams took first in bowling, second in softball, and fourth in volleyball after competing with all other schools in the Bay Area. Their Model Club improved the looks of the two ROTC rooms, and the Rocket Club launched succesfully. And they always wore the uniform with pride.

All in all, it's been a pretty good year.

5. Sergeant Wanner hands off his clipboaard to his flight sergeant, cadet Airman First Class Kimberly Cruz, as he prepares the flight for inspection.

1. Major Kardach, Sergeant Wanner, and Chief Harker are all decked out in their "class A" uniforms for Flag Review.

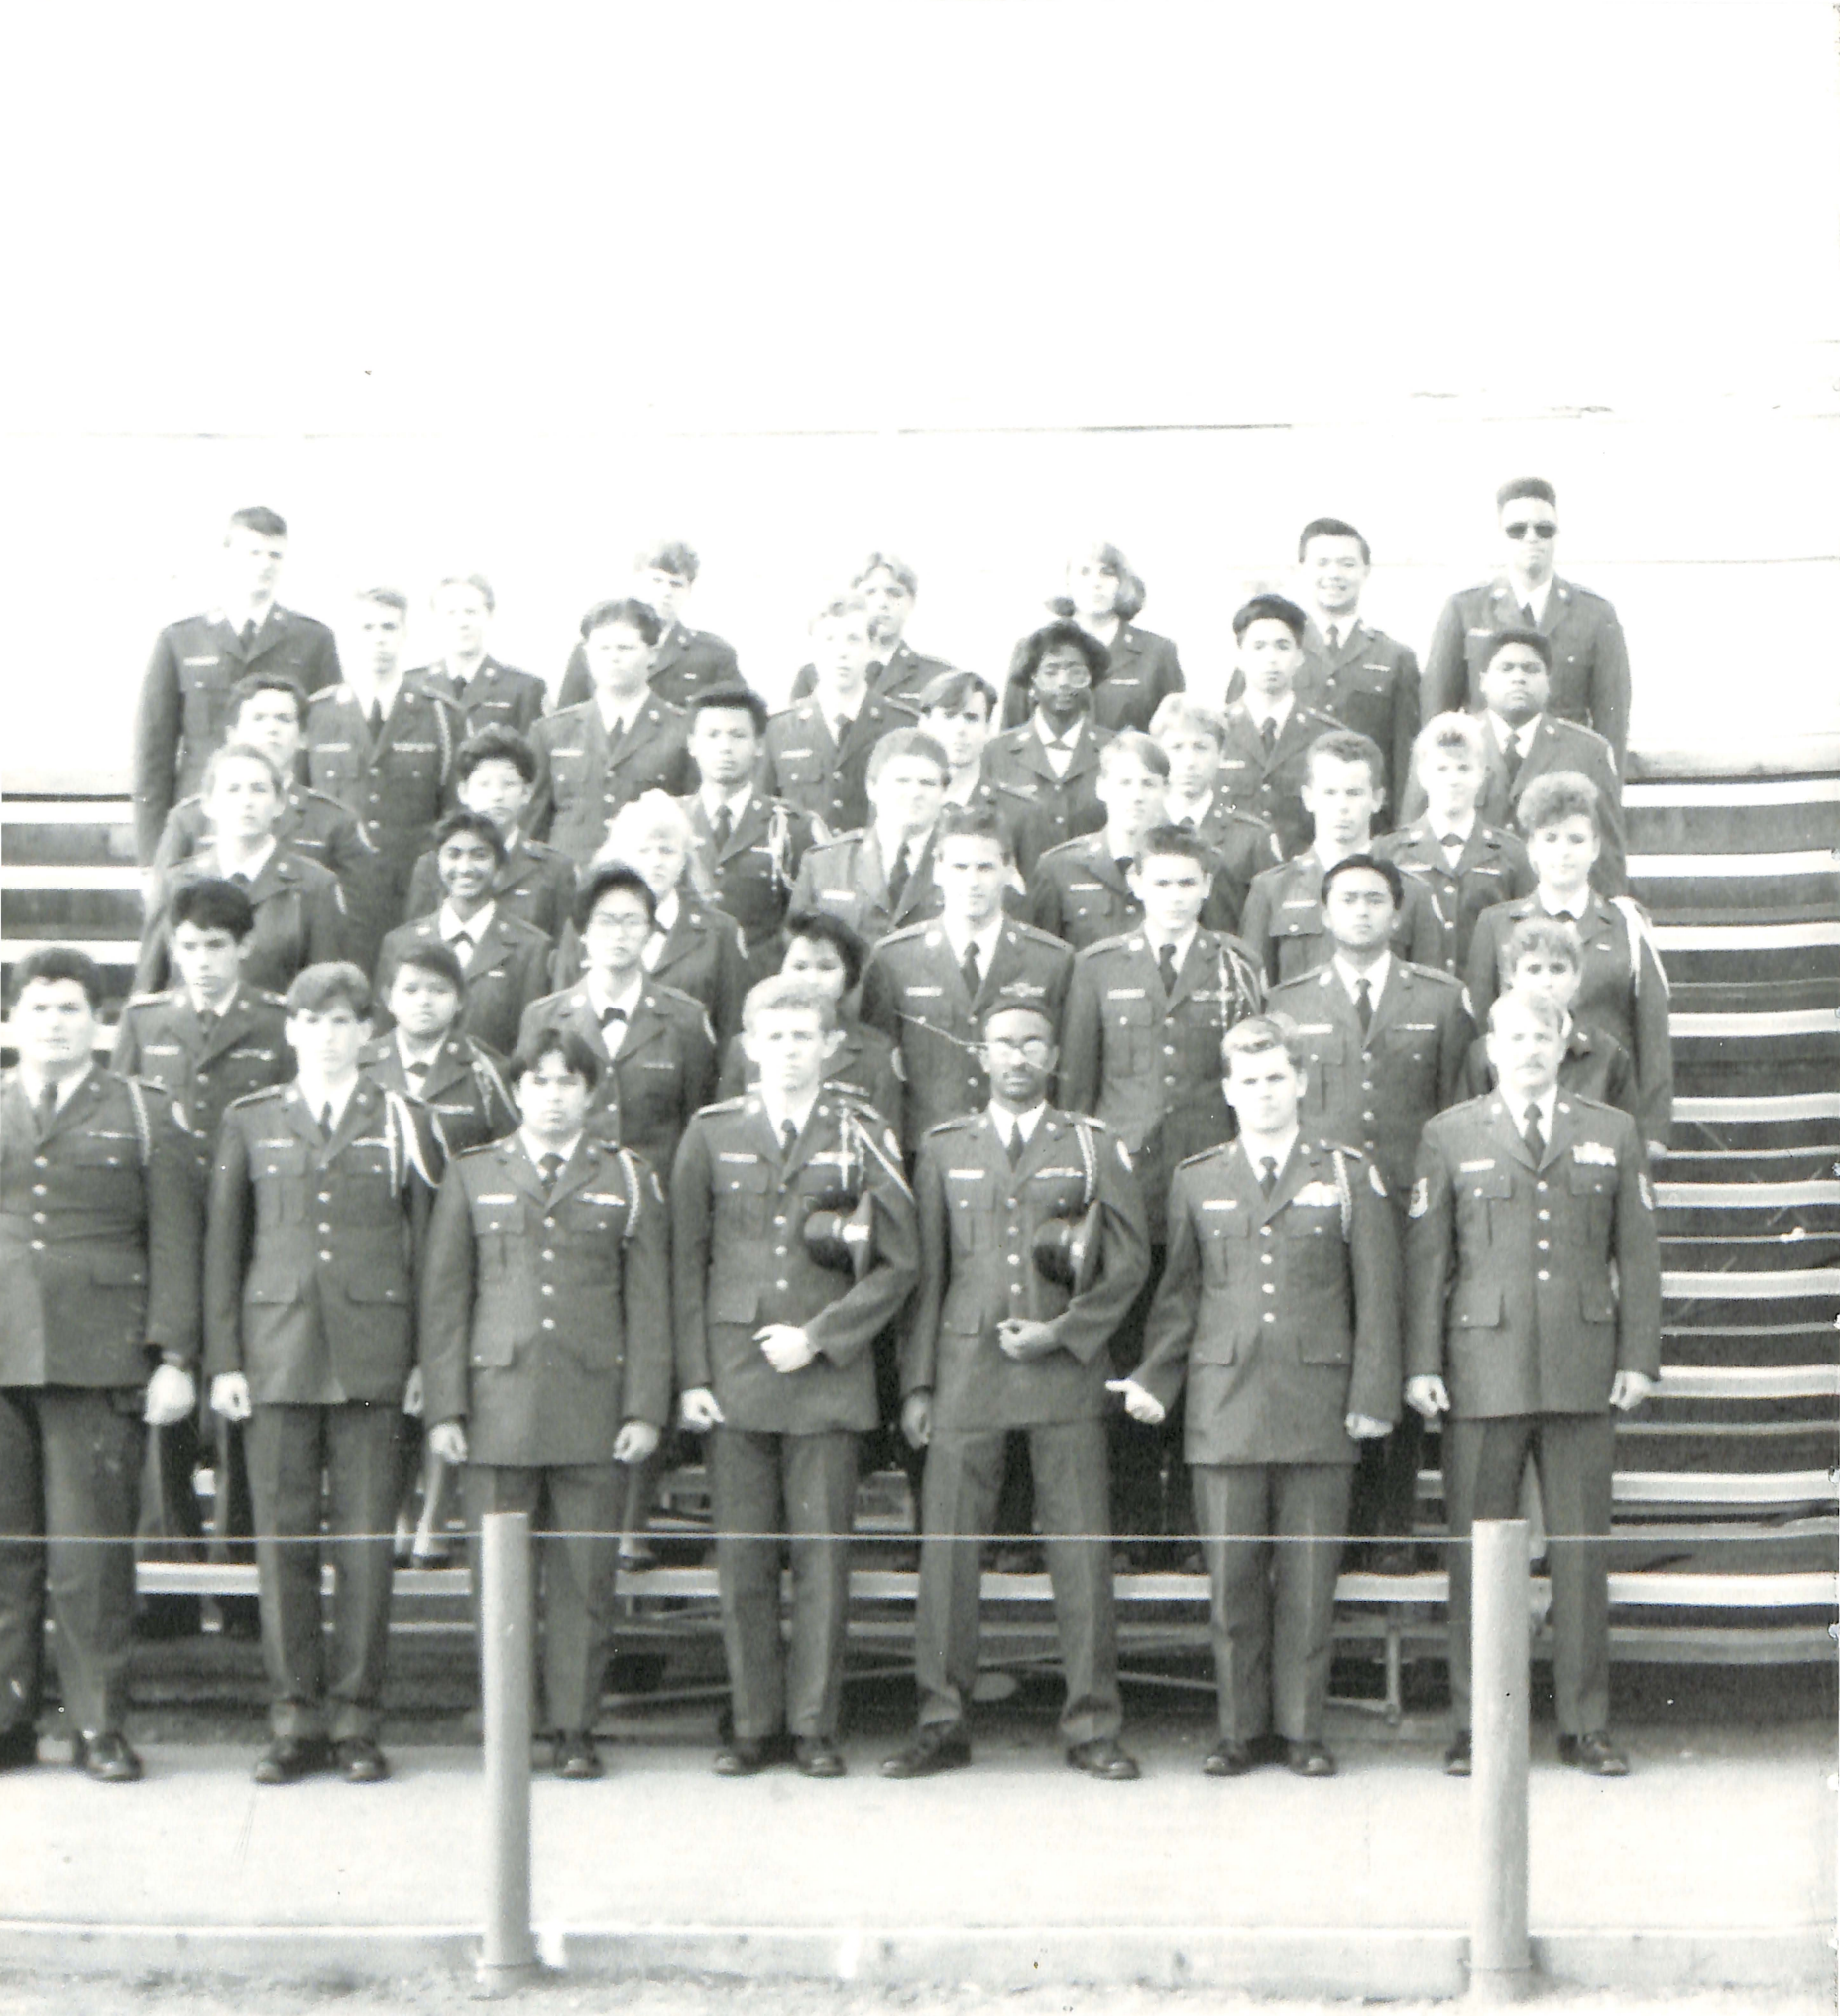

4. Sergeant Wanner shows the cadets the finer "points" of geography during his lesson.

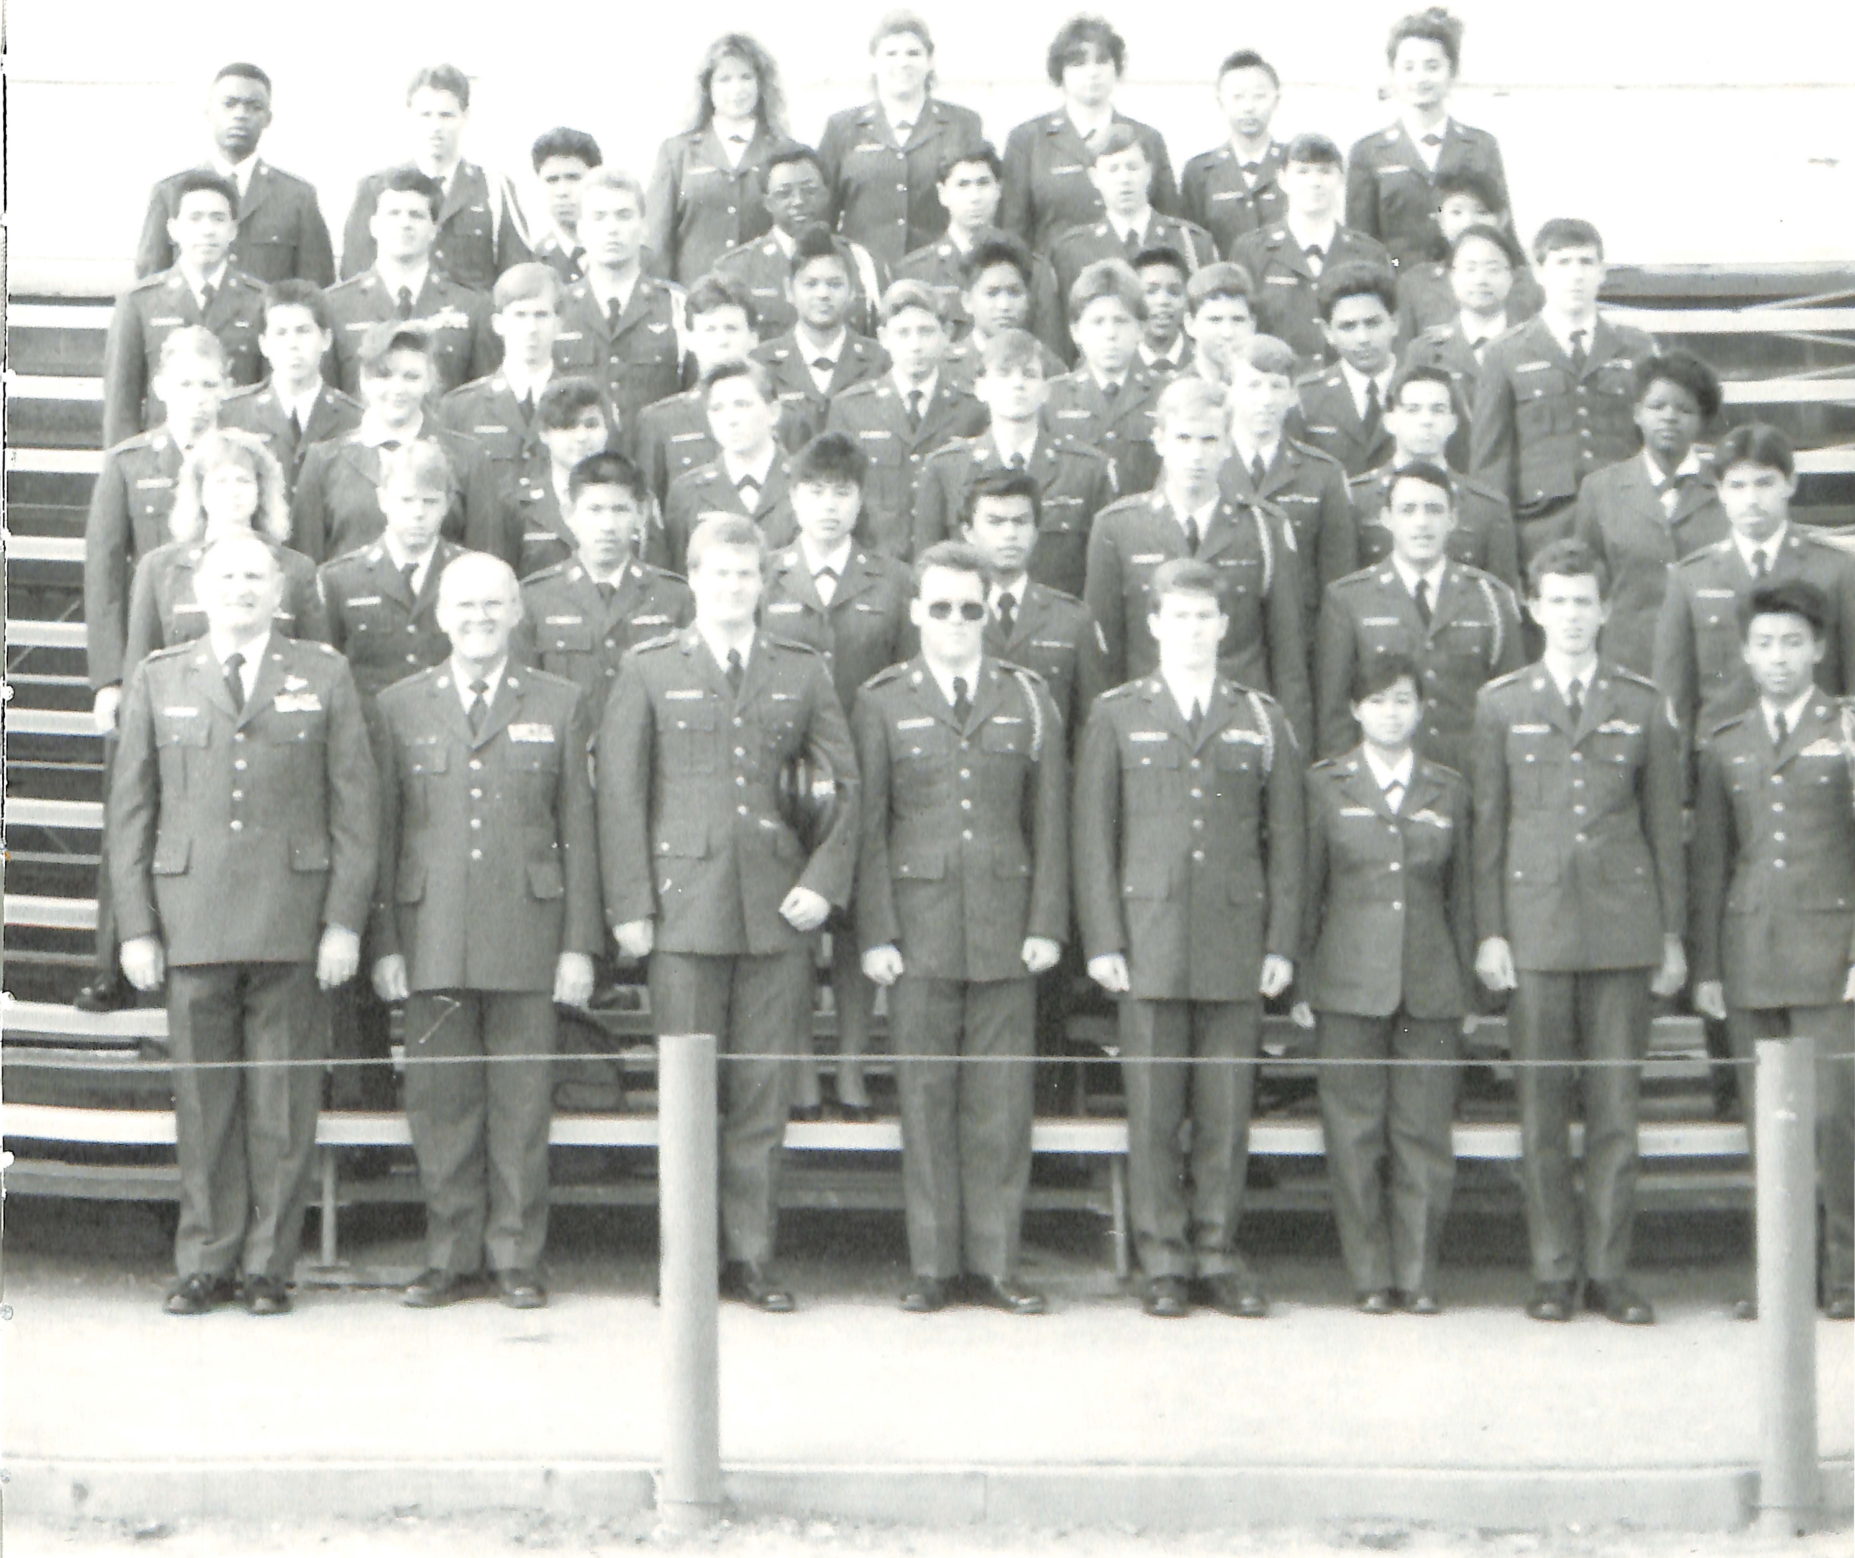

2. Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Richard Golino salutes the flight before Flag Review.

3. The cadets, led by Cadet Lieutenant Chuck Powell, salute the flag during the national anthem.

A Moment in Time

That was the theme for the 1990 Armijo AFJROTC Ball. With a turnout of about 230 people, the ball was a major event. Among the cadets and their dates, Major John Kardach and his wife, Charlotte; Chief Master Sergeant Gordon Harker and his wife, Ruth, Master Sergeant Tim Wanner, his wife, Janice, and their daughter, Jessica; Mr. Bob Bailey and wife, Laurie; Ms. Jean Fitzgibbons and husband, Daryl Carter; Mrs. Sue Langland and husband; Mr. Robert Schmidt and his guest, Mrs. Voutrot; and Staff Sergeant Tim Lish were in attendance.

7. Master Sergeant Tim Wanner, his wife, Janice, and their daughter, Jessica greet Cadet Ron Moore and his date, Pamela Knuckles at the Ball.

6. Major John Kardach and his wife, Charlette, greet Dan Schmidt in the recieving line.

3. Master Sergeant Tim Wanner, Chief Master Sergeant Gordon Harker and Major John Kardach stand behind the newly crowned Ball Queen, Raquel Martin, and her attendants, Elizabeth Martinez and Suzanne Taylor.

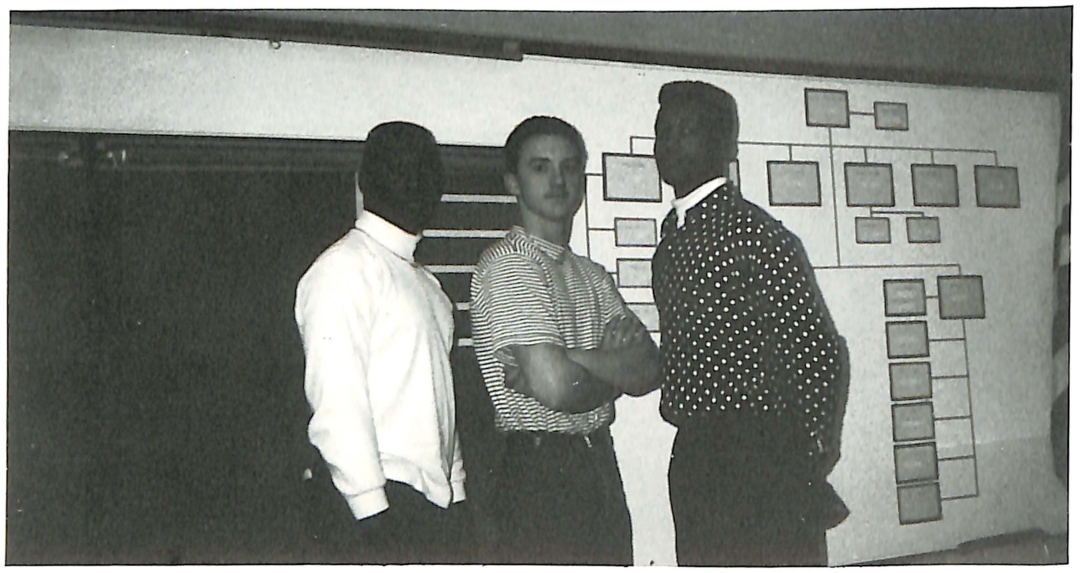

4. The cadets dance to the beat of D.J. Jerry Pusateri, at the Travis Air Force Base Officer's Club.

Basketball Homecoming

Spirit Week for the Basketball Homecoming was very energetic. Many people dressed up for days like Hat Day and Black and White Day.

The Basketball Homecoming Dance was titled The Sweetheart Dance. And, of course, there were the King and Queen of Hearts. All the classes put up two guys for King and two girls for Queen, but there could be only one King and Queen out of all the classes. And of all the classes, senior David Meny won as King and senior Wendy Hooten won as Queen. Congratulations!!!

1. Aaron Toliver, Tom Knight, and Chris Milton are dressed up for Black and White Day.

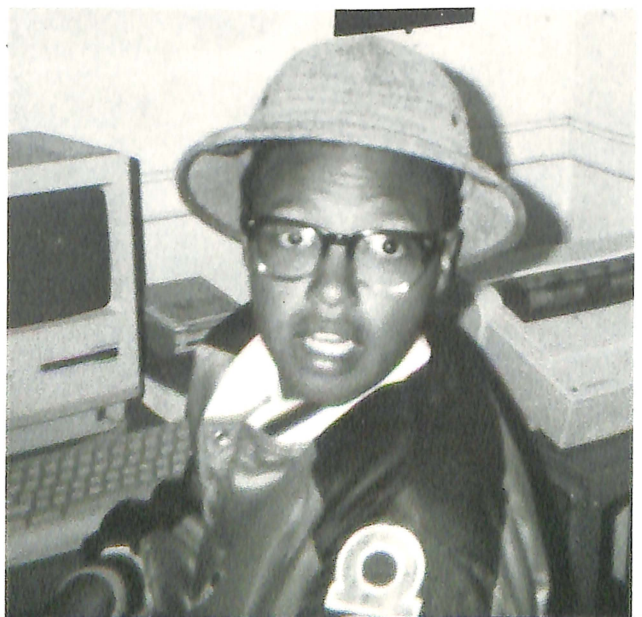

8. Gina Aiello takes time out from picking up attendance to pose during Hat Day.

MATH NETWORK

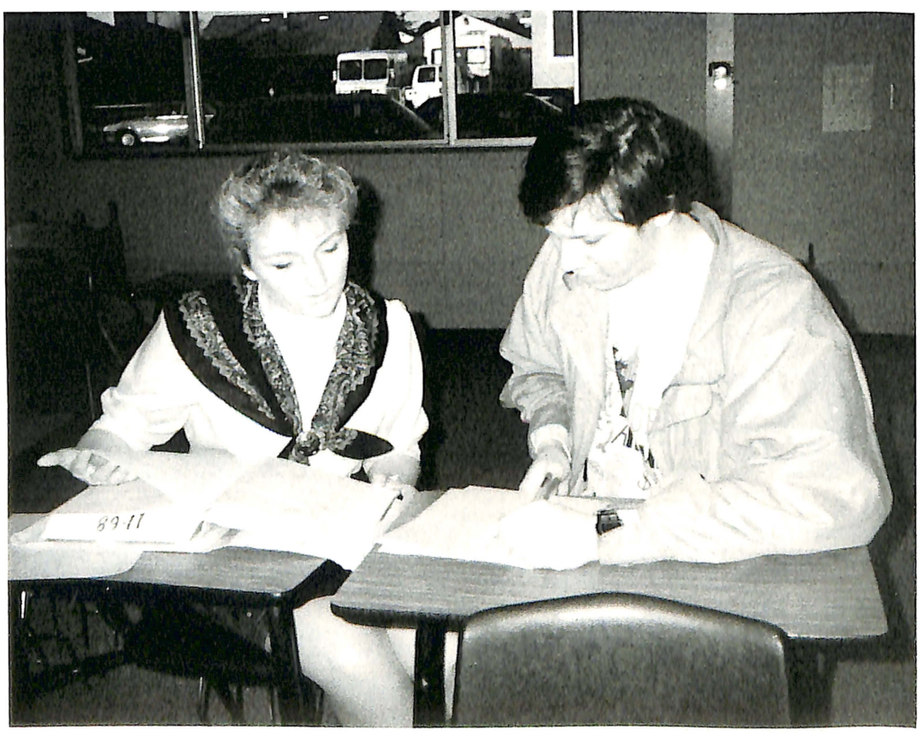

Armijo has started many programs to help students learn, but one has been a stand out. The Math Network started a few years ago and has gotten stronger and stronger every year. Many students spend their mornings and lunches helping others with their work. Whether it was algebra or calculus, there was someone to help. Mrs. Lum made sure that everyone was well prepared and knew what to do. Math Network is an ongoing project that will become an Armijo tradition. This is a great way to say, I helped someone learn.

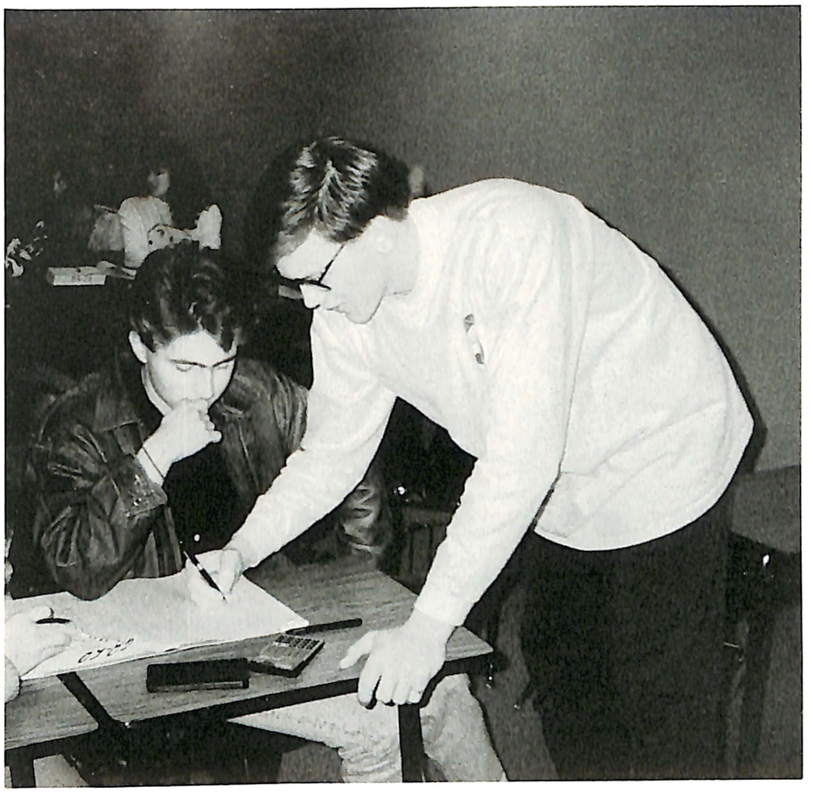

Ms. Lum uses state of the art equipment to help many students learn.

Middle: Kendra Brewster, Christine Payton, Jennie Ladd, Monica Stauffer, Dawn Patoya. Bottom: Mary Golda, Jodi Romero, Sherie Tsosie, Sonia Jacobson.

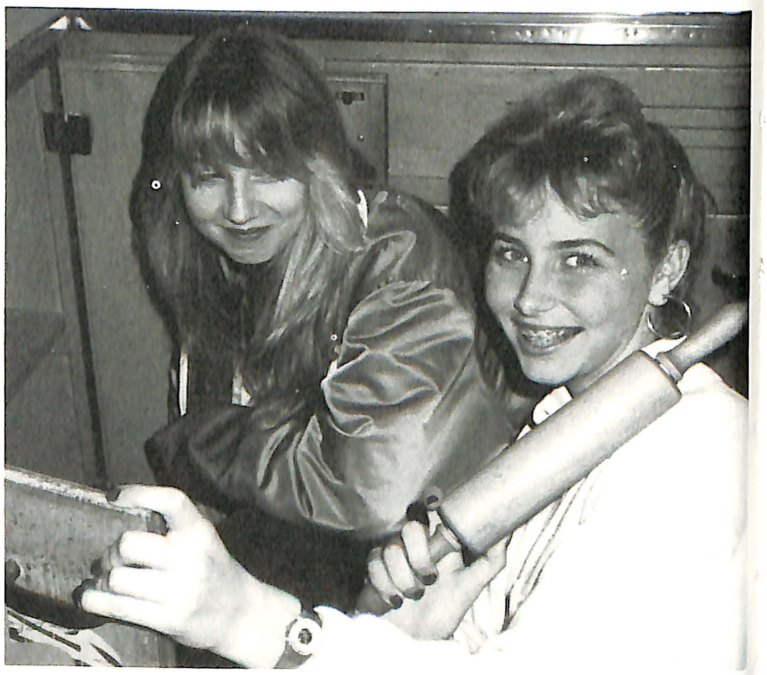

And of course . . . . . .the oven!!

3. Did you say you wanted food??

4. These two girls are going to demonstrate their rolling skills!

5. "She does the stirring around here!"

6. Of couse everyone volunteers to do the tasting!

KEY CLUB

The Key Club is known here at Armijo as the "good deed" club, and rightfully so. They do outstanding services for the community. This year they did their annual can food drive and, as usual, with great success! Once more Armijo High School has another reason to put their hands together. Keep it up Key Club!!

4. Mrs. Gordon jokes around with the members during their lunch meeting.

5. Day and Terri try to contain their laughter while being photographed.

3. Here the president, Aaron Hakenan, keeps the attention of the members with his charismatic traits.

6. Junell skips his lunch in order to fully understand what's going on at this meeting.

7. Willie and Richard put on their best pose for the camera—a sinister look.

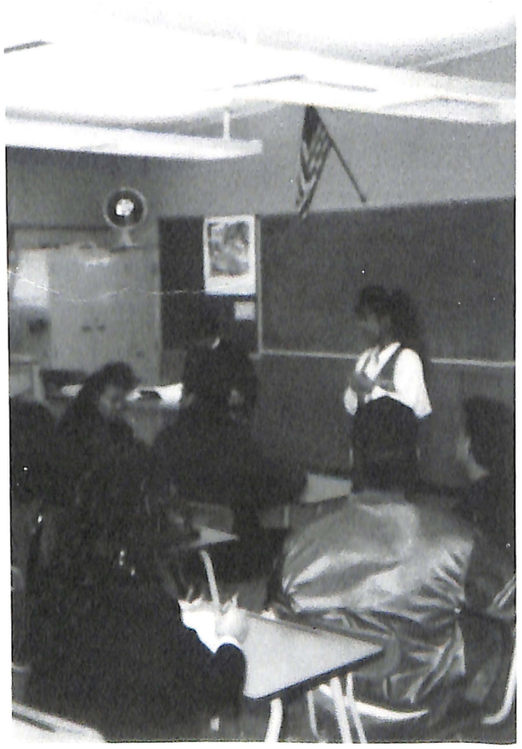

Pacific Islander's Association

In the Pacific Islanders Club, Ms. Fout said that they have a lot of fun. They sell candy, and have raised enough money to go on field trips. They met once a week and decided what kind of activity they should do next.

ASIAN AMERICAN

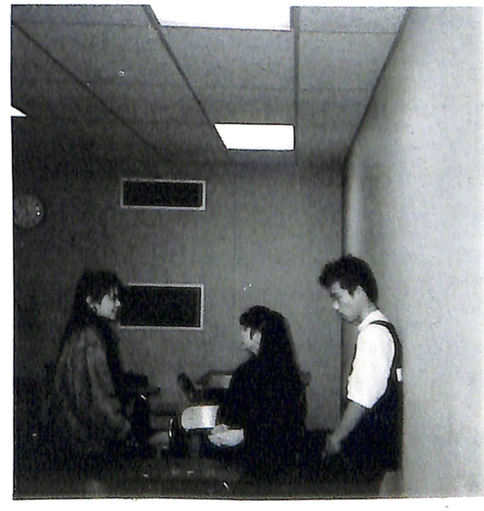

Ms. Lum, who's in charge of the Asian American Club, says that she has the students sell candy and food to raise money for field trips. Ms. Lum also says the reason they have the club is to get people with different cultures to get together and to learn more about each other.

Mr. Yip and Ms. Lum talk of what to do in the Asian American Club.

Chastine and Cielo are wondering when they should meet again.

AFS

American Field Service is a student club here at Armijo, which is devoted entirely to the exchange students who come to Armijo from different parts of the world. AFS also raises scholarship money for American students who wish to become exchange students. AFS also hosts parties for exchange students throughout the year. At the end of the year, all club members are taken to San Francisco. This years' exchange students are: Martin Schellenberg and Tanja Trambow for West Germany; Koichi Ogawa and Mihoko Saito for Japan; Maria Alvarez from Spain; Rogelio Mendoza from Mexico; Ora Hanttu from Finland; Frederik Richard from Sweden; Conny Simonet from Belgium; and Leandro Mohr from Brazil.

This page is dedicated to Mrs. Fout. She has put so much extra time and effort into the club that it would be lost without her. When asked why she does the things she does, she said, "I think American students need to be exposed to other cultures."

4: Brazilian student Leandro Mohr entertains some club members.

1. Future Farmer's of America isn't all horsing around.

3. Kim Fong, Tonya Parker, Jen Gutkowski, and Nikki Garver enjoy a party during class.

2. Randy Scoggins, well dressed as usual, strikes a pose for the yearbook camera man.

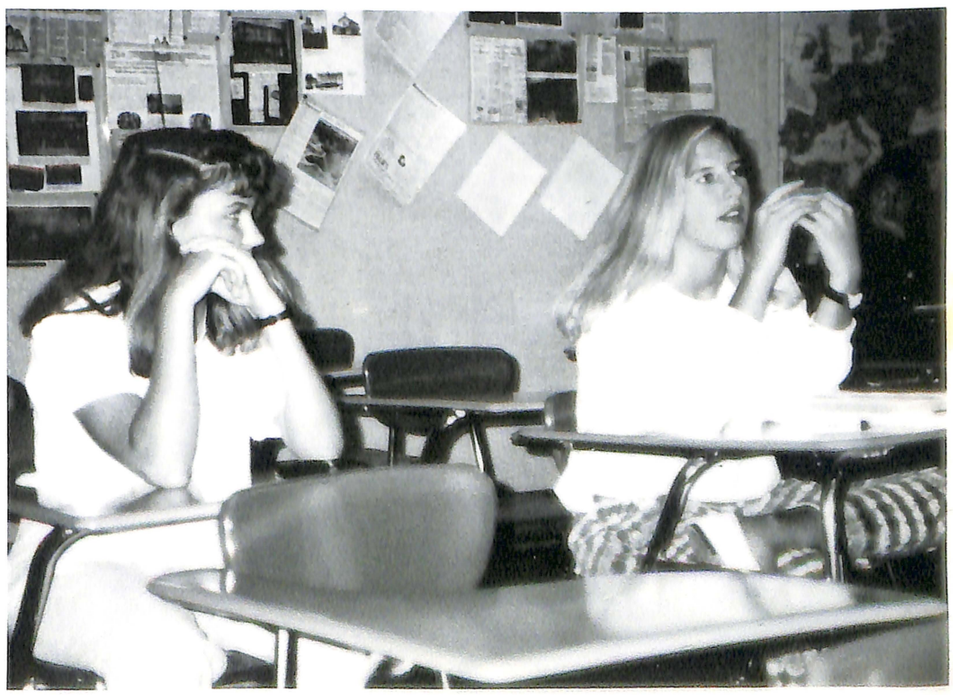

4. Judge Dominic Sommers presides over a Fairfield courtroom.

5. Greg Qatsha delves into the secret files of Yearbook.

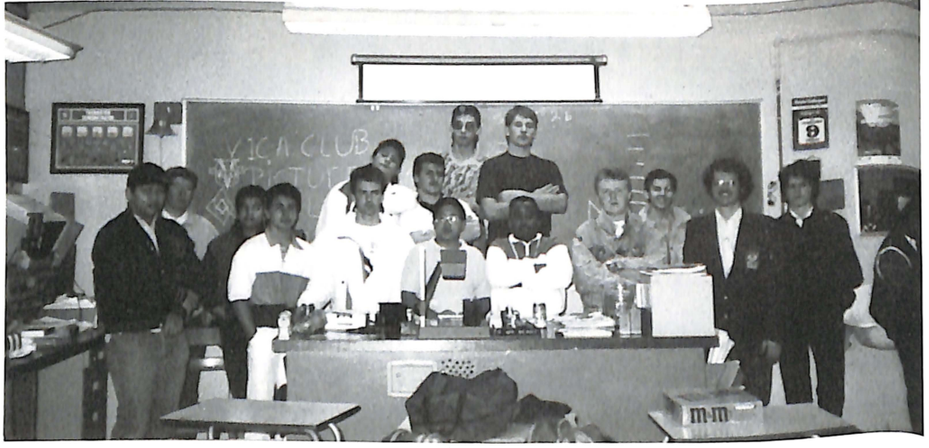

6. Rhonda Bikker and Kristen Demcsak kick back.

VICA

1. These two members concentrate to their fullest to get the job done!

4. Mr. Berry watches as Lewis Thomas tries to fix a stereo.

6. Herman Stevenson and Dan Rudy help each other to achieve their goal.

THE ART CLUB

The Art Club here at Armijo gives students an outlet for their creativity. For one, they put on an annual High School Art Contest at the Fairfield Community Center, in which many students, including those who aren't in the Art Club, participate. It's one of our most community involved clubs here at Armijo!

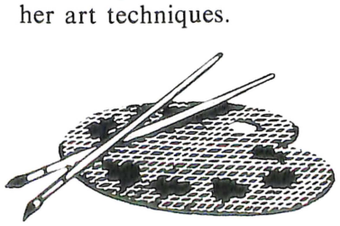

1. Art Club members—top row: Elmo, Clint Paulsen, Tim Hockney, Christina Vidalis, Vanessa Balbarino, Skye Cassano, and Mr. Sechler. Bottom row: Nicole Van-Vacas and Yannik Morales.

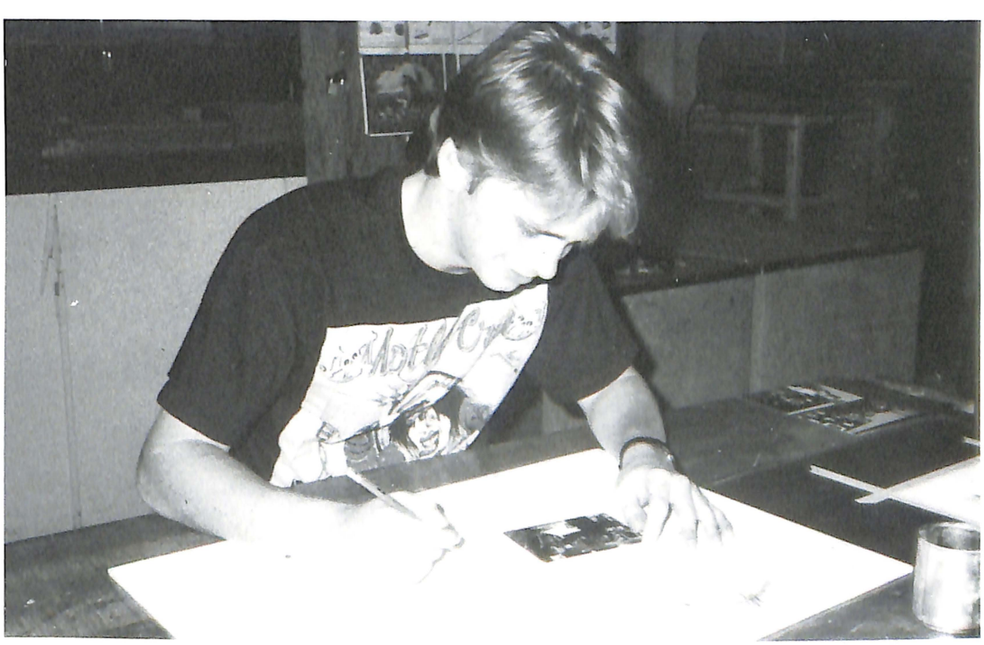

2. Elmo concentrates hard to get the right perspective in his drawing.

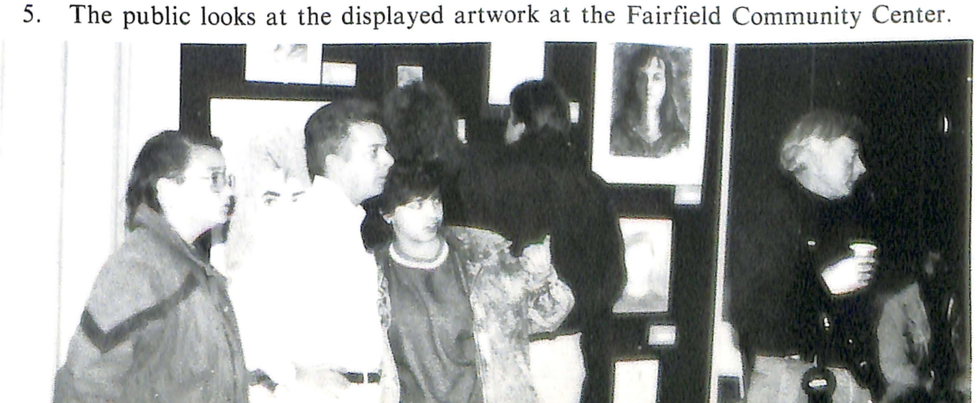

3. Nicole Van-Vacas looks through this book to get some ideas on improving her art techniques.

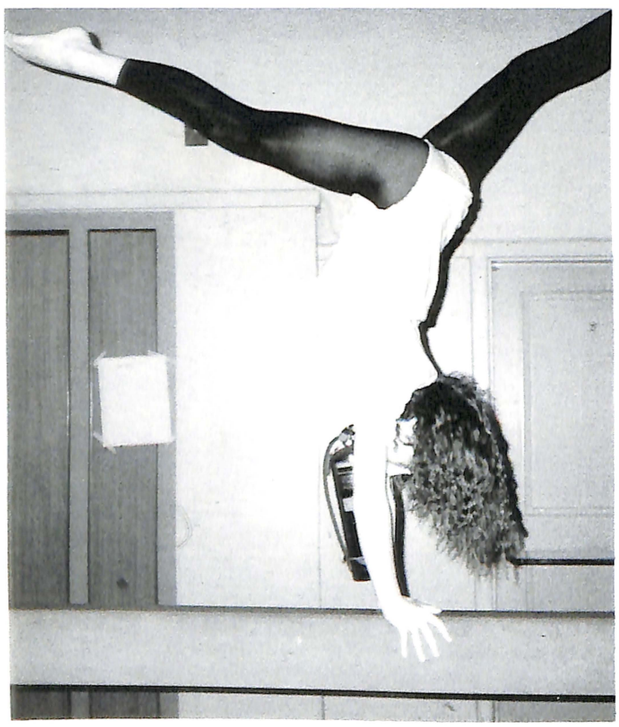

4. Tim Hockney, president of the Art Club, finds creating art very relaxing.

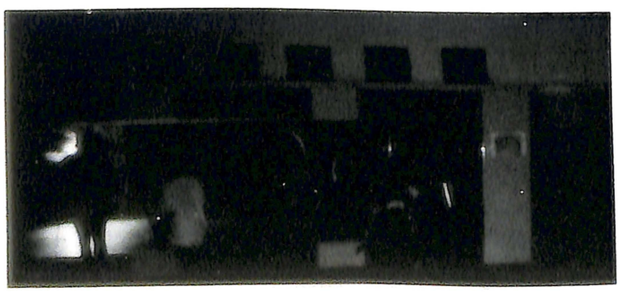

5. The public looks at the displayed artwork at the Fairfield Community Center.

The Gymnastic Team performed in rallies and for elementaries. Coach Leiferman said this year they had boys on the team. This change brought a lot of fun to the performances. Gymnastics goes from October to January. All the kids practice on the floor, balance beam, vault and bars. Miss Leiferman makes sure everyone is spotted before they try a new move. They always listen to music and have a great time. Gymnastics sounds like a lot of fun.

Sarah Dotson does a walk-over on the balance beam.

The mat is used in the gymnastics room not only does it provide a soft landing, it keeps the floor clean.

Teri Cruz does an aerial. This is Teri's last year of gymnastics and she's going to really miss it.

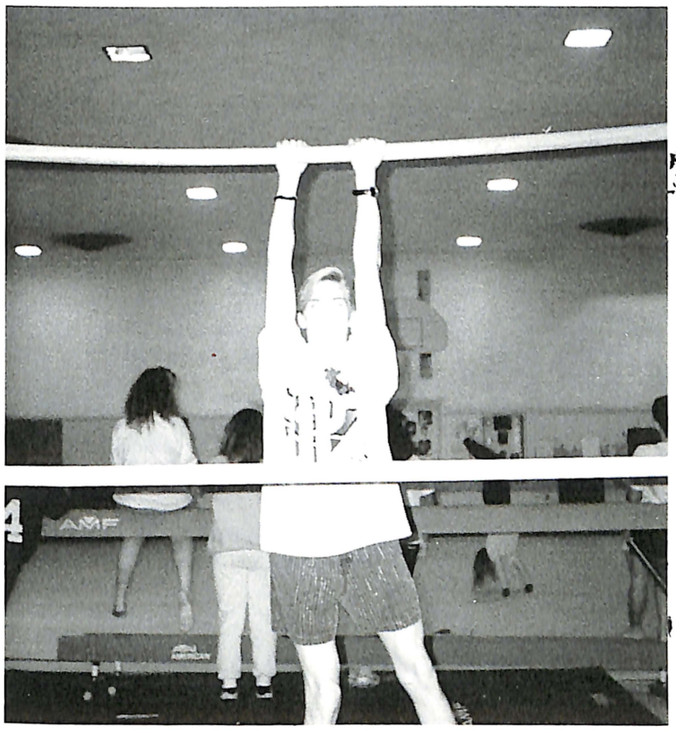

Chao Vang finishes a back tuck. He is one of the newcomers to the gymnastic team.

Stephanie Frogley does a back tuck.

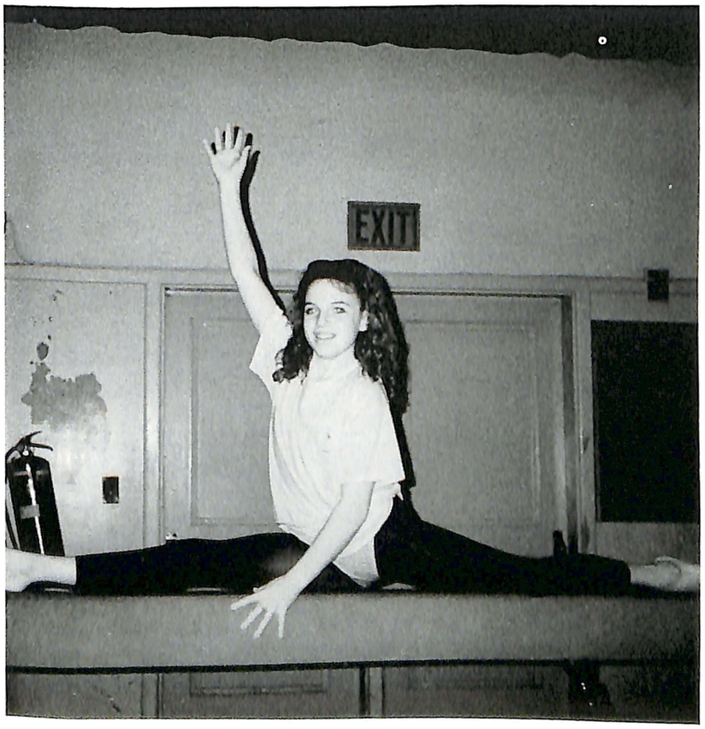

Gymnastics

David Barnett does a long hang twist on the uneven parallel bars.

Jennifer King jumps over the vault while straddling it, a very excellent move.

Sarah Dotson, on the balance beam, does the splits.

Middle row: Kelsey Chew, Amy Walker, Eric Twitchwell, Angela Briltz, Chao Vang.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

Armijo's chapter of FFA, advised by Miss Head, has had a successful year. FFA has an average of 30 members. They meet once a month to discuss activities and plans.

Members raise and show animals, work with other schools and compete jointly, go to other FFA related events, and learn about the agriculture career field.

2. A few pigs catch some sleep before getting judged at the Dixon May Fair.

5. A rooster is part of one student's poultry project.

6. This is the agriculture area on the Armijo campus.

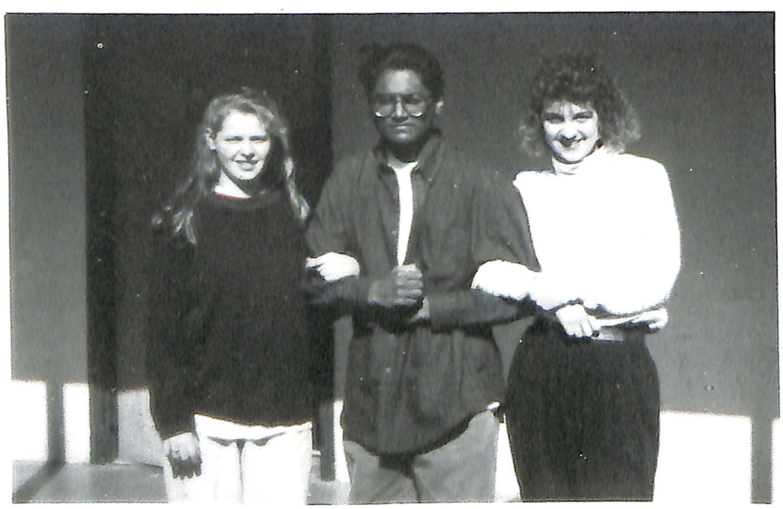

The California Scholastic Federation

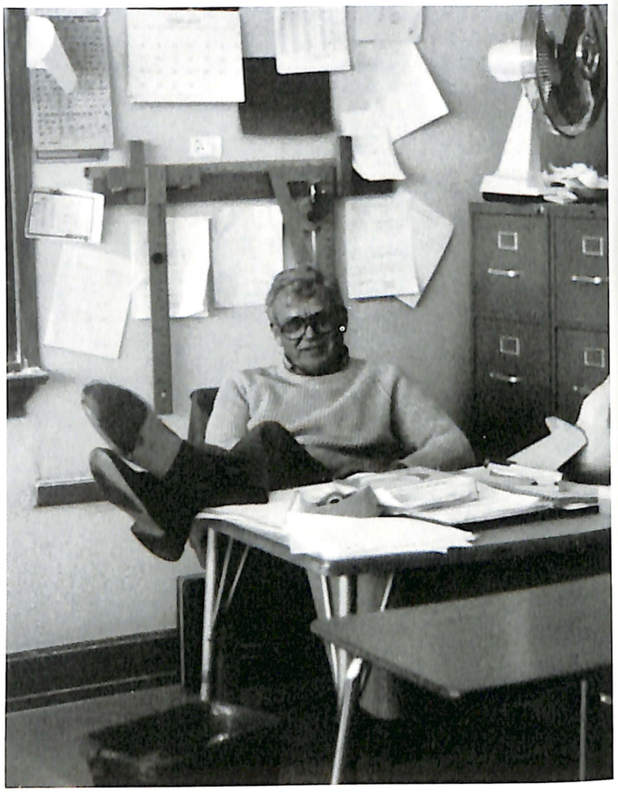

California Scholastic Federation is one of the few clubs on campus which restricts membership. Only students with a high enough GPA can get in the club. There are rewards for those who join, however. Not only does it "look good" on college transcripts, club members take a trip to visit selected college campuses, twice a year. The main coordinator for CSF is Mr. John Brown, whose painstaking efforts allow CSF to do the things it does.

1. Clubmembers:Brian Bracy, Marty Carr, Kim Fong, Wendy Heacock, Karen Jenkins, Dave Meny, Christine Petaishiski, Kathryn Ruttan, Troy Sanabria, Pete Stofle, Chris Winnington, Phil Alway, Shruti Basho, Sukhjit Basi, Alyce Beardsley, Rich Bechtel, Flo Bernal, Shari Bland, Sandra Boyd, Shelli Broderick, Lewis Broschard, Michelle Corbett, Rosanne Darling, Rob DeWilder, Jasmine Dizon, Derek Eckman, James Felsh, Kim Haas, Aaron Hakenen, Willie Hernandez, Leigh Hinson, Marc Hoberecht, Mel Ibarreta, Jason Kulasingam, Sandra Luden, Michelle Maxwell, Nathan Pettit, Linc Reifsteck, Junell Reyes, Stephanie Smith, Rima Totah, Lisa Ward, Jimmy Pham, Joanne Barber, Janie Briggs, Jenny Burroughs, Aaron Campbell, Eileen Casuga, Macario Dagdagan, Chastine Fish, Amy Gemmer, Eric Kanemoto, Mohammed Kharufeh, Mike Kim, Dana Kromm, Will Moore, Rodney Moy, Tara Raines, Joyanne Ramirez, Mark Ruttan, Kristen Savkko, Susan Segala, Shannon Thomas, Jenny Thompson, Xuan Truang, Emma Wiley

2. Club officers Emma Willey, Secretary, Jason Kulasingam, Treasurer, and Wendy Heacock, President.

3. Mr. Brown strikes his usual pose while speaking with the club.

4. Michelle Maxwell, Mel Ibaretta, and Kim Haas discuss colleges at a meeting.

Academic Decathlon

5. Major Kardach helps Michelle Maxwell with a problem.

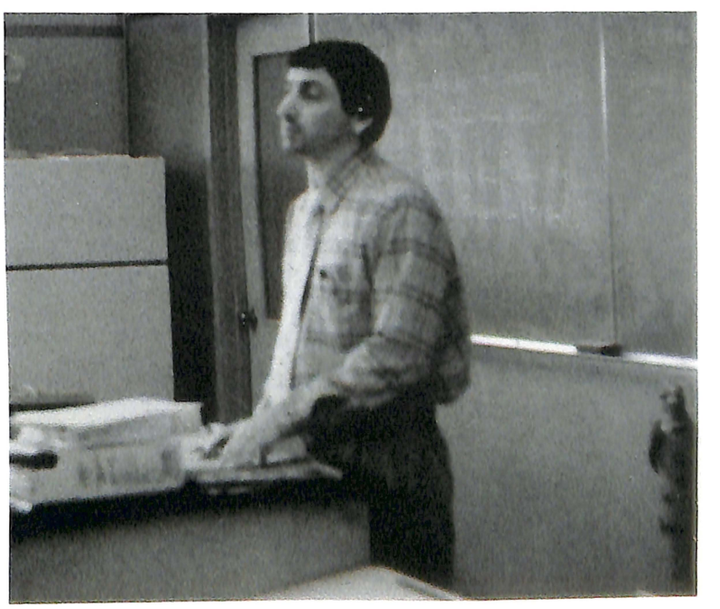

The Academic Decathlon is an event which happens once a year, and which is very draining for the participants. Team members must practice and learn for five months in order to take one, eight hour test. This test includes questions on calculus, physics, chemistry, analytical geometry, and U.S. history. Several books must also be thoroughly understood for the English section of the test. At the end of the test, there is a super quiz on a certain topic. This year's topic was Native American tribes of the United States. Special thanks go to Major John Kardach, for his help and support during the year.

7. Team members, left to right: Mike Jimenez, Rich Golino, Michelle Maxwell, Chuck Powell, Junell Reyes, Jason Kulasingam, Major Kardach, advisor. Seated: Tina Wusstig and Wendy Heacock.

6. Tina Wusstig reads about American Indians.

8. Mr. Facque explains biology.

DECA

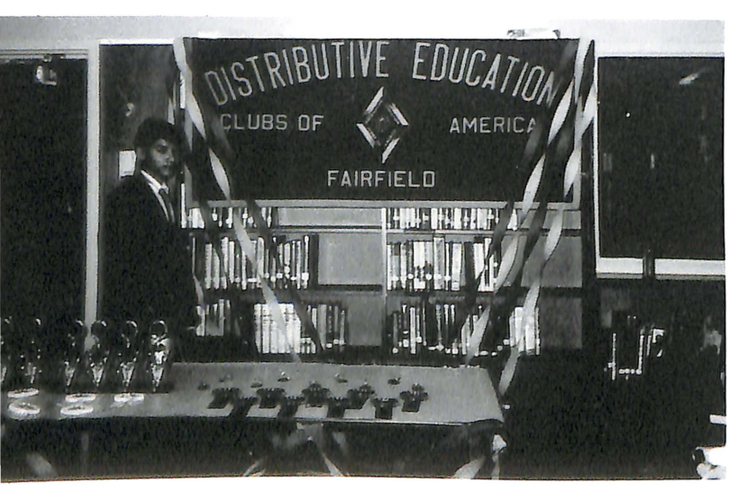

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION CLUBS OF AMERICA

DECA officers (L-R Shelbi Delarosby, Mysoon Eseed, Jennifer Romero, Rachel Calderon, Tweenie Lapurja.) and Mr. Gutowski take time out at the Officer Leadership Conference, held at Pine Mountain Lake, in October.

Mr. Gutowski advisor, Rachel Calderon, and Jimmy, look over the awards.

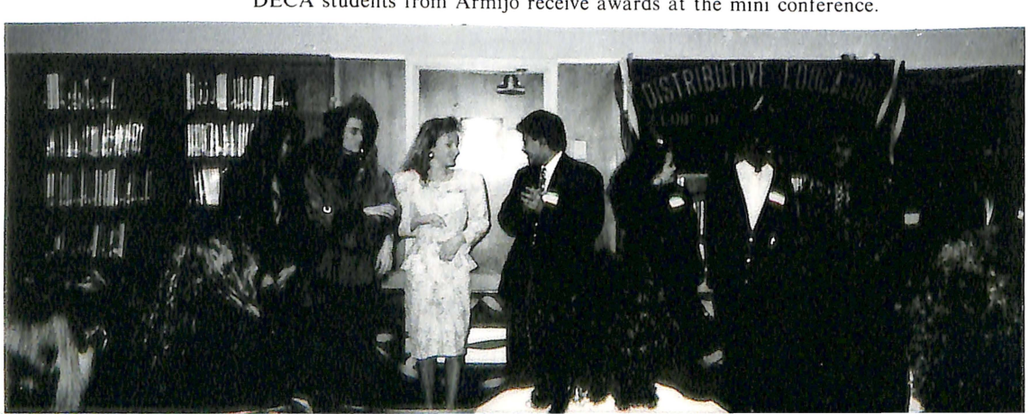

Jimmy Pham is present at a mini DECA conference, held in January, at Fairfield High.

Three DECA members give their opinions on how the conference inside is going.

DECA students from Armijo receive awards at the mini conference.

DECA, a very prominent club at Armijo, is also one of the largest. DECA provides students with opportunities to take the skills and knowledge they learn in the classroom and apply them in a practical manner to their career and life goals. Keep up the good work DECA!!

SPIRIT OF THE DOGS

ARMIJO'S DOGPOUND (Kenny, JD, Mr. Harrison, Fred, Angel, Boue, Kyle, and Troy.)

BEWARE OF THE DOGS

The crowd looks really into this game.

Look's like the dogpound gets the crowd going!!

The Dogs look awfully hungry.

ARMIJO OFFICERS

Officers of the Student Government are being trained to be the leaders of tomorrow. These students have one of the toughest jobs at Armijo. Their school days begin at 7:10 each morning and during this time, they plan the rallies and other school activities. Their contribution to the school is appreciated greatly and they deserve a lot of credit.

1. FRESHMEN OFFICERS: Top row: Sen. Megan Donnellan, Sen. Jodie White, Pres. Amy Weirich, Sen. Kristy Lum, Vice. Ayanna Burris, Sec. Lorretta Cabral

2. ASB OFFICERS: Top row: Pres. Sarah Beane, Vice. Aaron Lowrey, Sec. Wendy Heacock, Rally Com. Dan Sharp

3. SOPHOMORE OFFICERS: Top row: Pres. Joanne Barber, Sec. Tiffany Martindale, Sen. Julie Howell, Vice. Heather Ramey, Sen. Courtney Anderson, Sen. Amy Gemmer

4. SENIOR OFFICERS: Top row: Pres. Stephanie Hoehn, Sen. Kim Fong, Sen. Wendy Hooten, Sen. Marie Ivey, Sec. Dave Meny, Vice. Angel Torres

SPRING ASB - THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Armijo's Spring Associative Student Body (ASB) officers are the leaders of our school. They are the few who have organized such activities such as the 49er's basketball game. They are the people that brought us the spirit week activities. They also brought about many of the rallies and the dances that took place. The ASB are the ones that take the time and effort to make your experience at Armijo the BEST time of your life by trying to make Armijo High School the BEST it can be!

1. ASB Officers: Vice-President, Kim Fong; Rally Commisioner, Angel Torres; Secretary, Wendy Heacock; President, Dan Sharp

Who is this man? It's Mr. Harrison, of course. He's the Activities Director of the ASB. He's the one who made the 49er basketball game the BEST event ever held at Armijo. His goal this Spring was to organize everything the best he could. He planned to increase the Leadership skills of the ASB. Thank you Mr. Harrison.

3. Angel Torres smiles for us while at the Business Law Courthouse.

2. Finishing a poster, Dan Sharp makes sure he gets the E just perfect.

ACADEMICS

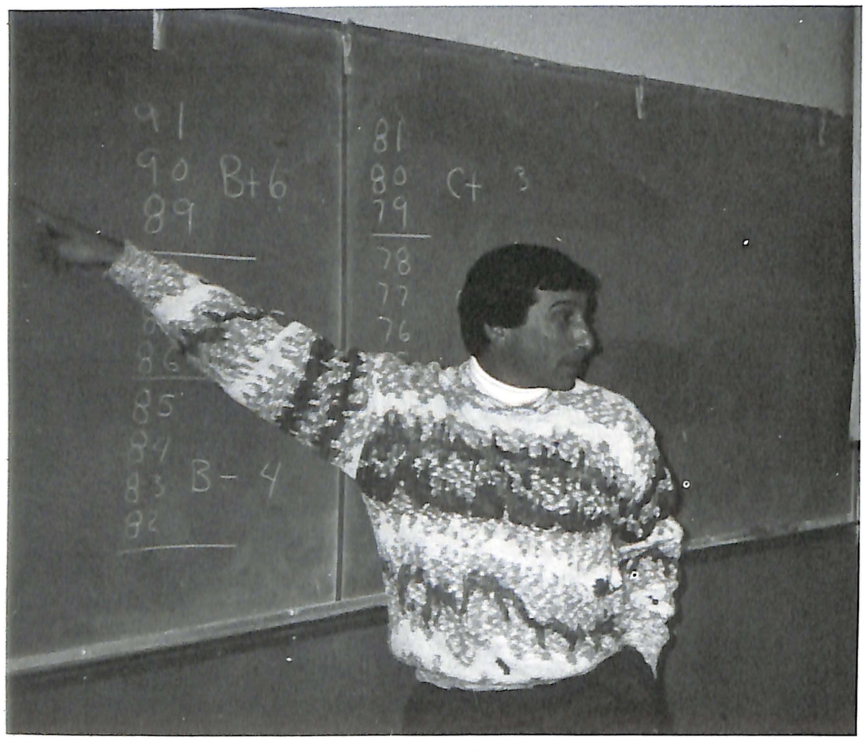

1. Mr. Wells is helping Michelle Fifer with single replacements reactions

2. Jennifer Cunha and Heather Hemingway are working togerther on a lab report.

3. Dessa Glavin is helping James Hopkins work with his artwork.

MATHEMATICS

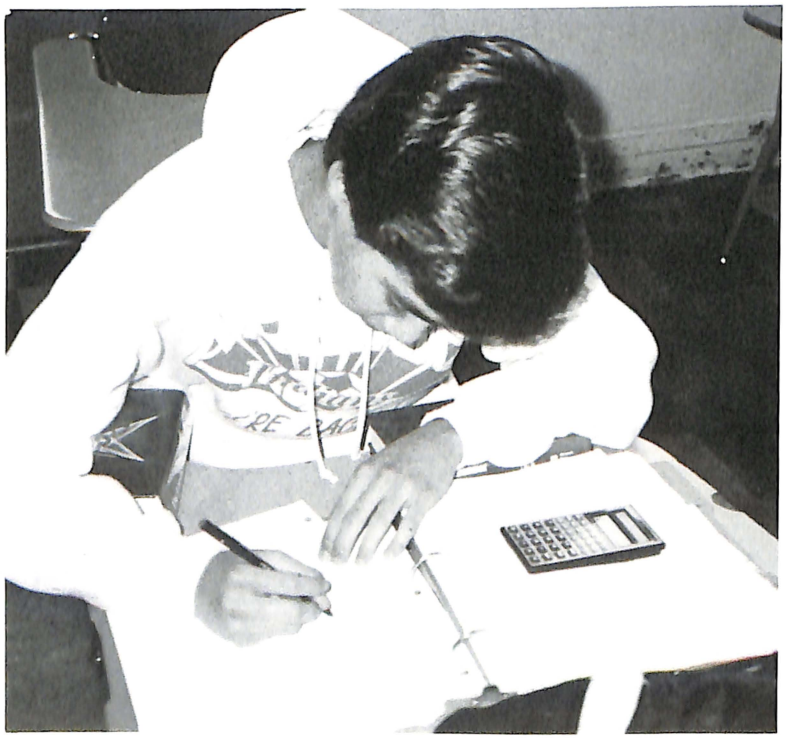

1. Mr. Faque explains his testing curve.

2. Tom Holbert works diligently.

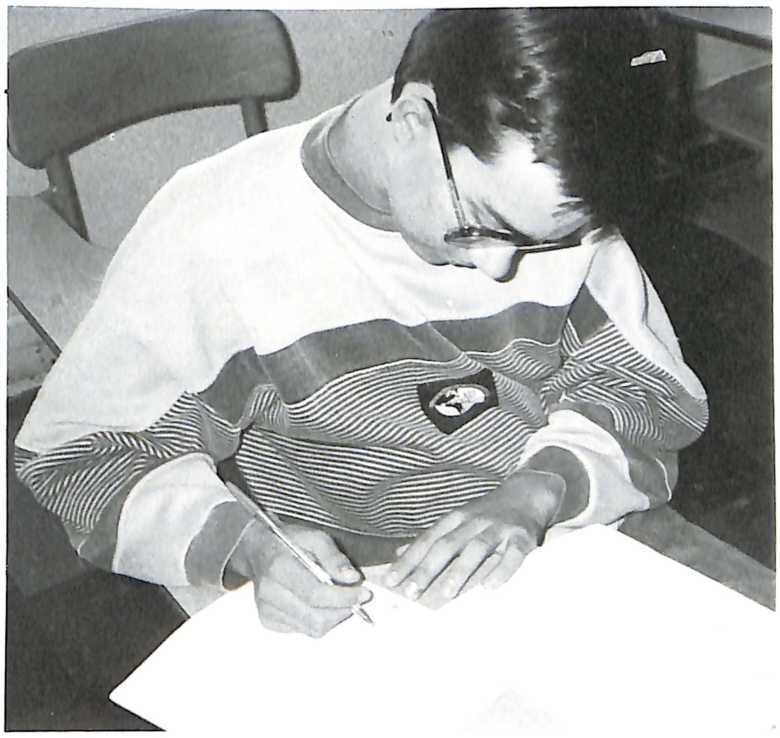

3. Michelle works on her math homework.

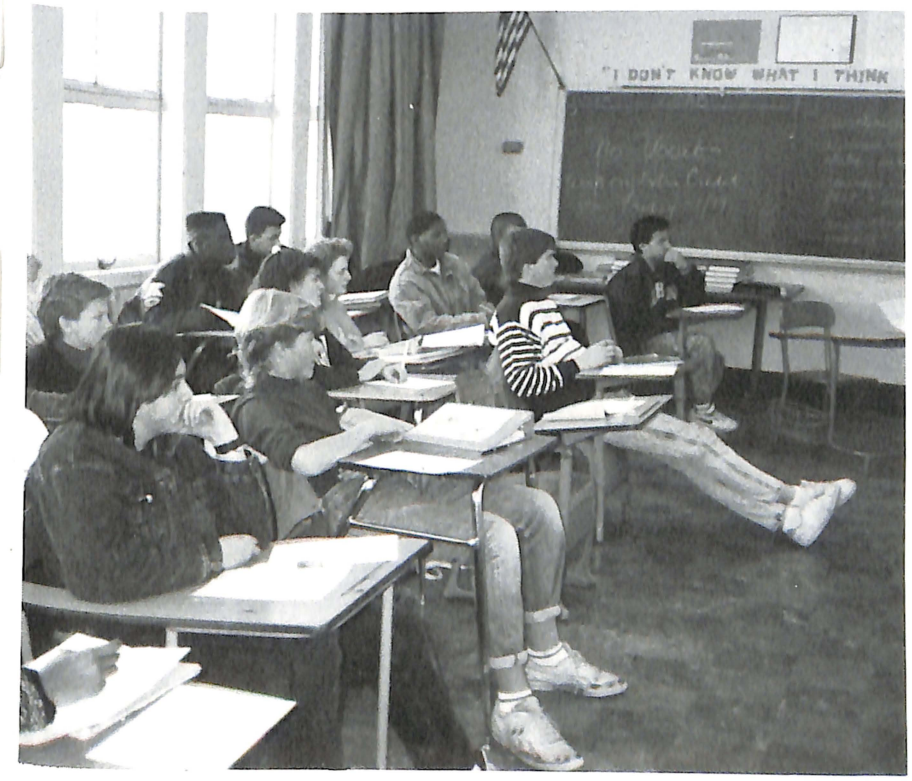

4. This Armijo student attempts to get his work done.

In some math classes the students play games like tic tac toe, bunco etc. But in English classes the students have to work. Like read books and do comprehension exercises.

1. Aaron Campbell works on the English ditto.

2. The English class listens as the teacher talks.

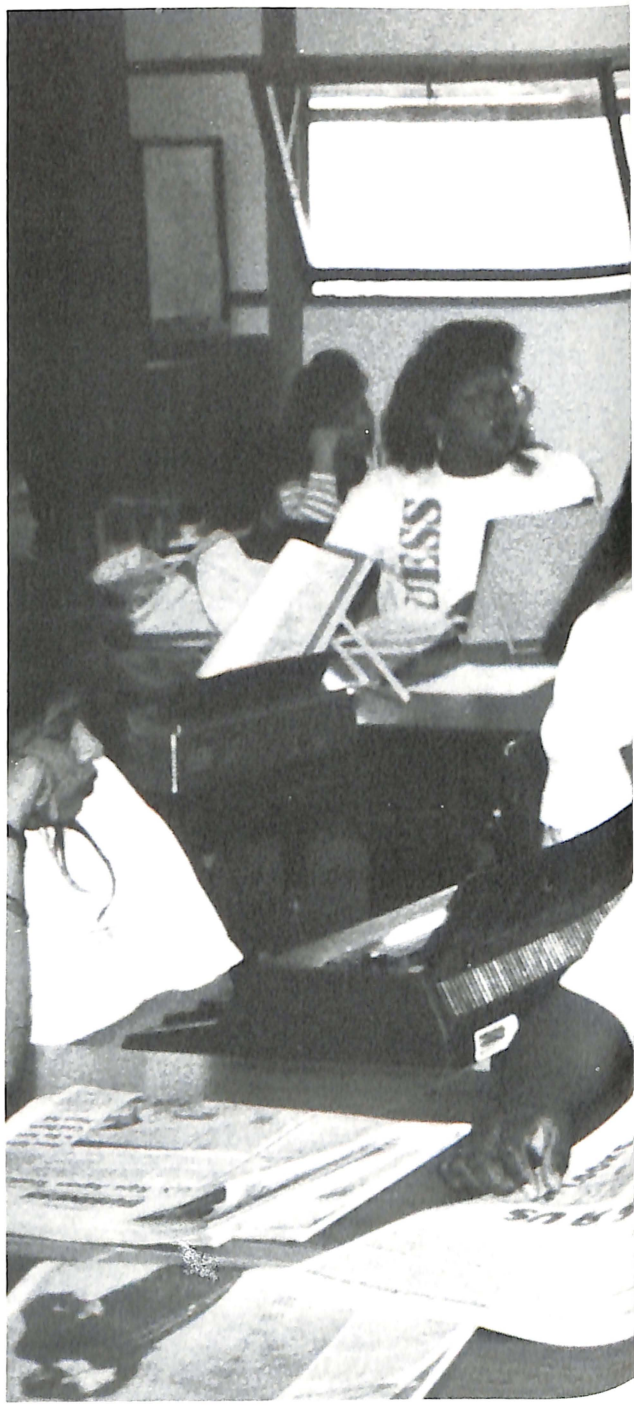

3. Mrs.Durney tells group A what to do.

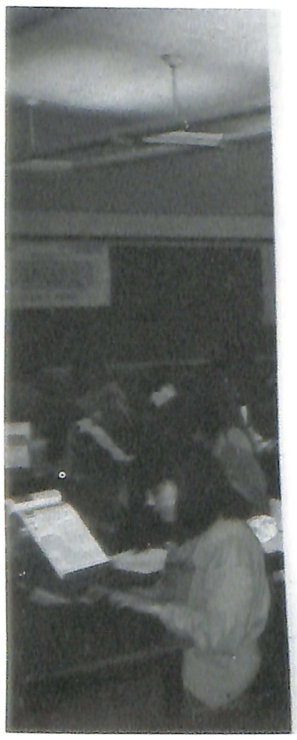

Business . . .

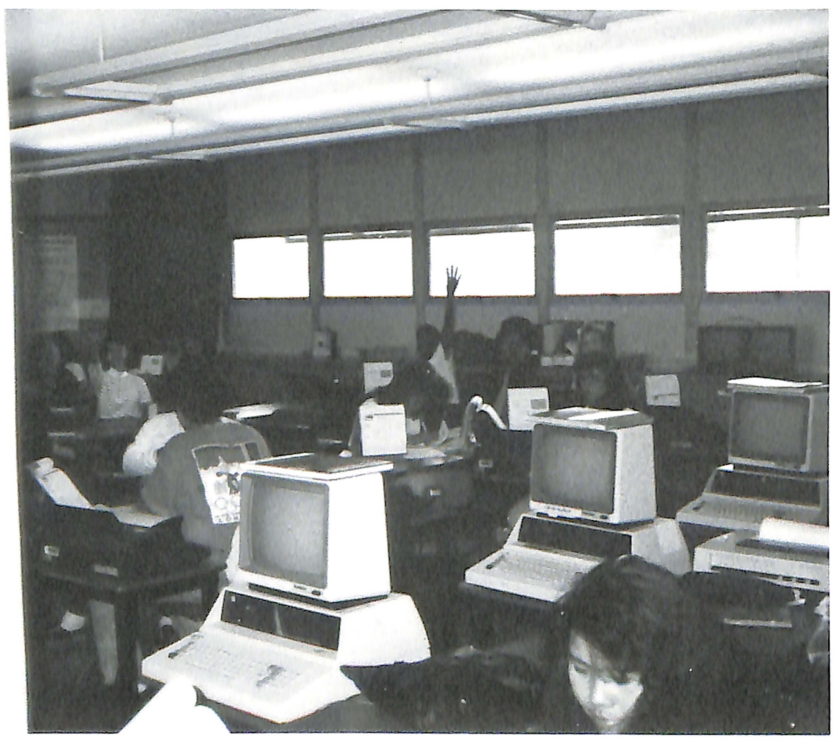

Is Business

Armijo has an excellent Business Department. Students have a choice of subjects, from typing to accounting. All classes cover a wide variety of skills and concepts that enforce your understanding of the business world. Taking business classes might even get you a part-time job in a doctor's office, for example, doing miscellaneous jobs. It all adds up to experience. This country evolves around business; it will always be here and there will always be a need for business students.

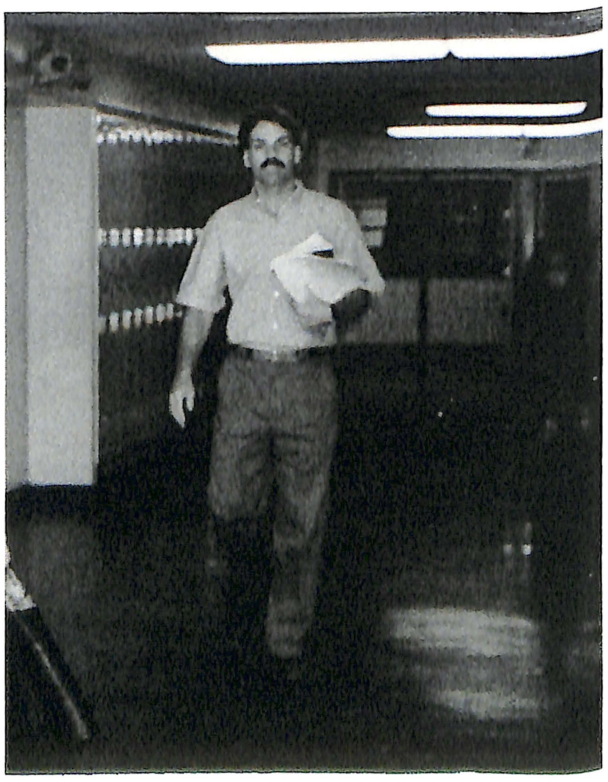

3. Students listen to Mr. Cymanski's lecture on correct typing.

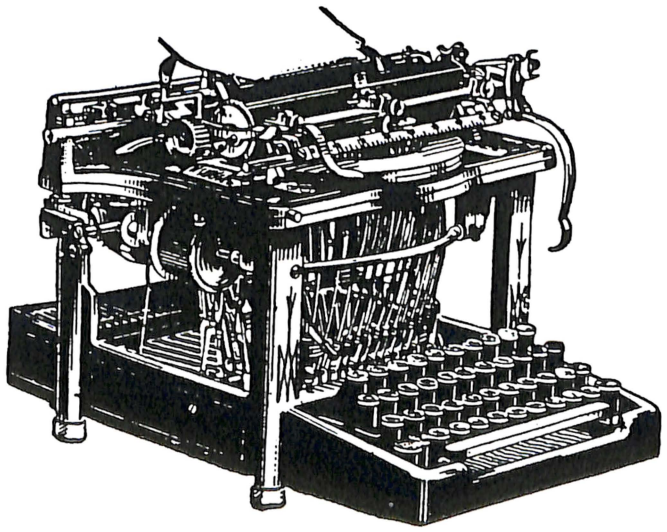

1. Some students in Mr. Gregg's ROP class are working hard to finish their assignment, while others are . . . well, look at the picture!

2. Mr. Gutowski walking back to his classroom after making a trip to the office.

4. Mrs. Mundy's class works diligently at their computers.

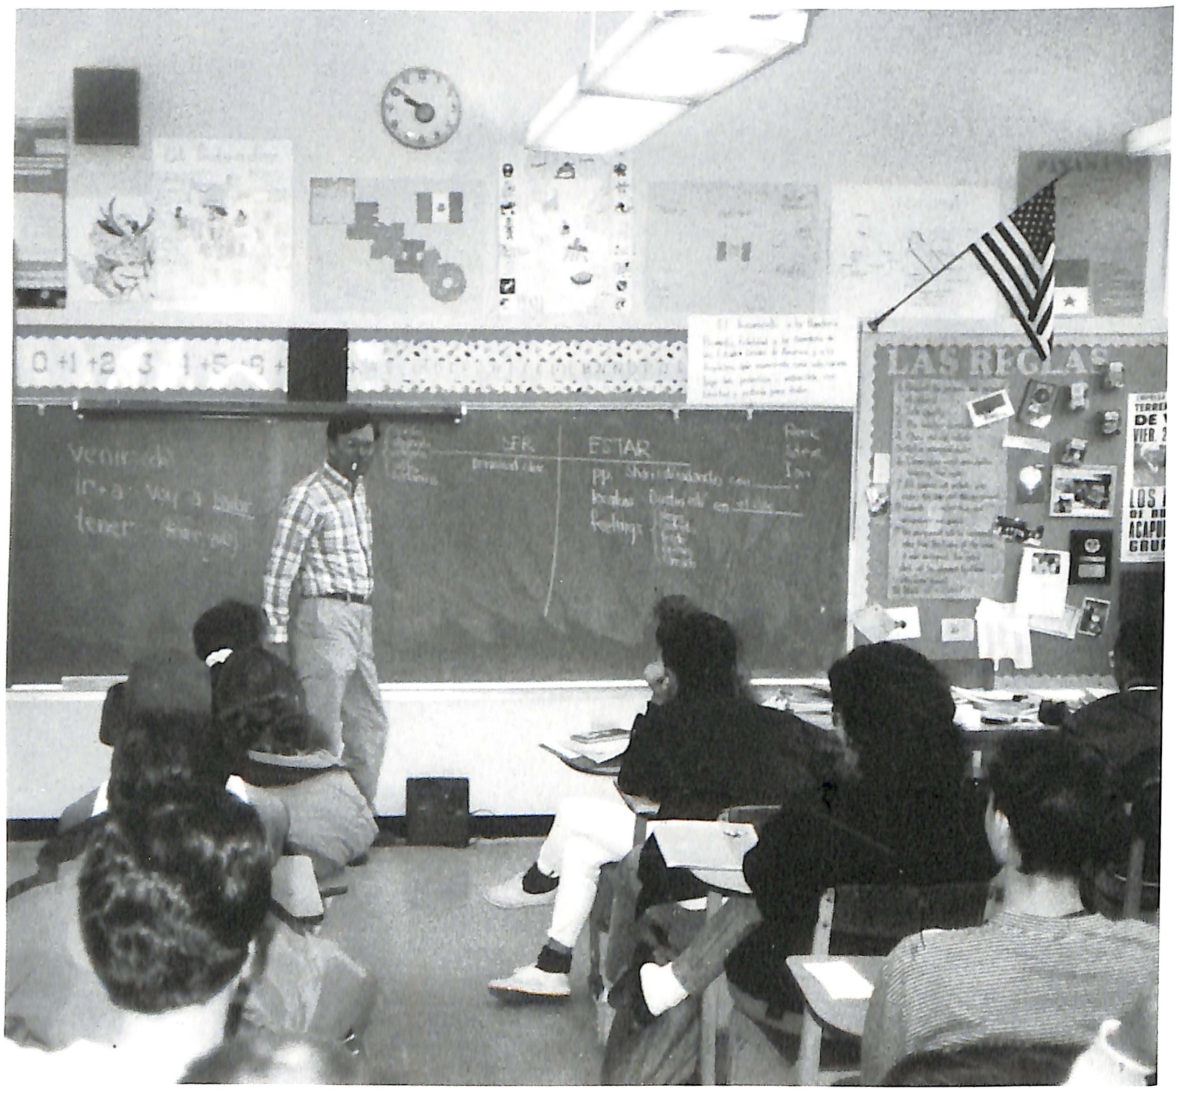

Foreign Languages

Students say Foreign Languages can be fun if teachers didn't give homework assignments. Some students say they could get interested in Social Studies, but the teachers don't give you enough time on each chapter. It takes approximately one week per chapter. Students say that's not enough time.

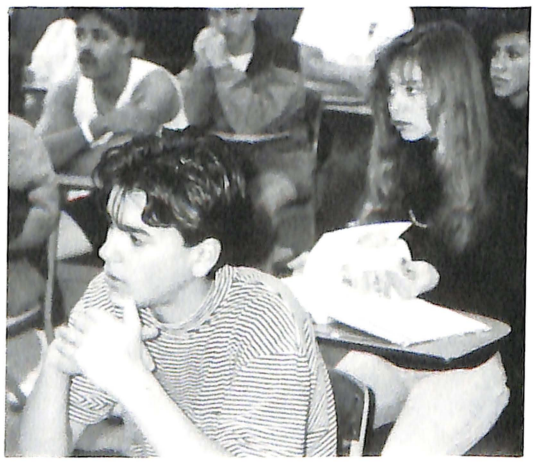

2. Trying to keep up with six classes is a challenge.

1. Mr. Carlson shows his students how to conjugate verbs.

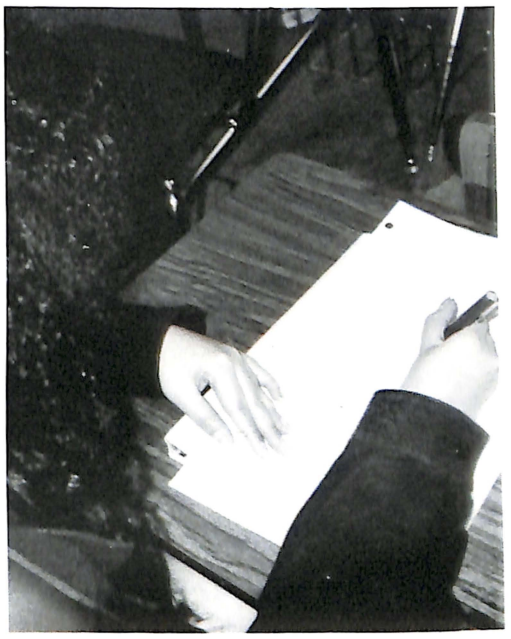

3. "Wait, are you sure that's right?"

Social Studies

1. Kelly Johnson explains the answer to her partner.

2. Working away in history class.

3. Mrs. Nunley helps one of her students with a problem.

LEADERSHIP CLASS

One of the most important classes at Armijo, the Leadership class, has various responsibilities. The many members split up into numerous committees to conquor different jobs. They run rallies, plan spirit week, and arrange mostly all of the other events during the school year. Everyone of them has to get up very early and make it to school by 7:15. They spent a lot of time during lunch and after school making sure our activities run smoothly. If it wasn't for these students, Armijo would be a very boring and dull school.

1. Jenny Sossaman and Jodi White show their spirit and hang posters all over school.

2. Mr. Harrison gives some more of his great advice. Whether anybody is listening is another story.

3. Joe Merrill spends countless hours in his office trying to plan activities.

4. Becky Canaday can't believe that the Sophomores are actually winning the class competition.

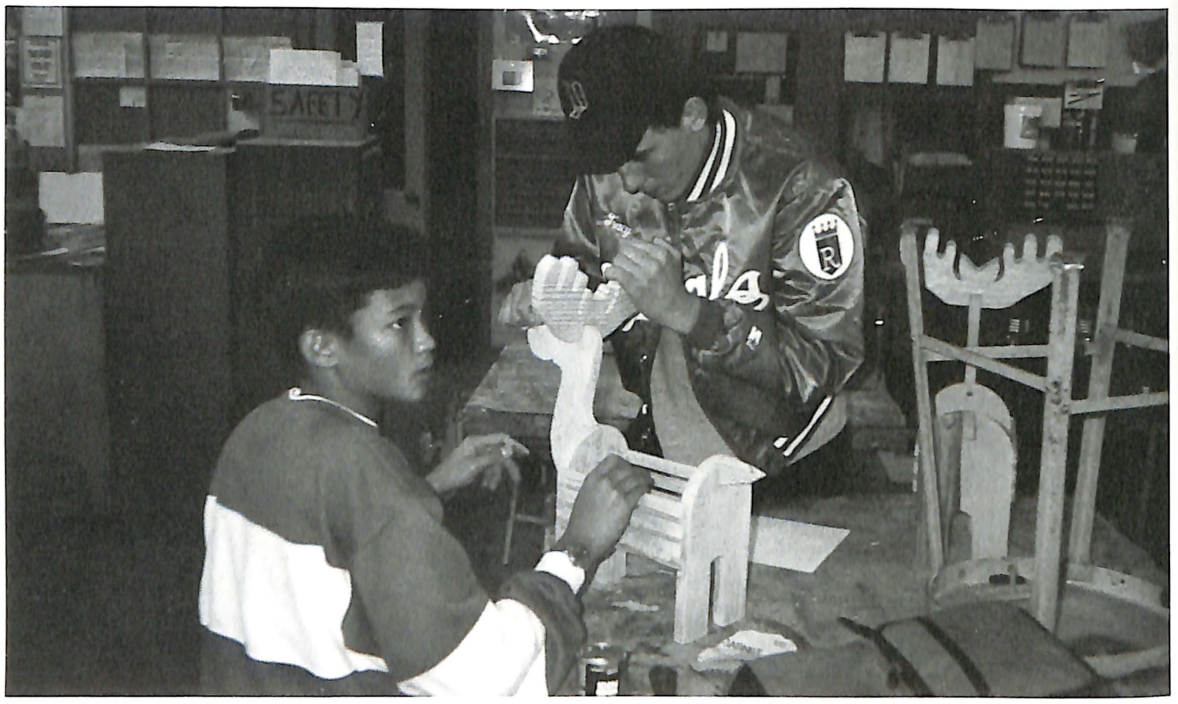

5. Mieriena Choi, Stephanie Smith, and Wendy Heacock spend many hours preparing the Senior slide show.

6. David Meny uses his artistic ability to draw posters for leadership

Armijo Industrial Arts

The program consists of electronics, woodworking and metals shop.
The electronics classes were taught by Mr. Pat Berry. There were four classes at different levels of experience. The students especially enjoyed working with the robot. The woodshop classes were taught by Mr. Chiapero, Mr. Maddalena and Mr. Tyler. In thier classes students could make anything from cabinets to chairs. Woodworking has always been a favorite among students. Mr. Tyler also teaches the metals classes. Students learn to become skilled welders. They are also taught other metal shaping techniques.

1. Charles Haggerty and Tracy Goetchius make a reindeer out of wood.

2. Dave Lopez sands his bookend to a smooth finish.

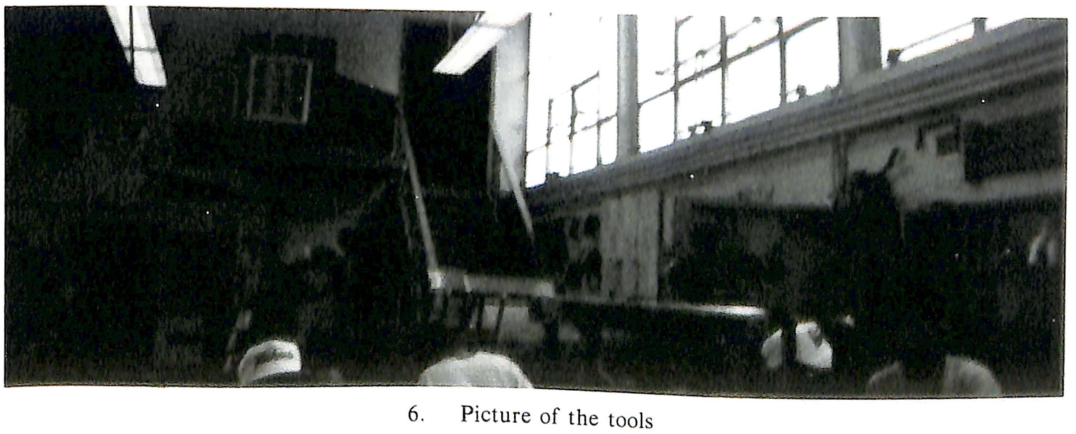

3. Pat Woods begins a new project.

4. Jose doing what he does best, filing

5. Steve Hopkins is making a mark on his project

6. Picture of the tools

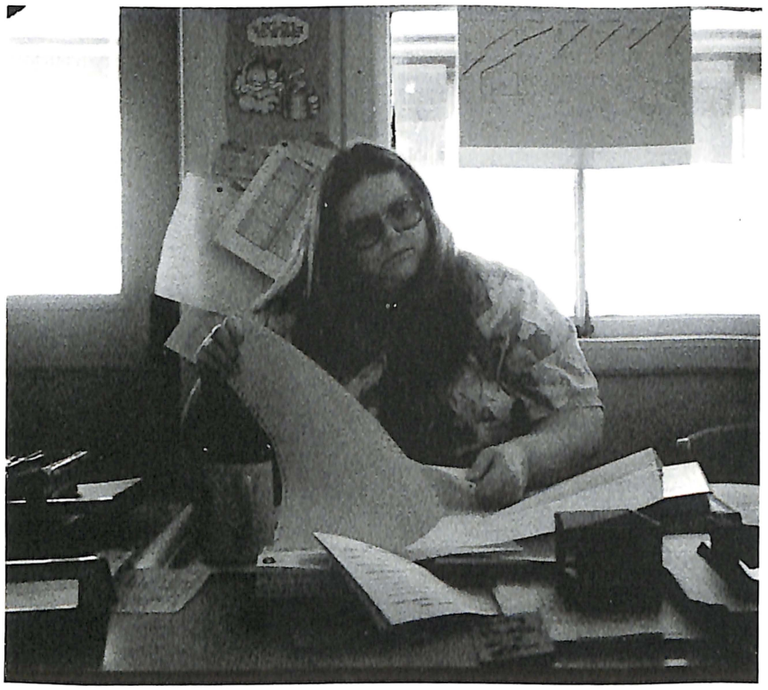

7. Baldomero hard at work filing

YEARBOOK

Yearbook is not your run-of-mill, kickback, slumming class. Yes, we have lots of fun BUT!! there are those pictures to be taken, layouts to be graphed, and last but not least those dreaded DEADLINES!!! ARGH!! We pull our hair out everyday, starve ourselves at lunch, and slave through weekends to meet those deadlines. But it is all worth every minute of work when the book is finally published and delivered to our school. Opening the boxes and peering through those first colorful pages brings a sigh of relief. We feel a glow of pride to know "We did this, we made this yearbook."

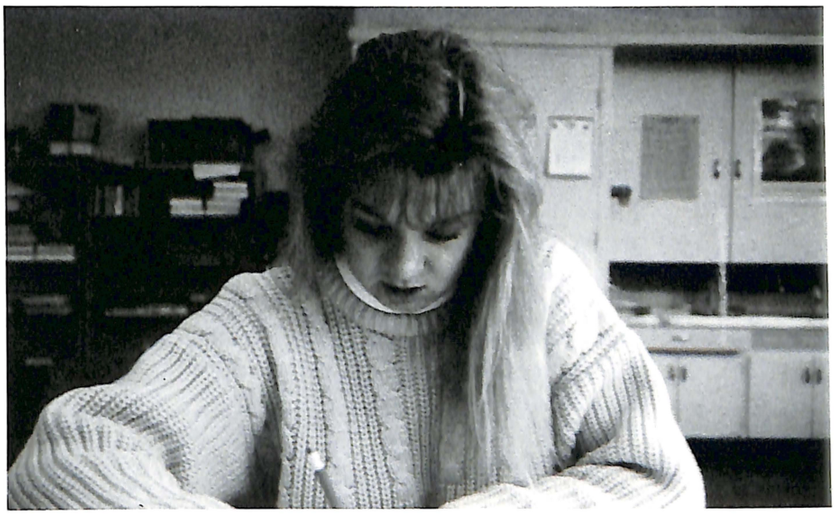

The staff would like to thank the advisor, Ms. Ash for the years that she has put in working on the yearbooks and dedicate this edition to her.

Marcia Huggins, Greg Qatsha, and Brian Wear are folding the mailers which are sent out each year.

Maren Depue tries to decide which picture to use for her layout.

Putting the labels on the mailers is a drag for Derek Schwarzbach and Alicia Reginato.

Jammar Carelock creates a layout.

Its been a great year knowing you,
we'll miss you. Brian Romanik

MS. ASH,
YOU'RE A GREAT
TEACHER AND WERE SORRY TO
SEE YOU STEP
DOWN. YOU'VE HELPED US THROUGH
IT ALL AND MORE
THANKS,
Greg Qatsha

Ms. Ash
Hi Ms. Ash,
I really couldn't have survived Super Sen.
if not for your support. Thanks you for everything. We'll still need your advice next year — Jason R.
you have been a wonderful teacher and I wish you the best of luck in the future
Jammar Carelock

Ms. Ash,
I'm glad I had a chance to be on the yearbook staff for two years. I knew you're glad this is your last year. Take care

YOU ARE A REALLY NICE TEACHER
AND I'M GOING TO MISS
YOU SO GOOD LUCK AND TAKE
CARE
Jammar Carelock

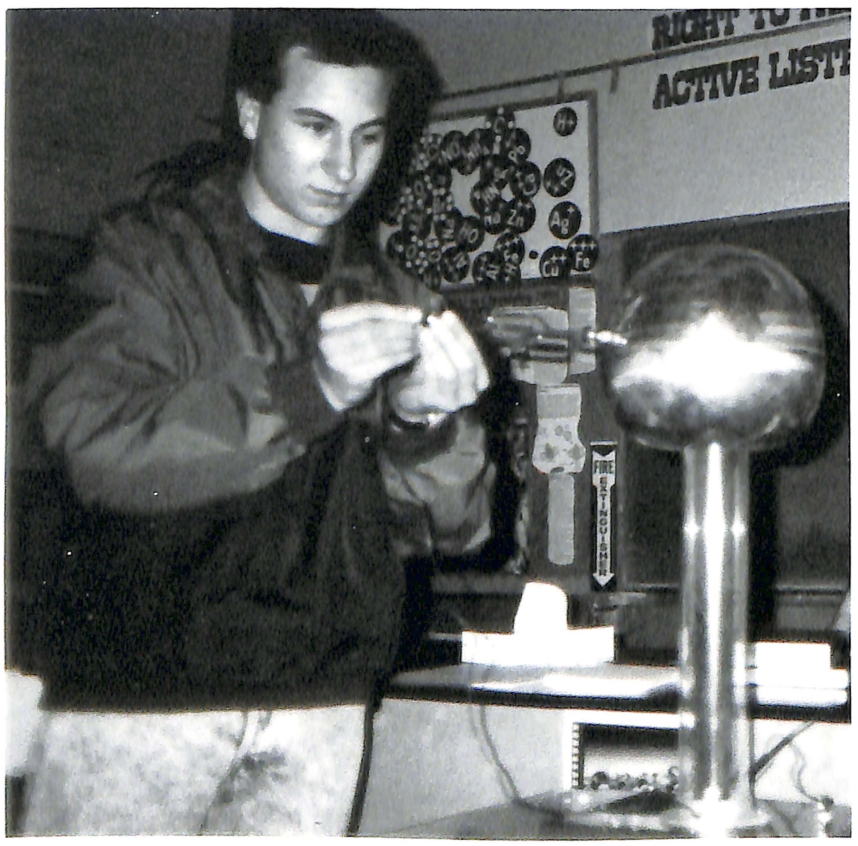

Miss. Ash
I've learned alot from
you. You're a great teacher!
Thanx 4 sharing us how much fun we could have
in class!
Brian Wear
It's been great having you for a teacher. It's been fun.

VEIRD SCIENCE

With the great teachers that Armijo has, the science classes have become very popular. Students have a chance to do more experiments that they are interested in. They dissect pigs, dissect frogs, start fire-balls, burn metals, and even design on computers. They learn many safety tips while receiving expert advise. The students can now combine all that writing with hands on experiments. They con use their creativity in making experiments and make their own observations.

1. Mr. Wells tries to convince a student that Os doesn't stand for the Osmonds.

2. Jeff Briltz experiments with static electricity.

3. Marty Carr prepares his experiment.

4. Brian Rovnanik using a computer! What is this world coming to?

5. Aaron Hakenen carefully adds the next chemical to his solution.

6. Brent Donellan lights the Bunsen Burner in preparation for his experiment.

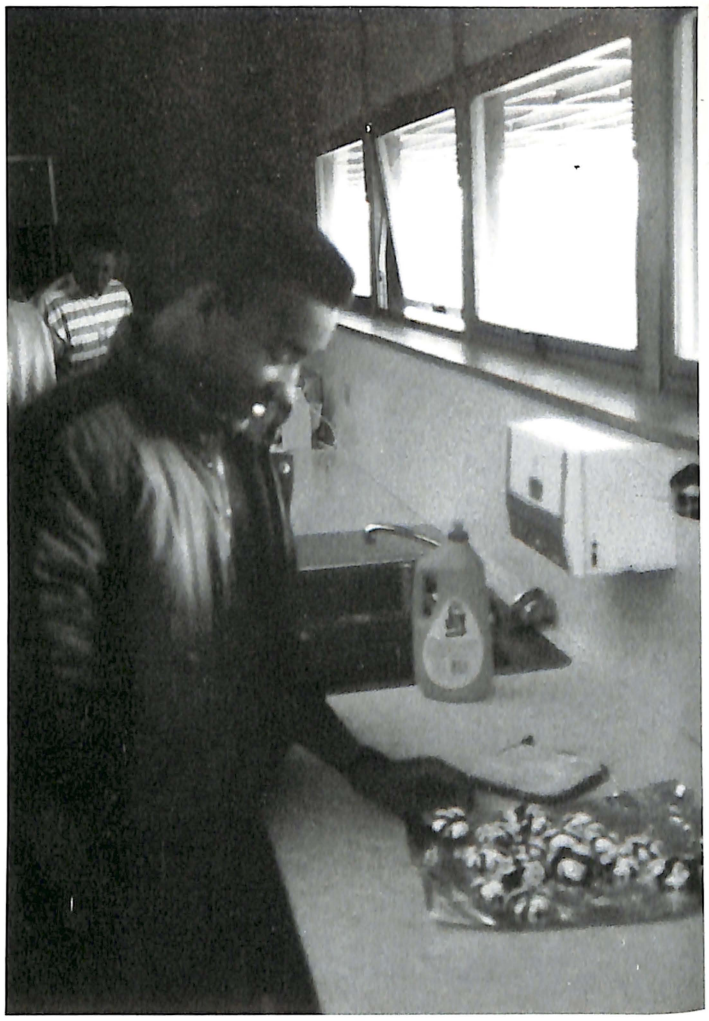

Home Economics

Armijo's "Frugal Gourmets"

There is a wide range of classess in Armijo's Home Economics Department; from foods to sewing to parenting. Whatever your choice, you are sure to learn something. Warning—there IS work in these classes! As Mrs. Stasi stresses throughout the first weeks of her foods classes, "You must eat what you cook!" (That might be a little scary at times!!!)

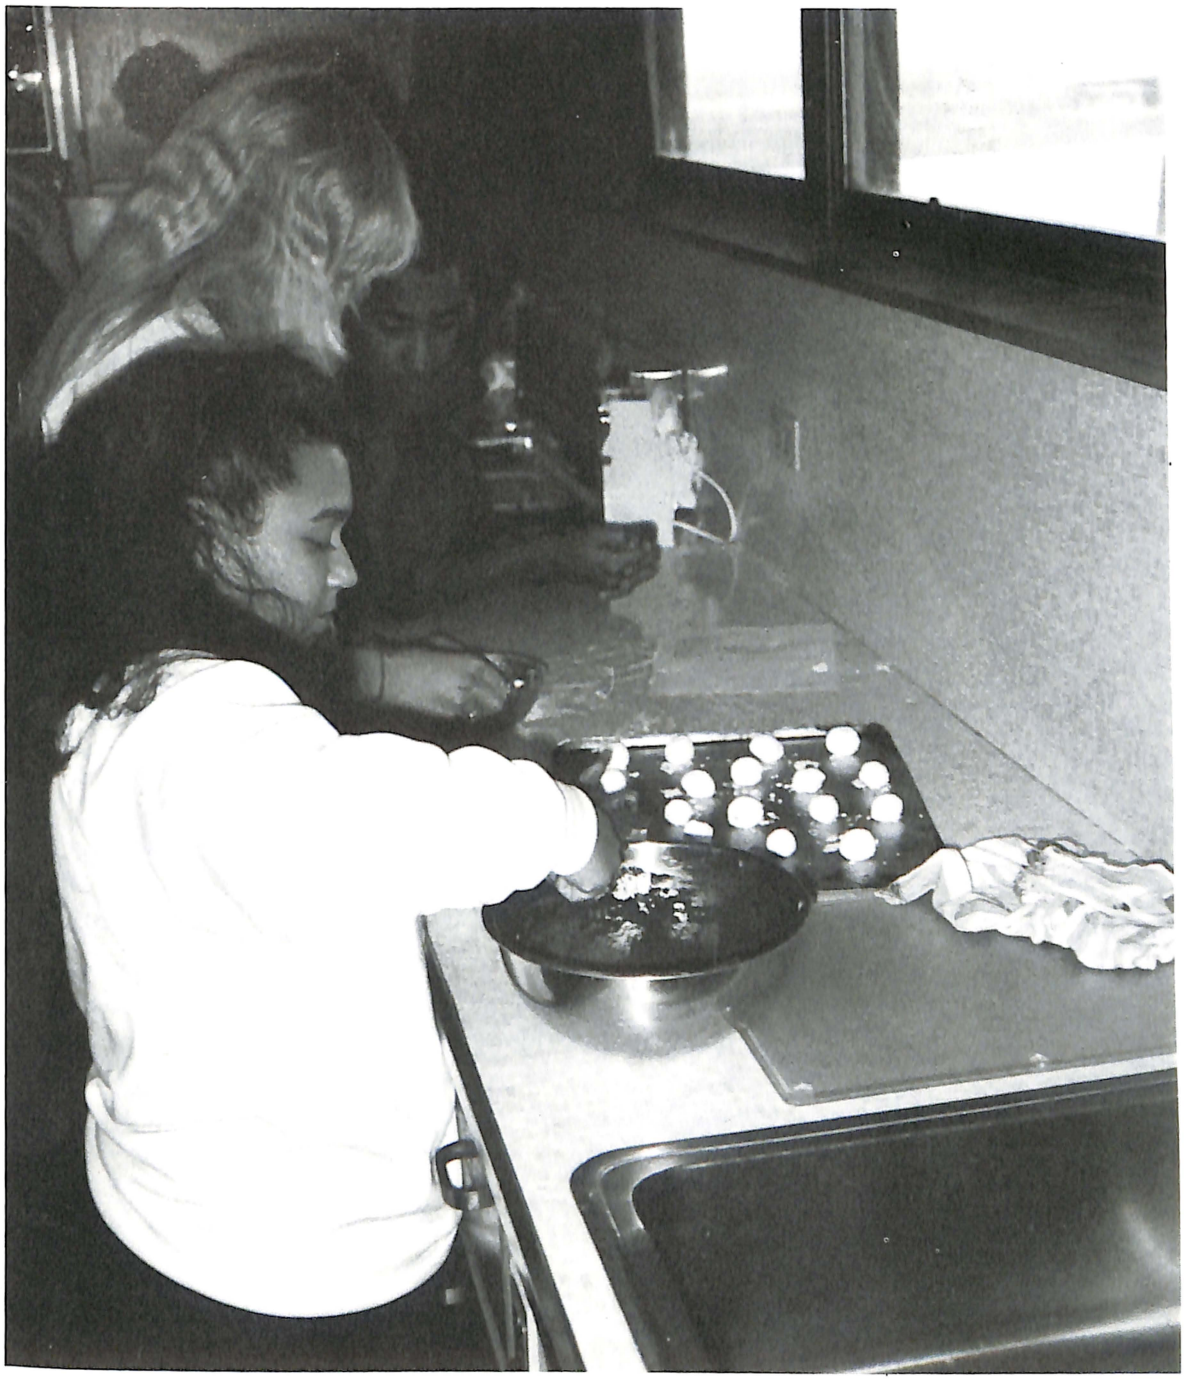

1. Carrie Dennis putting the freshbaked cookies on a piece of foil while Becky Lentz watches.

2. Robert King "sneaks" a cookie while no one is looking.

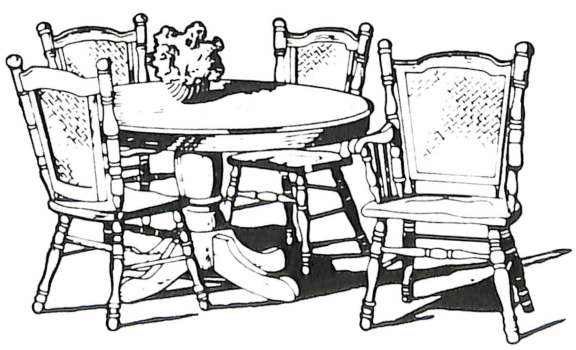

3. John Miller and Jason Zielenski clean up their mess.

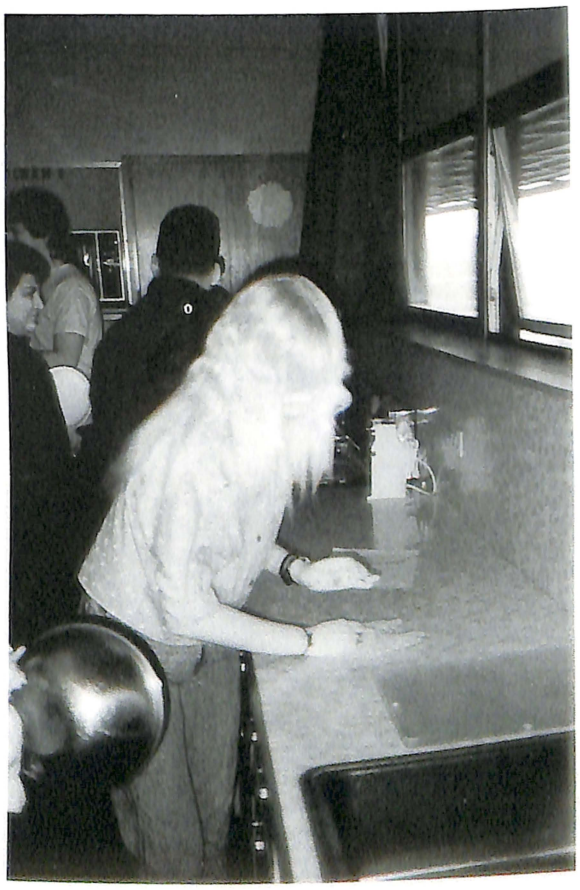

4. Rosa Martinez dipping the cookies in a dry chocolate mixture before baking.

5. Mrs. Stasi giving instructions about the day's assignment.

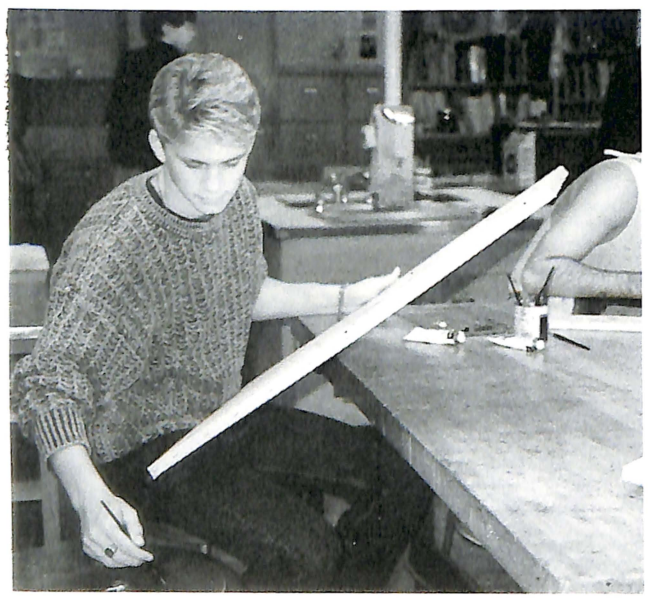

6. Jerina Collins looks like she's having fun wiping off the counters.

THE MANY

4. Marcus Moreno sees his art as something to fall back on if his music career never sets off.

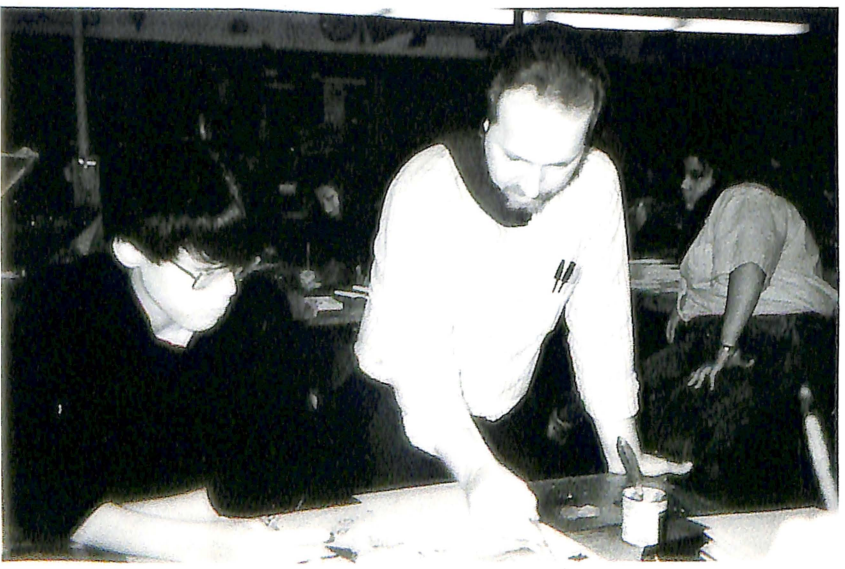

1. Brad Wong concentrates very hard in deciding what to draw next; imagination is the key.

2. Tim Hockney takes his art very seriously, and has even entered art contests before.

3. Mr. Sechler helps Jason Rogers figure out the most complimentary background color.

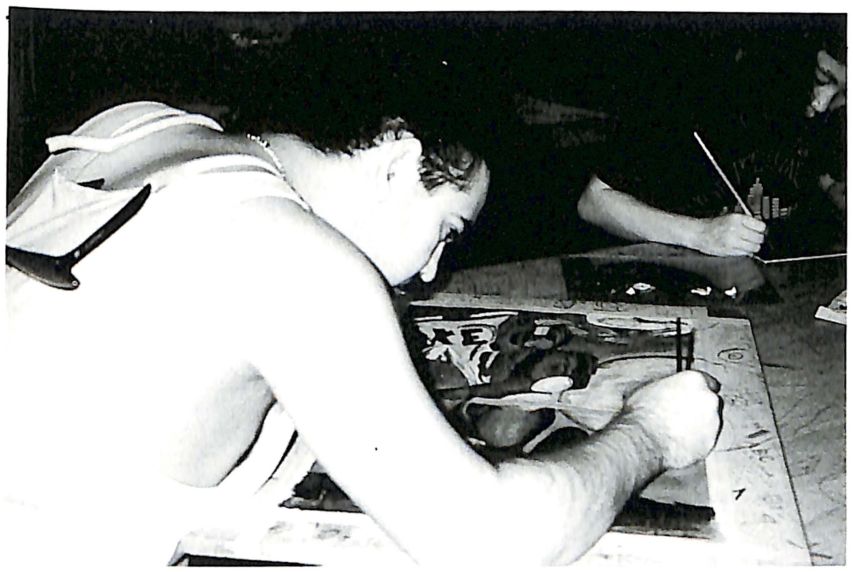

5. A group of artists in Mr. Cote's class make sketches by observing a live model.

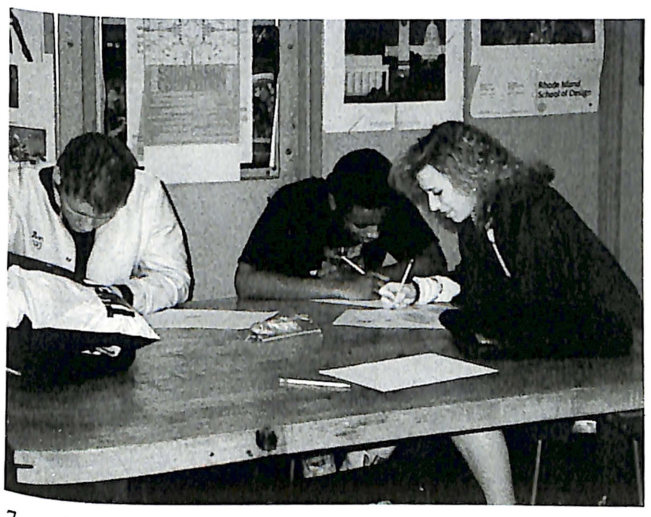

ASPECTS OF ART

6. Yannik Morales likes putting lots of color in his paintings. Here he is painting a big knight, which has no title yet.

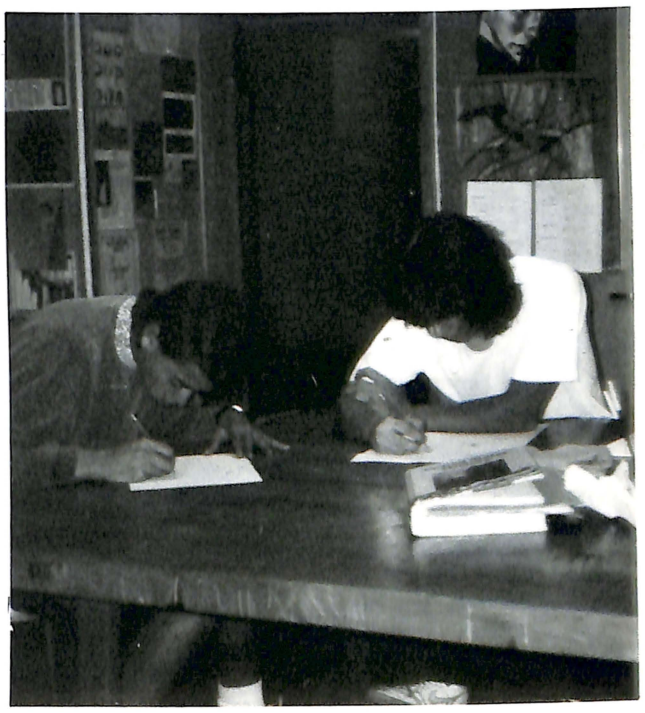

Art is a lot more than just drawing. Dance, photography, painting, sculpture, music, and graphics are many aspects of art that Armijo High students rarely see. Very talented people often go unnoticed among the Armijo High crowd. Some of the quietest, most unassuming students are accomplished artists. So keep your eyes open for the hidden talents at Armijo High; you just might be impressed!!

7. Ron Hansen, Robert Searcy, and Crissie Murray say that they work better together as a group.

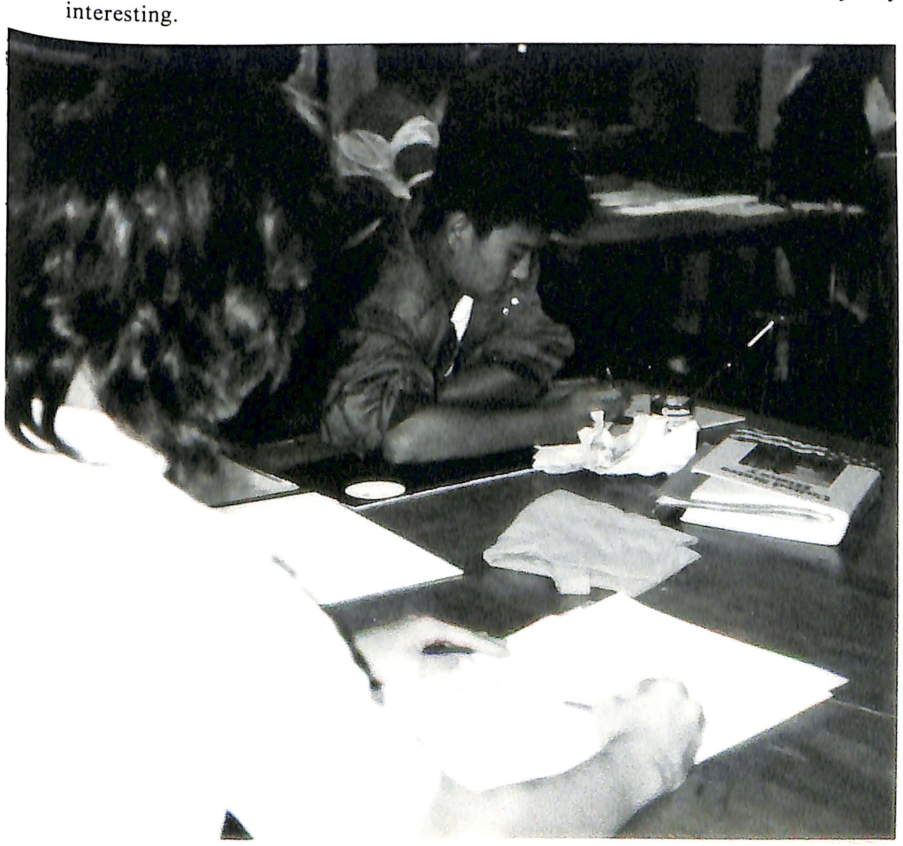

8. This girl is having a hard time getting ideas in Mr. Cote's class.

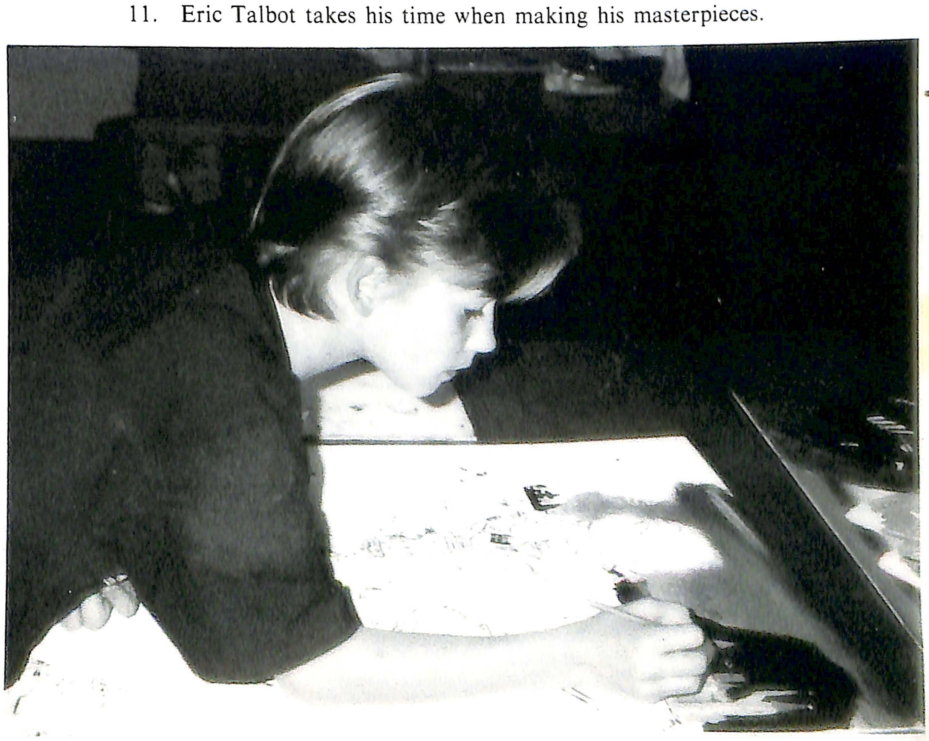

10. Terry and Brad take advantage of their time in class by perfecting their artistic talents.

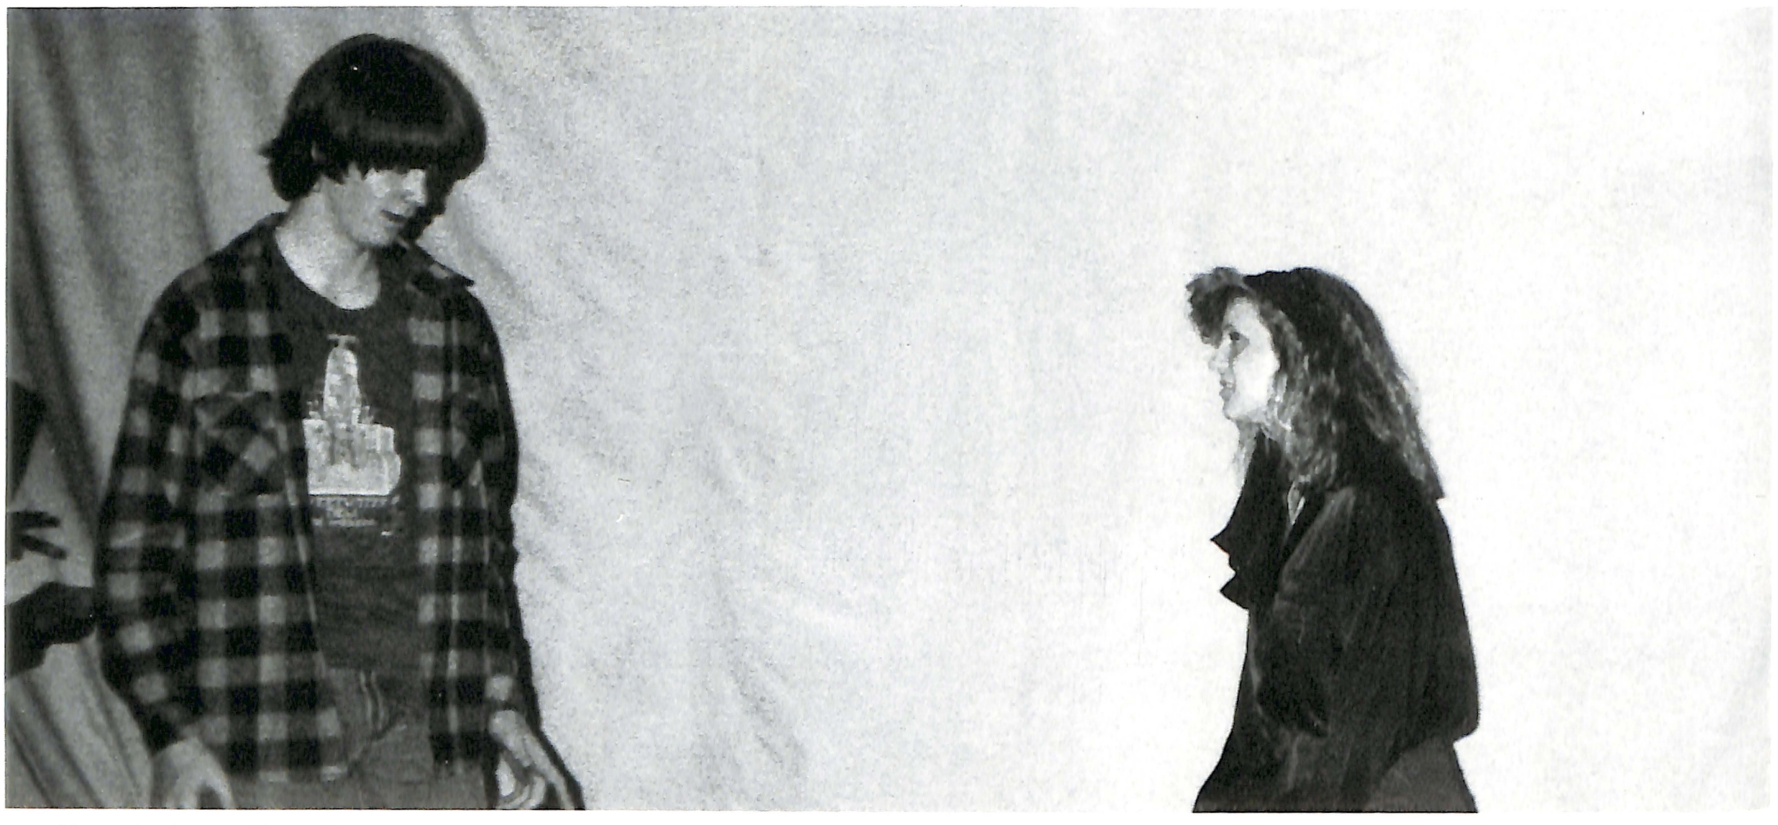

9. Terry Rickoff touches up on his drawing of a woman; he finds female anatomy very interesting.

11. Eric Talbot takes his time when making his masterpieces.

D. R. A. M. A . . .

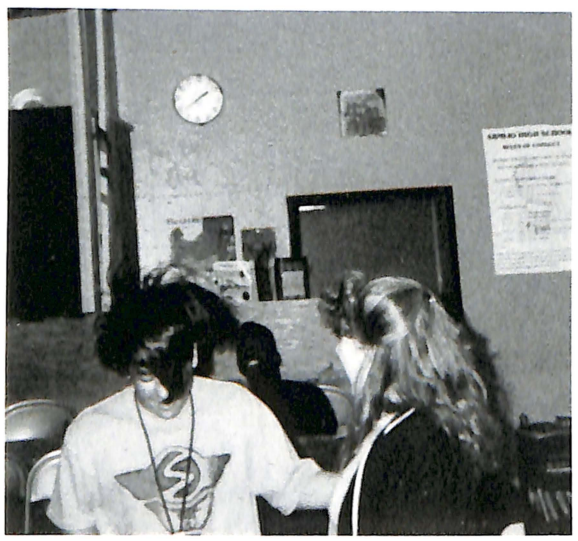

1. Nate Merritt and Megan Pouget act very well.

Drama does a lot, and has a lot of good ideas. Some of the plays Drama has done this year are; You're A Good Man Charlie Brown, A Christmas Carol, Lover's, and One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest. In class the students do Tongue twisters, put pencils in their mouths and try to talk, or just show their emotions, and do improvisation. Improvisation is where you go in front of the class and just act any way you want. When you want to come into the scene you say Freeze and then you act.

2. Jason Bowlin and Dawn Schumin do Improvisation.

3. Kelsie Chew and Jennifer Feins study the script.

4. Jennifer Feins display emotions.

5. This is where a group of people use their voice to show just how loud it can get.

3. Sonia Gutierrez, Mr. Chieleski, Gregoria Gutierrez, Martin Schellenberg, and Steve Butsko have all participated in selling trees for Earth Day.

1. This is the child the Peace Club is sponsoring. His name is Jorge Mario Rixton Ramirez and he lives in Guatemala City.

The Peace Club wants to promote the idea of diversity among people. They also want to include the environment and not just people. They would like it a lot if all nuclear weapons were disposed of. Some of the things the Peace Club has done is had a Halloween dance, sell trees, and recycle paper. They've also sponsored a child. The pictures to your right include some of their plans in recycling and having a dance with Fairfield High for Earth Day.

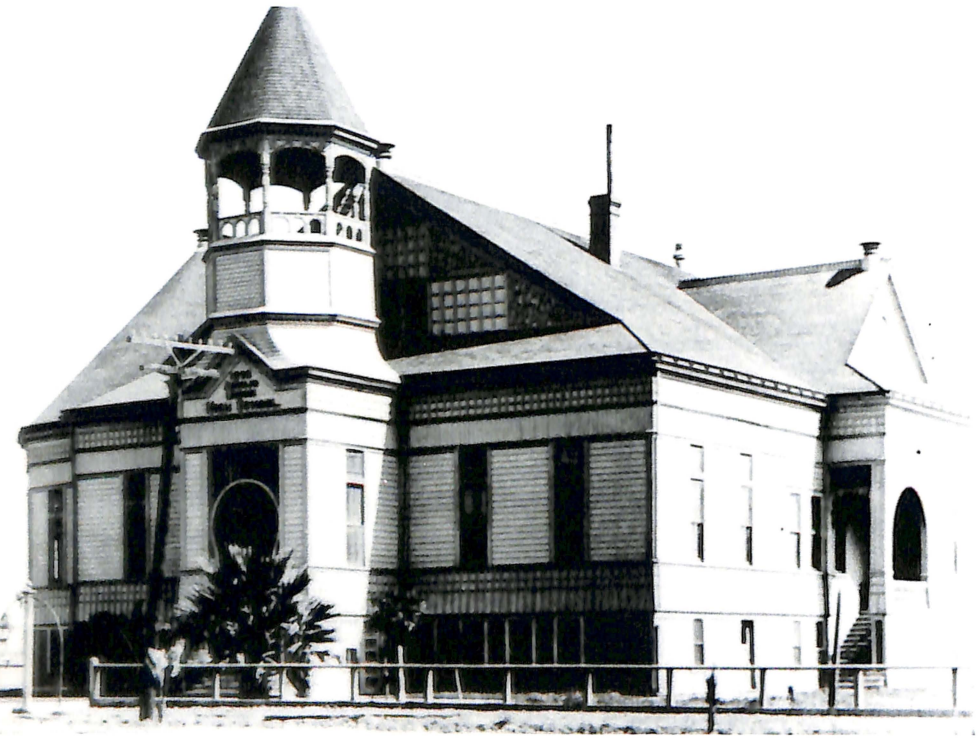

CHIEFS PROGRAM

The Chiefs class is a new class at Armijo High School. Chiefs stands for Changing History in Early Fairfield-Suisun. The objective of this class is to study California History, using the local area as a microcosm. The Indian period is spent studying the Suisun, Indians and Chief Solano. The Spanish-Mexican period concentrates on the first non-Indian settlers: José Armijo, Juan Peña, and Juan Vaca. The American Era looks at Fairfield's founder, Robert Waterman and Suisun's founder, Josiah Wing. Oral histories are also recorded with elder residents relating their recollections of the area in the early 1900's. The students also go to the elementary schools to share their knowledge of local history with the younger students using a cross-age teaching format. Lastly, the students are preparing for Armijo High School's Centennial, which will occur in 1991.

CROSS COUNTRY

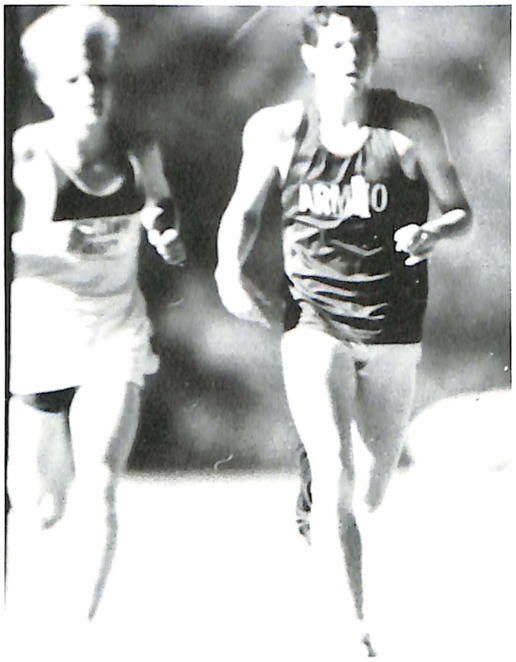

Armijo's 1989 - 90 cross country team had a wonderful year. The team consisted of six outstanding members. Cross country is a sport that takes a lot of hard work and determination.This year's team has all those qualities and more.

1. L. to R. Anita Mathis, Adam Munguia, Dessa Glavin, Nathan Pettit, Mary Redford

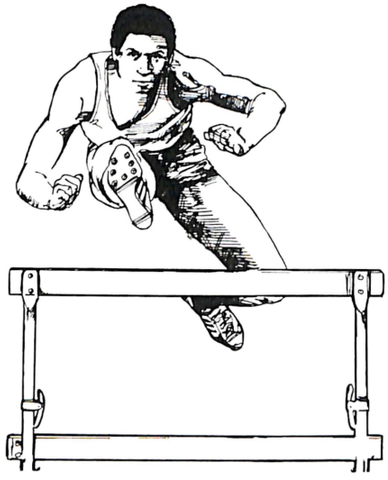

2. below L. to R. Anita Mathis, Dessa Glavin, Mary Redford

3. ABOVE: Varsity's James Felsch

This year's varsity soccer team had its best season in a long time. Led by Mr. Evans, veteran goalkeeper Jim King, and nine other seniors, Armijo cruised to a record of 9-8-1. Armijo could have easily been 14-3-1 if it wasn't for a couple of one point losses. The team has improved greatly over the last few years and has finally earned a winning season. They weren't just easy games, but instead they were a struggle. With twenty one people on the team, everyone had to play hard. This kept every game close and gave Armijo a chance to win. Since Armijo still has eleven players returning next year and Mr. Evans at the helm, look out for a M.E.L. title.

2. Jorge Torres uses one of his many moves to open a shot attempt.

This year's junior varsity soccer team had a great season. Led by Mr. Ortiz, they fought to a 7-3-5 record and tied for first in M.E.L. Every game was close and exciting, as shown by the five ties. Despite having key players moved to the varsity team, they kept their composure and cruised to a winning season. Everyone teamed well and gave 100% during games and during practice. The junior varsity team was very motivated this year and is determined to improve next year.

2. Reed Gomes beats two defenders to shoot and SCORE!

3. Whether it is football or soccer, Mike Garver doesn't need pads.

4. Reed Gomes uses his powerful leg to score on a penalty kick.

5. Meno Espinosa sprints around a Vallejo defender to attempt a shot.

6. As David Finlinson throws the ball in, the team looks on.

Practices and Plays

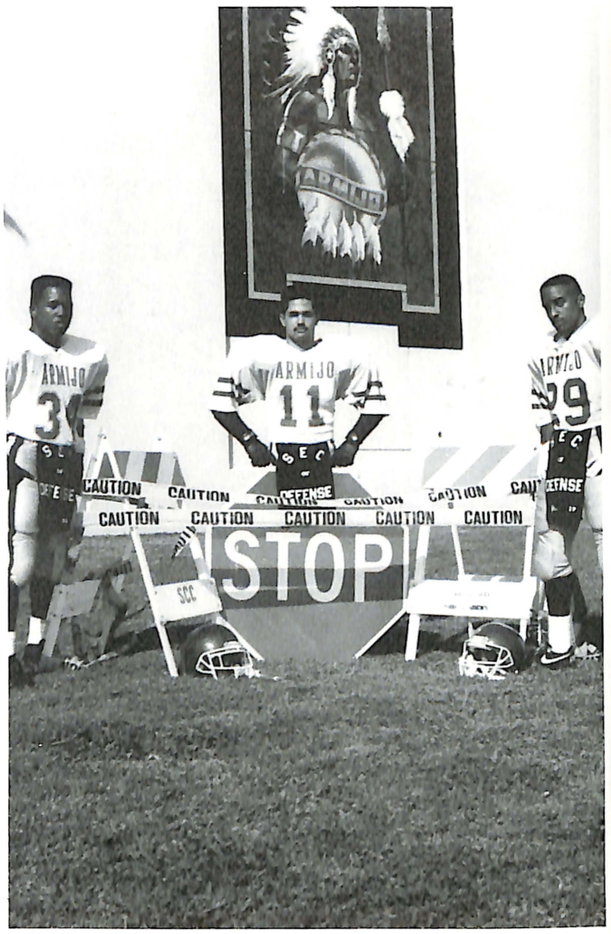

1. Varsity does their warmups before a game.

MEL CHAMPS

The 89-90 Armijo Boys Basketball team was one of the best teams in years. Sophomore A.J. Rollins was the shot-blocking monster in the middle. Jerome Carelock had a variety of moves and was one of Armijo's best scorers. Brian Clark was another big man who also had a soft shot. Jin Oh was the long range bomber of the team and Robert Searcy kept everyone else happy at point guard.

Jim King and Marty Carr were excellent subs, and two other returning seniors included a possible All-League selection in Carl Thomas and a devastatingly quick Dean Moore. Juniors Tony Boggs, Chris Lindsey, Marlon Olney, and Senior Robert Searcy helped out as reserves. This was one of the best years for the team and they showed great potential for the upcoming year.

IVAN COLLIER

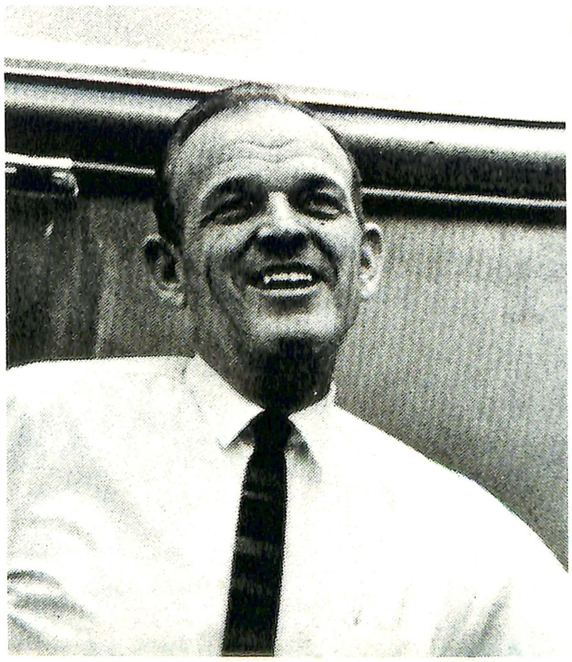

We lost a valuable part of Armijo High School on December 6, 1989. That valuable part was Ivan Collier. Mr. Collier dedicated his life to teaching at Armijo and he often said "loved every minute of it." This dedication didn't end when he retired either, he looked foward to coming back and working after he retired. In fact, when Mr. Collier was in the hospital after his heart attack, he wanted to tell Mr. Petty he was sorry he wouldn't be in for awhile. Maybe Mr. Collier stayed on longer than he should have, his poor health was no secret, but here was a person who was good at his job and was proud. Like that great and aged athlete, he wanted one more season. The kids loved Mr. Collier, plain and simple, that was the fact. You could talk to him and he would listen, if you wanted advice, it was always sound. At a recently celebrated A.H.S. reunion, guess who everyone wanted to know about? That's right, Mr. Collier. What's he up to? The perfect question, because Mr. Collier was always up to something.

Our highly successful ROTC program was begun by Mr. Collier his first year at Armijo. That year was 1956. He was a student senator, and club advisor. He taught every class in the social science department and also served as the chairman. He also taught English. Most importantly of all, he was a good role model and will never be forgotten. Goodbye Mr. Collier and thank you.

In Memory of Jeff Adamick

Dear Jeff,

Sometimes words alone are too difficult to describe our true feelings, but we hope this letter can express some of the feelings we have for you. You are dearly missed by everyone and have touched our lives in many special ways. There are so many memories of you that we all have; your never ending desire to suceed, to always be the best at whatever you tried, your fun loving personality and unforgettable laugh that made everyone feel good, and the love and care you have for your family and friends.

Although it is difficult to understand at times, you are still with us and are still helping us, just as you always have. You will always be a part of our lives and will never be forgotten. May you be at God's side forever.

We Love You!

Chores We Hate To Do

CHORES—what a disgusting word! You come home from a long day at school; you've been thinking about that last piece of chocolate cake, and all you want to do is sit down, flip on the tube, and eat. But do you? Of course not! The minute you come through the door, your mom starts yelling at you to clean up your messy, smelly room. So you go along with her in hopes that maybe she'll stop. You clean your room and then she hands you a long list of CHORES for you to do and you start yelling "No way mom—I'm not doing all this. Tell Jimmy to do some of it!!" Then mom goes on saying, "I'm sorry son, but you are older and you have more responsibilities." Sound familiar? Thought so . . .

A few friends relax, eat lunch, and make plans for the weekend.

WHO TOOK THE COOKIE??

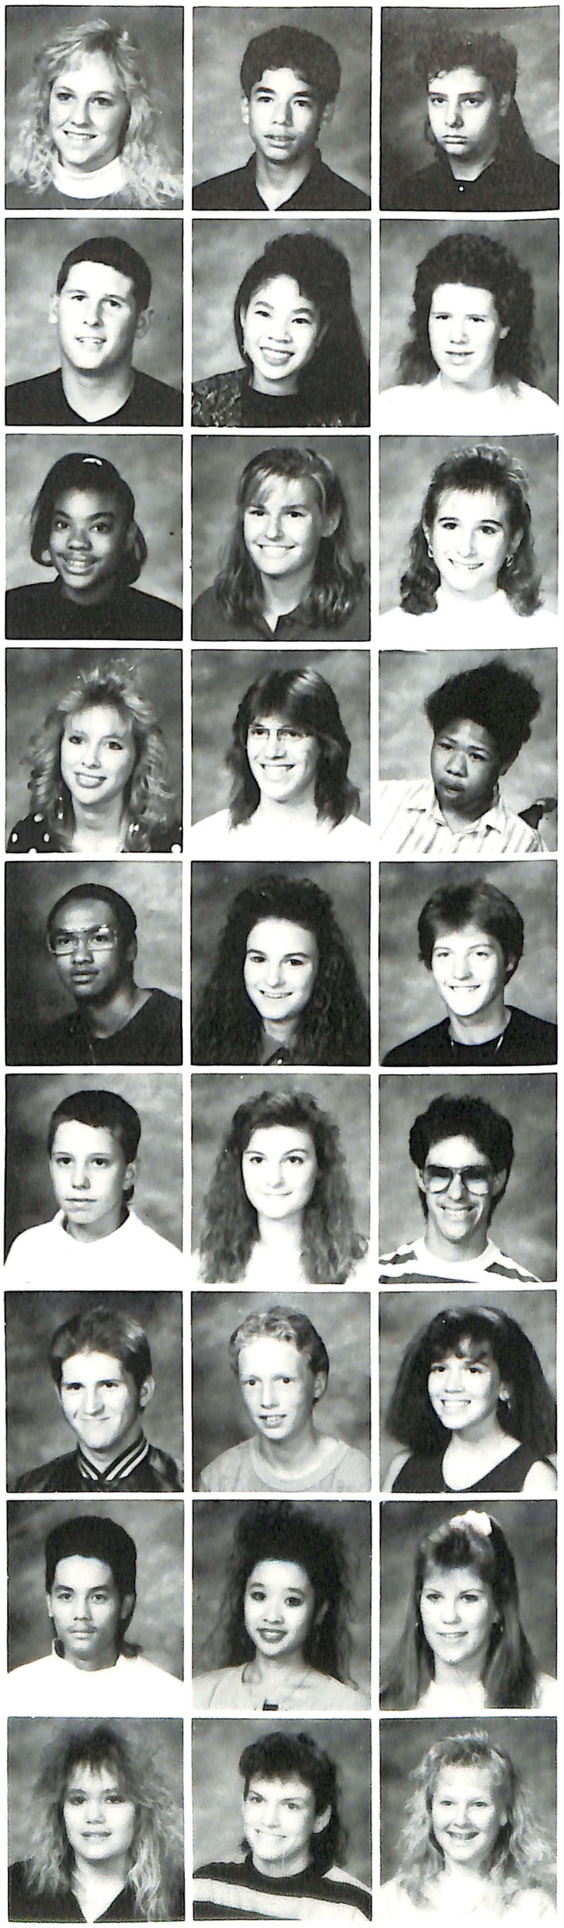

1. Armijo was missing a cookie from the cookie jar. Alicia and Derek were assigned the task of finding it. They encountered suspicious Colin Henish in the hall, but he said, "Naw man, I ain't got it, I was just going down to buy one. But I saw Nate Braun hanging around the cookie jar." . . .

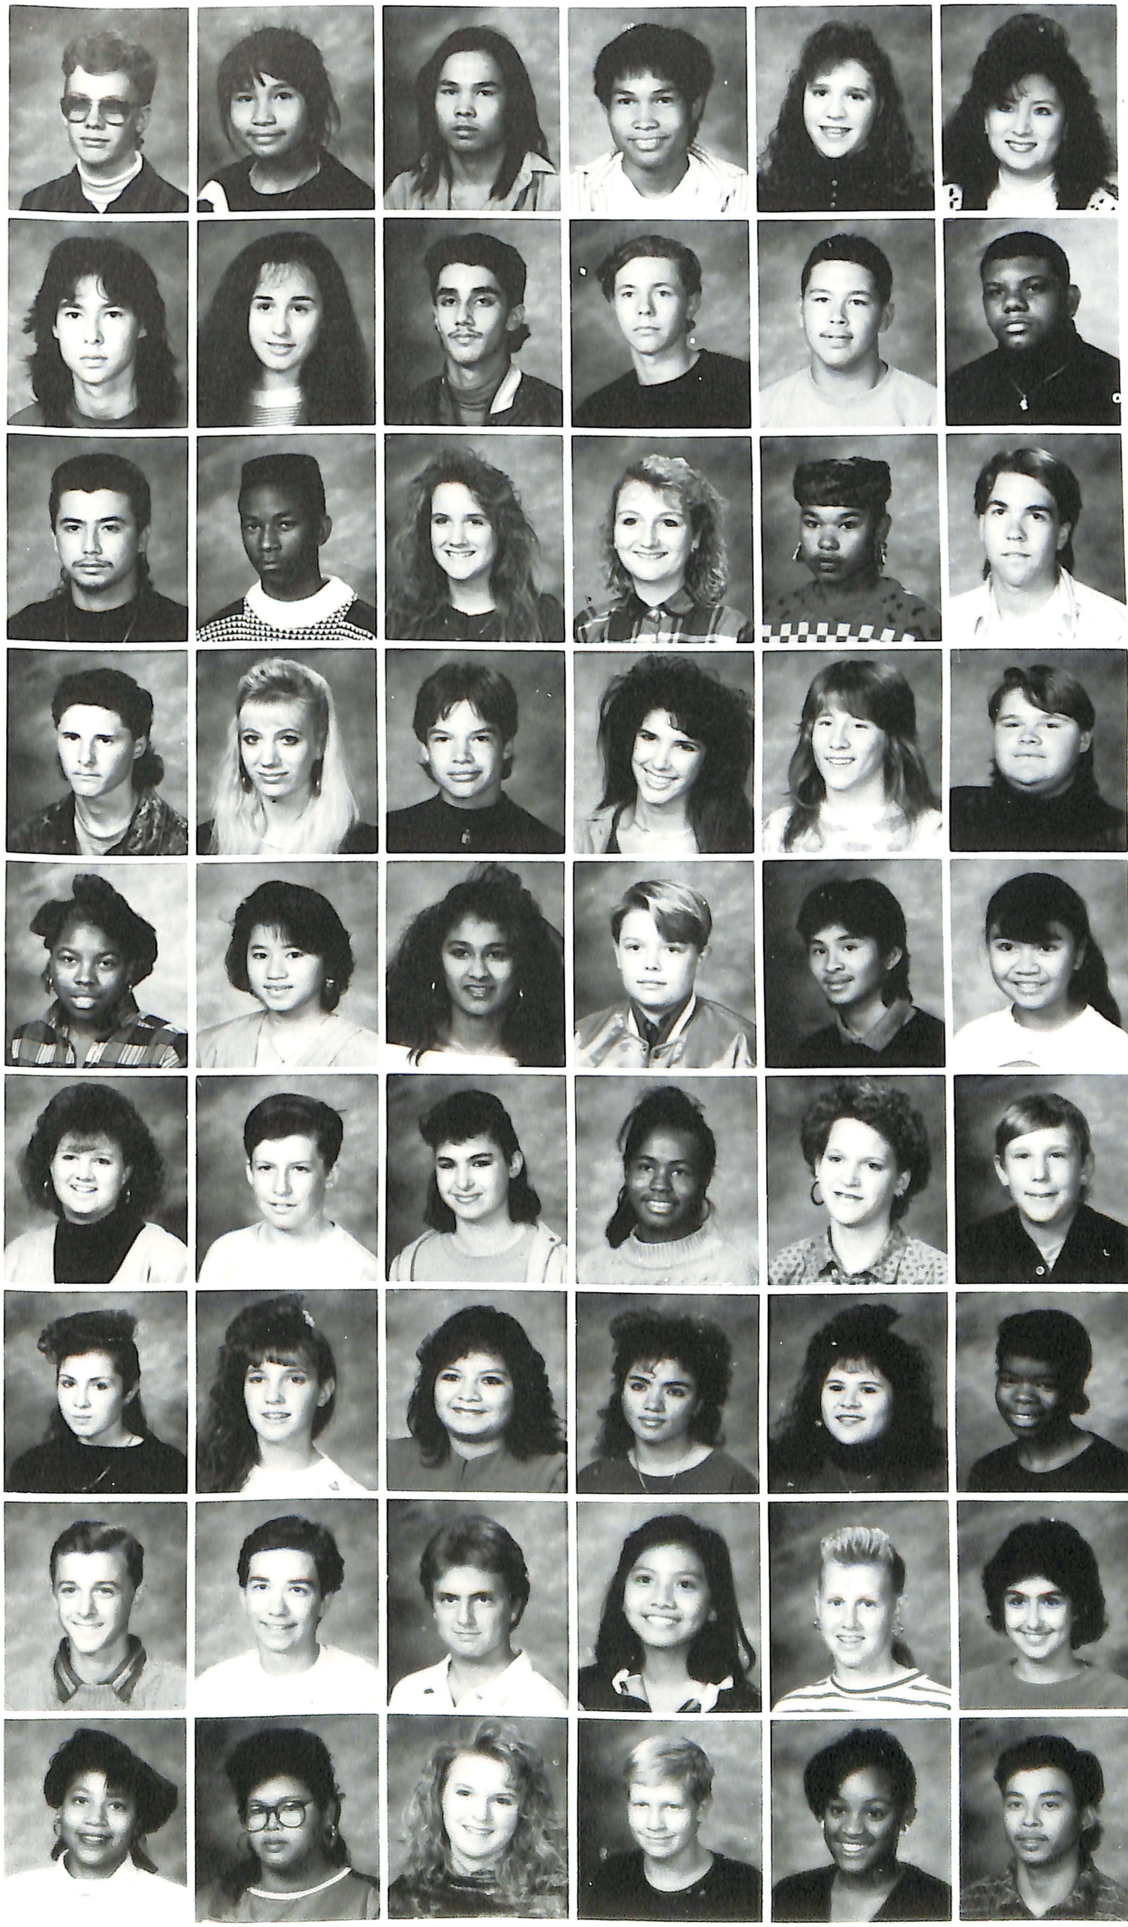

2. They then confronnted Nate, but he only pointed to Bubba with an accusing finger. Bubba denied it all, of course. Then he mentioned that he noticed Chris Bradanick had some chocolate on his chin, no longer than 15 minutes ago . . . .

3. After many hours of tedious research they caught up to Chris. He was hiding in the corner of typing class (they knew it was a cover). He proceeded to deny it all and claimed that the only thing on his chin was his girlfriend's brown lipstick. They searched him and found nothing. Back to square one for Alicia and Derek. Until . . .

SENIOR STRESS

Everyday 'we' the students of Armijo High school, put up with this horrible thing called 'STRESS'. It not only affects us, but the teachers too. For the SENIORS, STRESS is an everyday thing. S.A.T.'s, Proms, Senior trip, and keeping up our credits, are just half of what we have to worry about. Our social thinking/life have to be paid attention to also. Realizing that this is the last year for this high school to call home. The 4 years that you attend Armijo, you feel a kind of an attachment toward this school we would call 'HELL' at times. But we've learned that things change and people mature. So goodbye for now, and goodluck to you all in the future.

CONTINUATION OF THE COOKIE MYSTERY

1. They saw Steve Frith coming out of the library with a look of "Oh ——!" when he saw them. So they knew he knew something. He said he heard Lewis Brochard and Alyce Bearsley conspiring together.

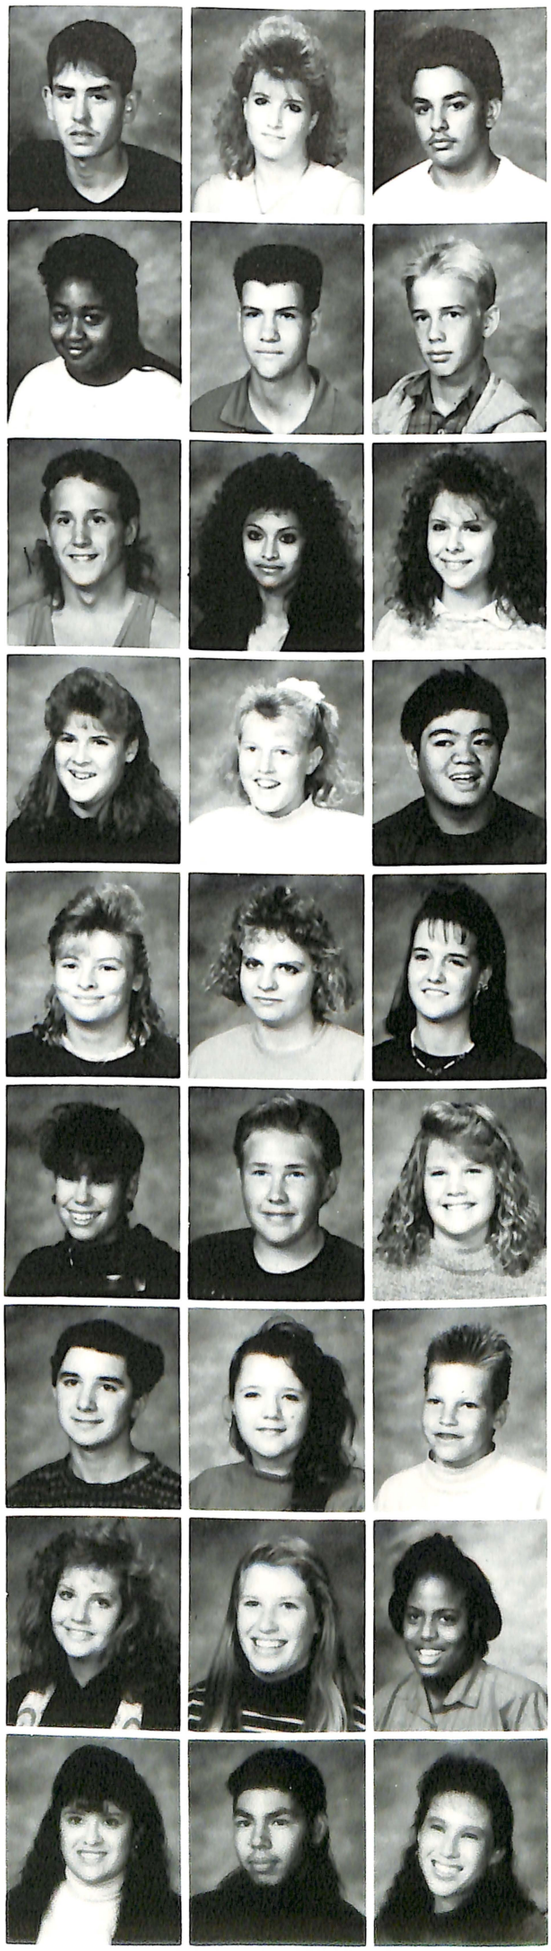

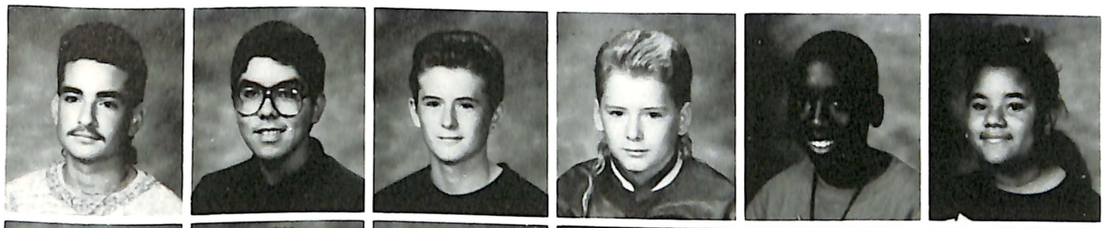

2. "What cookie??", Alyce inquired, while innocently batting her eyes."I don't know what you're talking about.", said Lewis, protecting his woman. Well, needless to say, Alicia and Derek were quite baffled with the whole mystery and were about to turn in their badges, until Lewis exclaimed . . .

3. "I saw you and Mike Wright eating a cookie earlier!!", pointing to Derek. Alicia gasped, how could her own beloved partner, now ex-partner, do this to her, to the whole force! Images of Derek in jail flashed through her mind, she began to feel faint watching Derek and Mike foolishly smiling.
"I don't know what came over us.", Derek sheepishly explained. But at least now the case was solved. In the meantime now Derek and Mike are spending three hard months in the TARDY TANK!!!

UNDERCLASSMEN AT WORK

Today's underclassmen have a sick sense to study. They go to all cost to earn that wonderful "A". They cheat, copy, plagerize, and even study. Robin Dorsette, above, uses the traditional way to earn an "A", she studies. Below, the typical underclassmen puts all her English skills together to study those cliffnotes. The underclassmen, today, are trying hard to live up to the senior's expectations. They do whatever it takes to go over the top.

We all have our memories of the first day of high school. Some good, some bad, and some that were so terrible we might too shy to talk about it in front of our friends.

What is it really like to walk through the doors of Armijo High School after spending the last two years in the small world of Junior High School?

Well, the best way to answer this is to ask the freshmen. A few said it was great (who knows if they were telling the truth or not); others thought it was terrible; but the majority thought it wasn't as bad as they thought it would be.

We all have our own opinions of the first day of high school, but once that first, terrible, horrifying day is over we can relax, enjoy, and anticipate all the wonderful times that go along with high school.

Two members of the Olympic Ski Team, Brian Rovnanik and Dave Meny, pause to have their picture taken before making their way down the diamond run at Kirkwood.

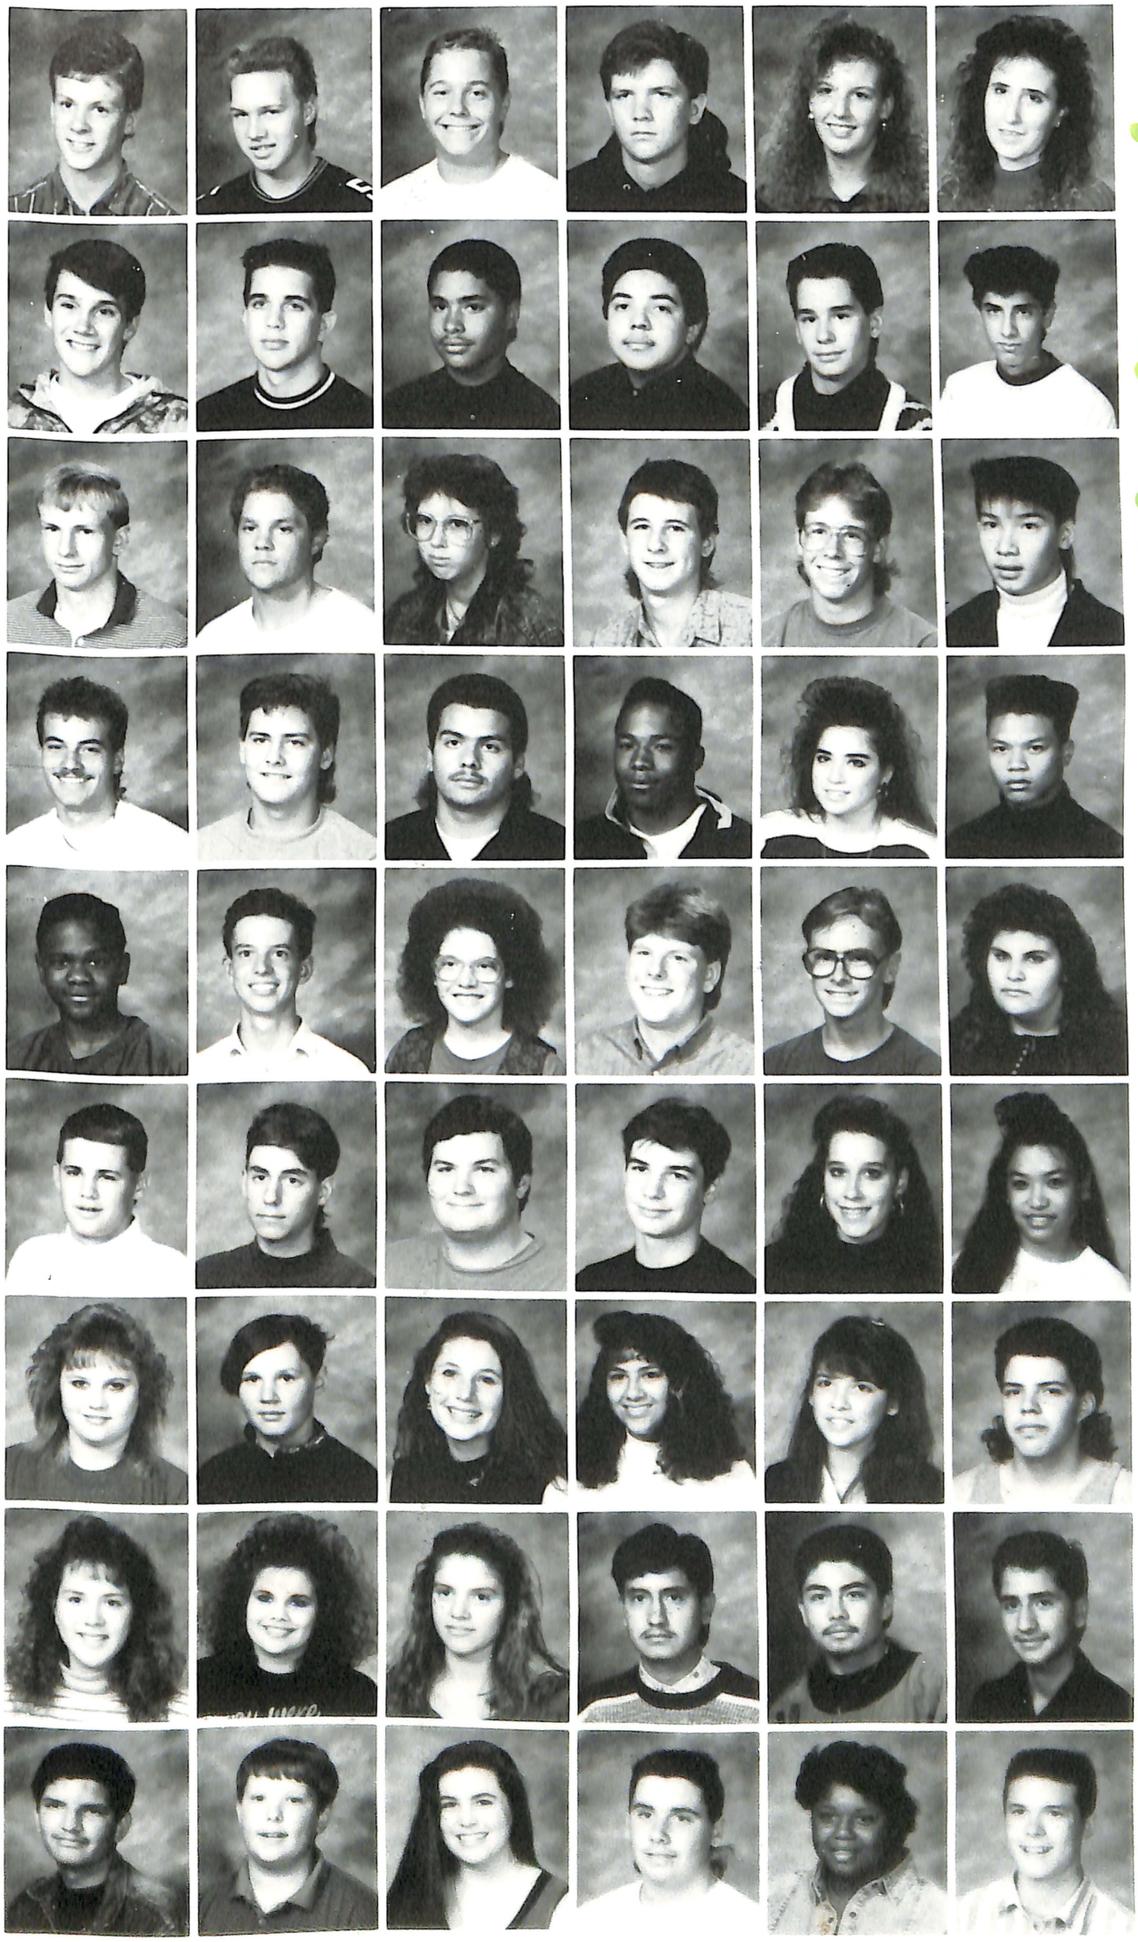

Shown here in this double exposure is Dave (bottom) and Brian (top) flying through the air after taking one of the many jumps they encountered while practicing for this years Winter Olympics.

This photo was taken directly upon landing. Brian and Dave had to sacrifice a perfectly good run to avoid hitting a deer which ran out in front of the two Gold Medal skiers just before the picture was taken. They both received medals of heroism for a job well done.

STUDENTS HELPING STUDENTS

With the need for knowledge, Armijo students always ask questions. Since teachers sometimes don't understand what students say when they talk, they have to ask their friends, other students, for help.

Whether it be studying, homework, or book reports, in Math, English or Science, help has been, is, and always will be needed. Students help each other with just about anything, because "Knowledge is King."

David Gatlin takes a break as he and Daylyne Drumheuler study together for a test

KAMEL LAMAA—SI

'Is It Possible?'

The East and West Germans celebrated the tearing down of the wall that had been dividing East and West Berlin on November 9, 1989. (1) "Everyone sang the folk song, 'Such a Beautiful Day Should Last Forever,' everywhere. As East and West Berliners passed over the border, no one checked identity papers or looked under the cars for would-be escapes at checkpoint "Charlie." (2)"A young man beat the wall with a hammer and handed out fragments to the crowd." "The wall is gone," the people chanted deliriously. "The wall is gone." Now the East Berliners will remain there since they are given the freedom to leave. This is a big step toward the releasing of power S.E.D.

THE GREAT QUAKE OF '89

At 5:00p.m. on October 17, 1989, ABC began its coverage of the third game of the World Series. Four minutes later, a 7.1 earthquake hit and lasted for 15 seconds, resulting in numerous injuries, over 60 fatalities, and leaving thousands homeless.

The Bay Area has lived with the dread of another earthquake like the one of 1906, but geologists say "this definitely was not the Big One". San Francisco's years of preparation paid off. Citizens immediately knew what to do. They automatically pulled together and helped one another. Despite the deaths and destruction, the city survived the earthquake relatively intact.

The areas hit hardest by the earthquake were the Marina District, Interstate 880(Nimitz freeway), Watsonville, Los Gatos, Santa Cruz, and Hollister.

A 50 foot section of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge fell onto its lower deck and caused major traffic chaos and hassle for commuters returning to work the next week.

Across the bay in Oakland, a one and a half mile stretch of Interstate 880 collapsed. Survivors said it was like a wave falling. This is the first elevated freeway in California to collapse. Engineers were fascinated by the scene because they had never seen anything like it.

Many homes were destroyed in the Marina District. The buildings in this area received the most damage because they were built on landfill, which is mostly sand and rocks. The homes, dating back to the early 1900's, illustrate some of San Francisco's most beautiful architecture.

Earthquake victims are putting their lives back together slowly. Some lost everything, some lost less; but we all realize that a disaster like this can happen at any time. The key is preparedness. And we will all definitely be prepared for the next one.

1. Along most of the Nimitz, the lower deck held. But in this section, both the upper and lower decks of the freeway buckled and fell to the ground.

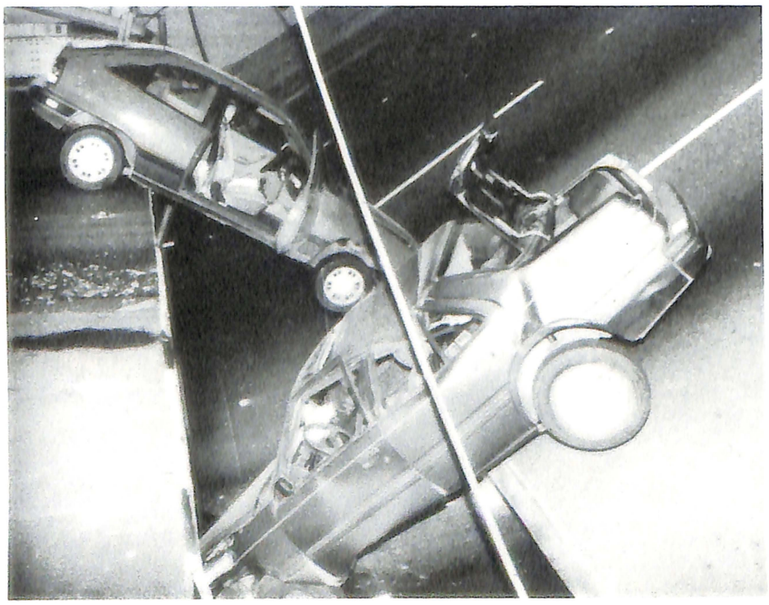

2. Shopping carts are used to transport what is left of some resident's possessions.

3. A bicyclist rides over an area where the sidewalk has buckled.

4. An aerial view of a portion of the Nimitz freeway in Oakland. A 1 ½ mile stretch of the elevated freeway collapsed.

5. Cars dangle over the bay after the upper deck smashed down and partially through the lower deck.

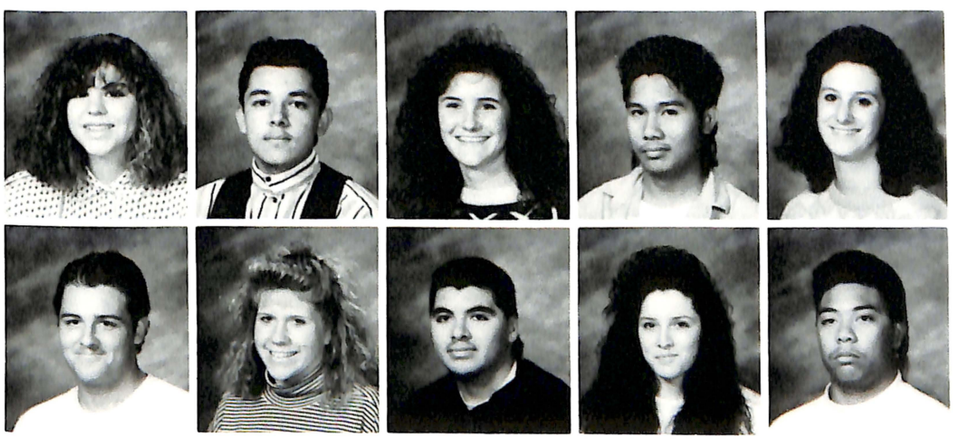

6. This man's anguish is apparent as he looks at his home for the last time . . . .It will be torn down.

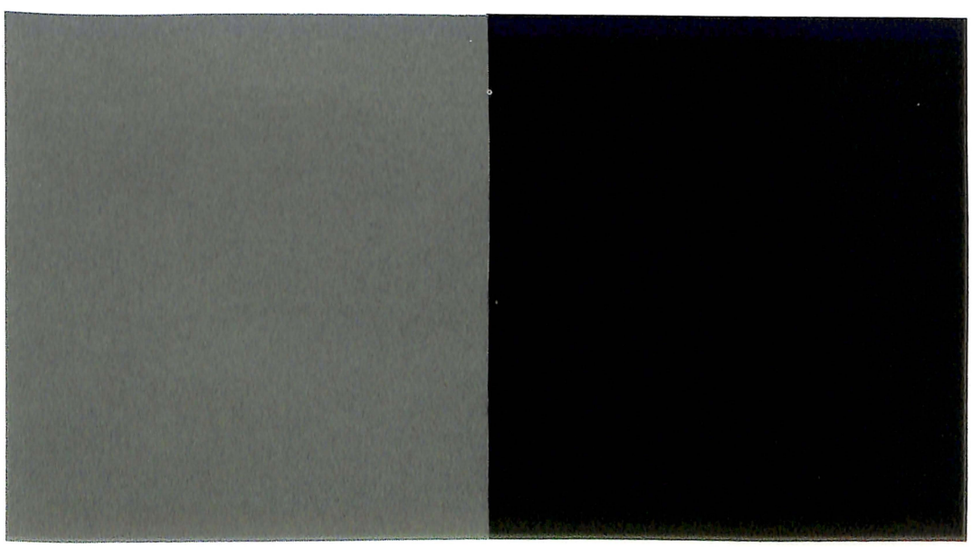

7. In the Marina, three-and four-story structures tumbled into the street. Residents rush to prop up buildings, like the one shown here.

1. Some seniors show that they sometimes miss being a kid.

2. Top row Alayne Abrahams, Mariano Atayde, Tonya Parker, Alan Red, Rita Ruttan. Bottom row Chris Emmons, Wendy Hooten, Miguel Rios, Carmen Ramirez and Art Maglalang.

We are real proud of you. Glad I don't have anymore graduations to go to!

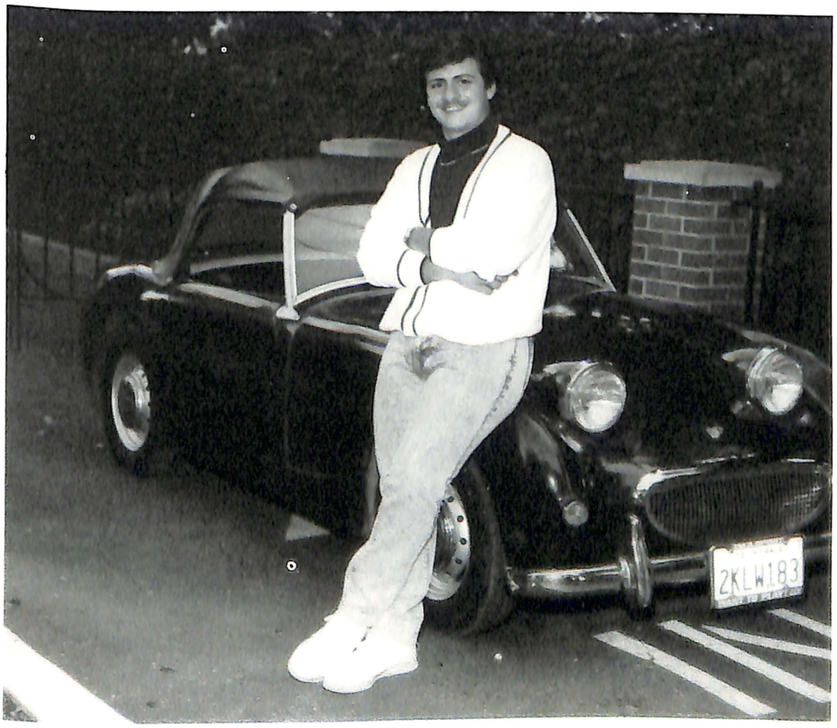

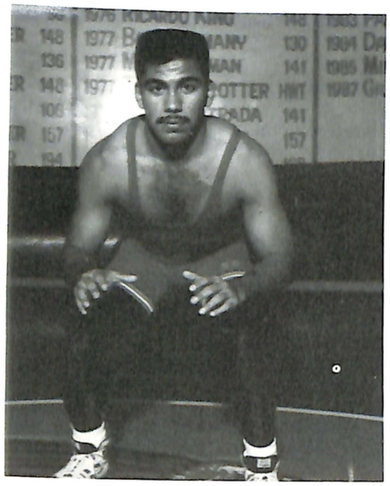

CONGRATULATIONS TO OUR SON

You have had a great four years. Enjoy them the rest of your life, but grow to meet your new challenges.

We showed you in very real ways that we will always be there for you— no matter what you need. We were right by your bedside when you weren't feeling quite well. Held your hand in ours when we helped you cross the street . . . . Wrapped you up in hugs when you were hurting or afraid.

How we wish it were still that easy to shield you from pain and disappointment, to lift your spirits, to kiss away the hurts and make every thing all better. But part of being a parent is finding the strength to let you go . . . To let you grow from your mistakes and heartaches to let you know that you can make it on your own. We've tried to give you the space you need to make your own decisions, take your own chances and feel your own way in the world . . . But we hope you'll always remember that we love you with all our hearts and souls, and that we'll still be right here for you— No matter what you need.

ANGEL:

We are so very proud of you. You have brought so much joy into our lives. I know it's not easy for you, being pulled in so many different directions by so many responsibilities in your life, but you can do it. Just keep holding tightly to your dreams until they are no longer dreams, but a beautiful reality. There's a wonderful tomorrow just waiting for you. We believe in you and we wish you a future that's a bright as can be and as full of hope as your dreams . . . . . .

Love, Mom and Dad

To My Son, Troy

Tell me again, mami...

You and me against the world,
Sometimes it feels like,
You and me against the world
When all the others turn their backs and walk away,
You can count on me, to stay ...
Remember when the circus came to town
And you were frightened by the clown
Wasn't it nice to be around
Someone that you knew ...
Someone who was big and strong and looking out for ..
You and me against the world
Sometimes it feels like ...
You and me against the world
And for all the times we've cried
I always felt that God was on our side
And when one of us is gone
And one of us is left to carry on,
Then remembering will have to do
Our memories alone will get us through
Think about the days of me and you
You and me against the world.

And when one of us is gone
And one of us is left to carry on
Then remembering will have to do
Our memories alone will get us through
Think about the days of me and you,
You and me against the world.

I love you, mami.

I love you too, Troy.

Ayanna Nekima Jones

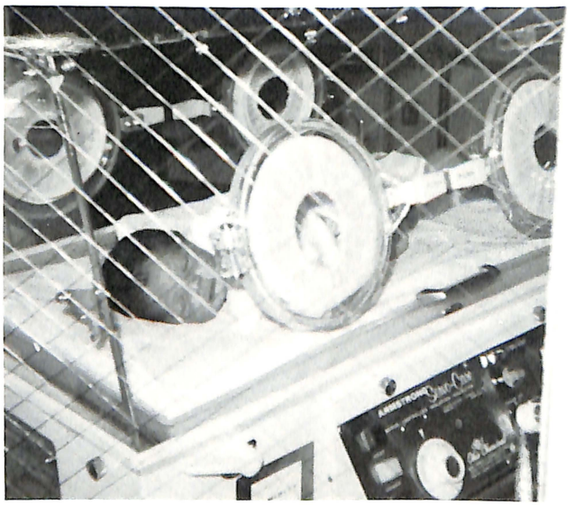

Ayanna, meaning beautiful flower.
Nekima, meaning seeker of wisdom.
The first name fits, for you have been a beautiful flower to us these past seventeen years. For the next 100 years, I pray Nekima will also fit. Seek wisdom in Christ and Knowledge from the Word and you will never be amiss. We are proud of you, all four of us. God, your mother, Akili, and me. Remember your roots which are embeded in Christ. Seek refuge in him and remember as long as we are here on this Earth, we will be there for you. We love you and you can have the desires of your heart, if you first seek the kingdom of God.

Your mother, Tina
Your brother, Akili

Brian,
I want you to know how proud of you I am for everything you have accomplished through the years. You are a good student and a wonderful son. I am surely happy I got to be your mother. You have grown up to be quite a special young man. I will always be there for you, and wish you happiness and success as you enter your adult life. Remember how proud of you I am and that I love you very much.

Love,
Mom

2. Rich,
This year has been special to me not just because we're seniors but because you've been a big part of my life! Thanks for the times that we've been able to spend together. Good luck in the future. I hope we can keep in touch no matter what happens.

Love,
Marcia

To My Friends-
High school is coming to a close and we will soon be entering a new life. Some great friendships were made and let's not let them end just because we're going off in different directions. There were some good times; we'll have these memories forever. We're on our own now. Strive for your goals and follow your dreams. Life is a one-time performance . . . Make it the best.

Sincerely,
Melissa Parkhouse

To the 1989-1990 Yearbook Staff
This year has been great and I to say good-bye to you all.
Huggie: Have fun in Florida or good luck with Rich and Mr. C. Love the laugh.
Brian R.: You were a royal pain, but royal none the less.
Brian W.: You have to come back and see the 6th period girl work at McDonald's.
Daren: You helped take pictures, but you still can't take a good one.
Melissa: You were one of the best workers around and helped out a lot. Thanks.
Phil: You need more Skittles.
Jan: You weren't here long, but your weird sense of humor made you stand out.
Jason: You got it all done, but were always late.
Maren: You worked hard, even though you needed help.
Ms. Ash: I want to thank you especially for all the time and money you spent in keeping this group going.
Best wishes to you all,
your friend
